

SEE AMERICA AT WAR WITH JAPAN

Thomas F. Millard Tells Foreign Relations Committee That American Experts at Versailles Are Unanimous in Opinion That Fight Must Result From Treaty Provision Giving Japan Control of the Province of Shantung.

Washington, Aug. 18.—It was the unanimous opinion of American experts on far eastern affairs at Versailles that war must result from the peace treaty provision giving Japan control in the Chinese province of Shantung, the senate foreign relations committee was told today by Thomas F. Millard, an American writer who was attached to the Chinese peace delegation.

Mr. Millard, called as a witness in connection with the section of the peace treaty giving Germany's interest in the Chinese province of Shantung to Japan, said he had spent about 30 years in China. He declared the original acquisition of German rights in Shantung was responsible for the Hay open door policy and was one of the indirect causes of the Russo-Japanese war.

Asked how the Shantung agreement might lead to war between Japan and the United States, the witness said there were many dangerous elements involved. An example, he said, the cumulative effort of Japan's successes in China might easily encourage her to acquire a commercial base which would lead to the Hay open door policy or on the special commercial treaty which the United States has with China.

Mr. Millard said he believed the senate could overcome the Shantung feature without touching a word or a comma in the treaty. He suggested that there be a covenant in connection with the special defensive treaty with France, which would bind France and Great Britain to stand with the United States if the Hay policy in the Far East ever was threatened.

MAY PLACE EMBARGO ON SUGAR EXPORT

Owing to Refusal of Britain to Release 2,000 Tons Bought Here. Canada wished the Food Control to release 2,000 tons of sugar they had bought in Canada. This the latter refused, and as a result Canada now announces it will place an embargo on all sugar export until the situation has been cleared up satisfactorily. The embargo, if imposed, will not affect shipments to Great Britain, but will be on foreign shipments only.

Imitations Are Dangerous.

AN OHIO druggist writes to "The Practical Druggist," a prominent New York Drug Journal, as follows: "Please furnish formula for Castoria. All the formulas I have worked with are either ineffective or disagreeable to administer." To this "The Practical Druggist" replies: "We do not supply formulas for proprietary articles. We couldn't if we wanted to. Your experience with imitative formulas is not surprising, but just what is to be expected. When Castoria is wanted, why not supply the genuine? If you make a substitute, it is not fair or right to label it Castoria. We can give you all sorts of laxative preparations for children, but not Castoria, and we think a mother who asks for Castoria would not feel kindly toward you if you gave her your own product under such a name."

Someone some day may try what this druggist was advised not to try, so beware. Remember that Fletcher's Castoria is safe and not an experiment.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA Mothers Must Use Care. Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

PRETTY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT FREDERICTON

Miss Beatrice, Youngest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Crockett, Becomes the Bride of Harry C. Moore, B. Sc.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, August 20.—A pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 6 o'clock, at St. James' church, home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Crockett, when their youngest daughter, Miss Beatrice V. Crockett, became the bride of Harry C. Moore, B. Sc., of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. S. Sutherland, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful bridal gown of white crepe de chine over brocade silk, with pearl trimmings and bristled veil with orange blossoms, the only ornament being a platinum bar pin with large pearl and diamond settings, the gift of her father, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She had as her bridesmaid Miss Violet Wilson, who wore a very pretty gown of pale blue satin and georgette crepe with silver trimming and large hat with ostrich brim and silver crown, and carried a bouquet of blue roses. Two little flower girls, Misses Mabel Triton and Eileen Crockett, wore the flower girls, and looked very sweet being prettily dressed in white with carrying pretty baskets of white and pink rose peas, and proceeded the wedding party to the drawing room.

The groom had as his best man Harry Wilson of this city. The bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Lehmann's Wedding March, played by Miss McArthur, of Portland, Maine, and stood in the large bay window which was a complete bower of flowers and greenings. After the ceremony a charming buffet supper was served. The formal decorations, all the work of the girl friends of the bride, were beautiful. In the hall the bridesmaids and new brides wore a mass of flowers, while in the drawing room the color scheme was red and white.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful wedding gifts. Owing to the illness of the bride's mother only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on the evening train for a short trip through Nova Scotia, the bride wearing a traveling suit of navy blue serge with grey and navy blue with black ostrich tips, and a black fur cape.
