METAL CEILINGS AND SIDE WALLS.....

The most up-to-date fixtures a man can put into a house. You certainly admit that. But, you probably say it is too expensive. We should like very much to have about 10 minutes to talk this matter over with you. We could easily show you that metal ceilings and side walls are the cheapest and by all means the best.

Let us show you some of the work we are doing and name you prices.

A BELIEVER IN SPIRITS.

Rev. Dr. Robert Newton Declares They
Great the Living Chances That Men
May Possess Halos

"Persons who have not studied carefully in the line of metaphysics," said the Rev. Dr. R. H. Newton of New York in an address before the American Institute for Scientific Research, "have no idea of the marvellousness of the findings which are being made in this new realm. The most striking feature of our present day is that one after another of the beliefs of the far past, spread wide among men, which have been supposed to be mere superstitions, have been strangely vindicating themselves before the bar of reason, at least giving ample cause to warrant a scientific investigation."

"A generation ago nobody but a fool would have been inclined to believe in the claims of the dowser. The plain people have persistently believed that certain men were gifted with a power of locating water, and now the Psychological Research Society, after careful investigation, reports that there is little question as to the fact, though no theory has yet been advanced to explain it."

"The middle ages believed that the saints were surrounded by halos. Again the scientist laughed in his sleeve—if he was courteous enough not to laugh openly. Yet Baron Reichenbach showed that certain scientists recognized a luminousness in magnets, and since the earth is now known to be a great magnet, it may also be a good sized one."

"The middle ages also believed that saints received the imprint of the wounds of Jesus on their hands and feet—a beautiful superstition, said the scientist. Now medical scrutiny confesses that the stigmata are facts, though exceptional facts, to be explained naturally, of course, as every other marvel is to be explained."

"Clairvoyance was nothing but a will o' the wisp, but it also is now a confessed power of certain organizations. Mollie Fancher, over in Brooklyn, has proved stronger than the incredulity of our savants. Read that charming picture of Joan of Arc by Mark Twain, and you will admit with him that this peasant girl, with her powers of clairvoyance, hearing her mystic voices, is a fact which defies explanation by our knowledge up to date."

"I know a woman of fine culture and high character who will not deign her gift for commercial purposes, but who has the most remarkable power known as psychometry—the power of holding a sealed letter in her hand and giving a diagnosis of the physical condition of the writer, and, by the way, in good standing, under the alias of 'hypnotism.' So one may run through a list of strange, unaccountable, mysterious and most unbelievable and every possible hypothesis to that nightmare of the dogmatic scientist, spiritism. The belief in the existence of unseen spirits and of their power of communication with us in this life is the oldest, the most widespread and most insistent beliefs of man, and it has revived strangely in our day."

"For the first time in the history of our race, however, have been scientifically investigated in our day. Already the result is that a considerable number of eminent men of science have had the courage to avow that, after allowing for illusion, fraud and every possible hypothesis of interpretation, they have been driven up to the ultimate solution of the problem—the belief in the actual communication of the spirits of those whom we call dead with the living."

"I make bold to say that there is no field for human investigation half so promising as this, none which should so appeal to educated, intelligent, philanthropic men to support and endorse."

"Any one who walks with his eyes open, ready to hear what men have to tell, will find stories pouring in upon him from men whom he cannot mistrust as liars and whom he knows to be sane and sensible, which will stagger him."

"Now, here is a dark continent demanding exploration, promising the richest finds. Already we find a new therapeutic agent at work in our midst—not now, but newly realized and working a revolutionizing change in modern medicine. The possibilities of mental medicines are only being opened. Its application to the most distressing form of human malady, insanity, is full of beneficent results. Its potency in character reform and the cure of the drink habit seems vast and benign. Philosophic idealism is receiving a vindication such as it never had before."

"Religious faith is finding its true foundations in the recognition of man as a spiritual being, a being who has had dominion over nature given to him as the child of a vast spiritual being, the lord of all life. The one belief absolutely essential to ethics—immortality—is coming within the ken of a scientific demonstration. This is the potency and promise of psychic research."

Stationary Bicycle Races.

Bicycle races without leaving the starting place, which are said to be the latest craze in places of amusement in the United States, are being conducted in a novel way. The wheel is fixed in a frame fastened to the floor. When the rider begins to pedal a belt from the rear wheel drives a small electric generator. The current thus produced is conducted to a motor on wheels and carrying a flag. The track on which the motor travels is marked in distances, and each foot of track requires as much work by the rider as would have been carried the bicycle one mile had it been free to run as under ordinary conditions of use.

AFRAID TO EAT MANY THINGS

If you are Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—What They did for R. A. Barton.

Talking of the Christmas season and its accompaniment of turkey, plum pudding and other palatable but rather indigestible dishes it is of interest to at least seventy-five per cent. of the general public to know that the ill-effects that follow heavy dinners can be avoided. There are thousands of people in Canada who once faced a hearty dinner with fear and trembling who now eat what they like when they like and enjoy it too. They have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

One of these is Mr. R. A. Barton of 23 Tyndall avenue, Toronto, well known in Queen City business circles. "Yes," Mr. Barton says, "there was a time when I was afraid to eat many things that would have suited my taste. Now I can eat whatever is set before me asking no questions. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did it after all the doctors I consulted had failed. It took perhaps a dozen boxes to fix up my stomach but it's all right now. If you're troubled that way try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

THE ECONOMIST.

Day—Why, Rose, dear, what have you done to your poodle? The last time I saw him his hair was white.
Rose—Yes, but it was such a nuisance to keep him washed, you know, so I just had him dyed brown.
