Before leaving his old charge at Wheatley to come to Glencoe, Rev. Mr. Irwin and family were tendered a complimentary banquet in the church there by the congregation, and the choir presented Miss B. M. Weldon with a beautiful club bag as a token of appreciation of her services in the choir.

The following students from Glencoe and vicinity were successful in the recent Normal School examinations: Interim Second-class Certificates—Verna Burchell, Nellie Farrell, Roberta J. Gubins, Tena Marsh, Winnifred Poole, Ada Reycraft; Limited Third-class Certificates—Malcolmina Munroe, Elizabeth McAlpine, Della M. McIntyre, Elena Reycraft.

The crops in the county of Middlesex are, according to reports, better than in the majority of the counties, and are fairly good, except in the lower, heavy clay parts, where the heavy rains have laid on the soil. According to those in touch with the situation the outlook as a whole in the entire province will be far below average, even with the most ideal conditions.

The death of Miss Mary Milloy occurred on Sunday at her home at 10 O'Mara street after a short illness with pneumonia. Miss Milloy and her brother James moved to Glencoe from the town of Woodbury two or three years ago. She was in her 71st year. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at the Edie cemetery, service being held in the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Lee Clements, a former resident of Newbury and sister of the Messrs. Gillies, of Mosa, has received official communication that her only son, Wm. Clements, was killed in action in France on June 11th. Mrs. Clements' husband and son both enlisted in Winnipeg. The husband, Sgt. Clements, had not left England when last heard from, but the son had been at the front for some time, serving in the trenches and later as a despatch bearer.

The death occurred at his home in Glencoe on Wednesday afternoon of last week of William H. Watterworth in his 50th year. Mr. Watterworth was the third son of the late John Watterworth, ex-M.P.P. of West Middlesex, and lived near Woodbury until about four years ago, when he moved into town. His illness extended over a period of several years, the last two of which he was confined to his bed. He is survived by his wife, four brothers and four sisters. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, services being in the Methodist church and interment in Oakland cemetery.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition
Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful
Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the kidneys and skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema, and keeps the whole system unhealthily by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

LUXURY IN THE BASTILLE.

The Famous French Prison During the Reign of Louis XIII.

It was during the reign of Louis XIII, that the Bastille became recognized as a prison, especially for notable persons suspected of treachery against the French government. Richelieu used it for the secure lodgment of troublesome opponents, and during his time the celebrated fortress became the luxurious prison of a powerful aristocracy.

Apart from the necessary restrictions, a stay in the famous prison of Paris was little more than an agreeable diversion. It seemed indeed as though the king was determined to show his kindness. He expressed great anxiety for the comfort of his prisoners.

Money could buy in the Bastille all the luxury that could be obtained outside, and should a poor man stray within the impenetrable walls the king was so eager to prove his hospitality that he at once allowed him a reasonable pension. The rooms in which the prisoners were confined were lofty and well aired; the furniture was arranged according to the taste of the occupant.

Mme. de Staël, for instance, hung her walls with rich tapestries, and many a distinguished culprit carried with him to the Faubourg St. Antoine his family portraits or a valuable library.

Nor is it in the least significant that the prison barber visited his patrons every morning with a silver basin, perfumed soap and embroidered towels. The best viands, well cooked, were furnished to the better class of prisoners, and at the close of the meals they exchanged visits, played cards and made the walls of the gloomy looking prison ring with their merriment.

One of Falb's Predictions.

In 1874 Professor Rudolph Falb predicted an eruption of Etna on Aug. 27. He offered a Vienna editor to write an account of it if the editor would send him to Sicily. Falb was commissioned. When he reached Etna there was not the slightest sign of disturbance. As the 27th approached Falb was tortured with anxiety and spent sleepless nights watching the volcano. Nothing happened on the 27th and 28th. The following morning the servant rushed into the professor's room shouting, "An eruption, a terrible eruption!" Falb saw the spectacle and sent off his dispatch.

"One" as a Pronoun.

I have never been smitten with the use of the word "one" as a pronoun. It takes a word juggler to attempt it and get away with it. Unless one feels that one has won one's spurs in this respect and can extricate oneself from the mess one gets oneself and one's readers into one should avoid the use of the word one in referring to oneself as one would a plague.—Westminster Gazette.

The Frenchwoman and Hais.

It is said to take much less money to start a millinery shop in France than in England, because it is not necessary to the French milliner to carry a stock of trimmed hats. The Englishwoman, it seems, cannot buy a hat or anything else without seeing it completely finished. The Frenchwoman has imagination enough to picture the completed article to herself and knows just how she will look in it.

Procrastinate.

Teacher—What is the meaning of the word "procrastinate?" Pupil—To put off. Teacher—Right. Illustrate it in a sentence. Pupil—I tried to take a ride on a street car yesterday, but I was procrastinated.

Obedient.

"Well, my little man," queried the minister who was making a call, "do you always do as your mamma tells you?"

"You bet I do," answered the precocious five-year-old, "and so does papa."

No Use.

Why, it was only a little while ago that he told me he had the key of success."

"He did, but the poor fellow wasn't able to find the keyhole."—Exchange.

Insult Upon Injury.

"And to make matters worse," complained the employee who had just been blown up by a premature explosion in a quarry, "when I claimed damages the foreman called me a blasted fool."—Lippincott's.

Musical Note.

A thief was lately caught breaking into a song. He had already got through the first two bars when a policeman came out of an area and hit him with his staff. Several notes were found upon him.—London Mail.

A New View.

"What a nice, kind man Nero was?" "What? Why, the wretch fiddled while Rome burned!"

"I know. He'd probably waited all his life for a chance when he wouldn't disturb any one."

His Practical Mind.

Sculptor (to his friend)—Well, what do you think of my bust? Fine piece of marble, isn't it? Friend—Magnificent! What a pity to make a bust of it! It would have made a lovely washstand.

All He Wanted and More.

Ragged Rogers—Did you ever have all you wanted of anything? Tired Thomas—Yes, two things—advice and water.
