

That for our sins we must be tried,
And some of them were scarlet dyed ;
God's law could not be set aside,
We His decision must abide ;

That of our sins we must repent,
Or down to lasting woes be sent ;
That if Salvation we neglect,
The Lord will us at last reject ;

That now is the time accepted,
For Heav'n high to be perfected ;
Salvation now is full and free,
For all who would Christ's glory see.

That Jesus did not wish our death,
But did rejoice in our new birth ;
It is in mercy He delights,
And in the glorious sons of light.

And then began it to appear,
That many had been moved with fear,
That arrows from the Almighty's bow
Into their very hearts did go.

And some began to mourn and weep ;
They silent could no longer keep ;
And others did for mercy call,
And some upon the floor did fall.

Others began with joy to sing
The praises of our Saviour King ;
Unusual sights were then seen ;
Those praying who had careless been.

Along the highways they did pray,
And some along the fences lay ;
Many for their sins were weeping,
Earnestly salvation seeking.
