Mayor Little, Just Home From New York Last Night, Favors Plan To Honor the Western Ontario Track Team-May Be Home On Tuesday.

The victorious relay team which broke a world's record at Johns Hopkins track meet in Baltimore Saturday night, will likely be tendered a civic reception when they return to the city and before dispersal to their homes in Western Ontario.

Mayor Little had just returned last night from New York and was unable to say definitely whether the demonstration could be arranged, owing to the fact that definite knowledge of when the boys were coming home was not yet at

The program for their trip included several days of sight-seeing around Baltimore, and it is quite possible that the lads will not be back until Tuesday. However, the civic authorities may be able to get in touch with Professor G. Mel Brock, who has charge of the team on the trip, and find out the av of arrival.

Much of that history is being made right here in Western On-tario, where the first actual attempt has been made-and successtully—to weld the secondary schools of a large area into one big family and under a centralized control for the betterment of ideals in both culture and athletics.

When Professor G. Mel Brock, representing the Western Univer-sity Athletic Association, organized and successfully carried out a huge cornerstone of a big structure was laid, and Saturday with those same athletes who had been drawn into the first competition banded together in an international affair, a second stage in the building of a structure, to which there are no limits, had been reached. The inwas a distinct tribute to the organization work done in Western Ontario by Professor Brock and his associates in the Western University Athletic Association program.

Miraculous Showing.
From the purely athletic angle showing of the relay team borders on the miraculous. Considering that these boys came from small schools where athletic direc-tion such as is obtained in the high schools of the American cities is unknown and financially out of reach, their victory shows what a wealth of undeveloped athletic tal-ent exists in this part of the prov-

Local Fans Pull For Galt Win, But Would Switch to Collingwood For Finals

Suspicious of Niagara Falls, But Are Superstitious When It Comes To Betting Against Aged Northerners.

London fans are pulling for Galt win in Niagara Falls, but are somewhat inclined to believe that the Peninsular crew have something up their hockey jerseys that they haven't shown to the public. The Falls crew have a reputation for playing for the betters, deserved or undeserved as it may be, and this alleged condition is making the betting extremely wary amongst Londoners.

But whether Galt or the Falls meet Collingwood, there'll be a lot of the backing in London for the old boys from the north. There is good reason for a sneaking ad-miration of Collingwood amongst London fans, and it hasn't weak-ened any with the years that have intervened since, Collingwood took pretty nearly everything out of here but the City Hall. The Collingwood crew have shown the hoary, but uncanny skill they had in the old days in their campaign this year, and critics haven't been able to find a weakness except old age. Fryer with a son playing junior hockey has had one of his best years and is just as dangerous

Belleville fans accused Lou Marsh of favoritism for the veterans. Any referee would probably be accused of a "bump of veneration" in a case of that

The protests in against the Terry Garage team for playing Davenport has raised a little controversy amongst the fans of the league, for which there is little justification, once recourse had to the rules.

The rule regarding "outside" players at first gave each team the privilege of signing two, and only playing one in each game. This was later changed to allow the teams to play both their "outside" men and to make the league still faster teams were allowed to drop one outside man and sign up another with the proviso that the new players were not O. H. A. players. Terrys have three outside men signed Terrys have three outside men signed in Hynds, Arthurs and Davenport. The first two came under the old ruling, but Davenport, as a recent Glencoe O. H. A. player, is barred on that count. There's almost a loop-hole there, in that it may be questioned how long a player retains the steam of an O. H. player retains the status of an O. H. A. player once his team is knocked out of the running.

The certificate of an O. H. A. player is held by some to extend through the 1921 playing O. H. A. season closed when Sarnia put them out. Davenport has been a strong drawing card over at the Westminster rink, and Terrys have the course of playing the rest of their games as exhibition games and keeping Davenport on their line open to them.

A play-off between the London
Alerts and a picked team from the Manufacturers' League has been suggested, and will probably be staged at the end of the league season if there is ice remaining. This would mean that all Alert players in the Manufacturers would be recalled to the Alerts for the The Manufacturers' teams figure they can pick a team that would make things more than interesting for the O. H. A. runners-up, and on the dope, it looks might like they could. It would be a real finish to the local hockey season if it can be staged.
