Champion stallion at the last Royal Highland Show and also at Madison Square Garden, New York, a few weeks ago. In aged stallions Graham Bros., also won second with Royal Choice and fifth with "Horland Chief" with "Coniston" they won second in 3-year-olds while "Alley Oale" won third in 2-year-olds. yearling mares. Many of the special prizes donated by the Clydesdale Association were also won by Graham Bros.

CATTLE

Entries in Shorthorns, Herefords, Aberfeldys and Red-polled and Grade cattle outnumbered those of last year by far. The Grand Champion steer of the show was "King Ellsworth," a pure-bred Angus steer. He was bred by Lyman Mitchell at Danvers, Ill., and is now owned by Kansas Agricultural College, King Ellsworth is a 2-year-old and as a yearling last year won 2nd in his class. He is a steer of remarkable quality and smoothness and weighs 1,750 lbs. He was sold at 18 cents per lb. Judge Wm. Heap, of Manchester, England, was the officiating judge.

In carload lots the Grand Championship went to yearling Shorthorns. The Champion Shorthorn Bull was a roan two-year-old weighing 1,760 lbs.

Canadian exhibitors were James Bowman of Guelph, Ont., in Angus cattle and A. A. Barber of Guelph, Ont., in Shorthorns.

Mr. Bowman won 5th in fat class with a pure-bred Angus yearling and 4th on a 2-year-old Angus steer in breeding class. A. A. Barber was awarded 4th and 5th in yearling Shorthorns.

SHEEP

Less stringent regulations re quarantine permitted the Canadian exhibitors to be exceptionally good, both as to quality and quantity. Canadian exhibitors were D. and D. J. Campbell, Woodville, Ont.; Hammer and Hodgson, Brantford, Ont.; Lloyd-Jones, Burford, Ont.; A. and W. Whitelaw of Guelph; James Bowman, Guelph; L. Parkinson, Guelph; John Rawlings of Forest, Ont.; and Geo. Allen of Paris, Ont.; and Sir Geo. Drummond of Beacomfield, Que.

The warmest competition was in the Shropshire and Southdown classes. Breeding Shropshires, in Aged Ram American Shropshire Association special, Lloyd-Jones won first and Campbell, third. For yearling ram, Lloyd-Jones won third while 3rd and 4th was awarded to Campbell in American Shropshire Association for the same class. Ram lambs under one year old, Campbell won third, while in the special for this class, Campbell won first and Lloyd-Jones, third. In special prize for Sr. yearling ewe, Campbell won third, while for ewe lambs under one year, special prize, Campbell won 2nd and 5th. For ewes, Lloyd-Jones won three thirds. Campbell won 1st in one flock class, and same place in special prize of same class.

In Suffolk Mr. Bowman of Guelph was awarded all firsts and seconds in various classes besides having champion Ram and Champion ewe of the breed. John Hawling won first on a pen of four yearling Cotswold ewes, Parkinson of Guelph, won several firsts besides several special prizes and also The National Lincoln Sheep Breeders' Association Special for Champion ewe.

In Southdowns Lloyd-Jones won third for aged Ram third for Sr. yearling ewe and fourth for four lambs. In Leicester, Whitelaw Bros. won first in every class and second, twice. Awards for Champion Ram and Champion ewe went to Whitelaw Bros.

Canadian breeders made a very creditable showing in the sheep fat classes. Competition was exceptionally keen. Campbell of Woodville won 2nd on Sr. yearling ewe and second for wether lamb. Campbell also won second on "pen of 5 wether lambs," while Lloyd-Jones won third. In Oxford, J. W. Less won second with Sr. wether, first and third with wether lamb and first for "pen of 5 wether lambs." In Cotswolds, Geo. Allen of Paris won second for Sr. wether; 1st and 2nd on wether lamb and 1st on "pen of 5 wether lambs."

SWINE

Quality was the outstanding feature of swine this year, particularly among Berkshires. The classes were all well filled and competition very keen. Campbell of Woodville was the only Canadian exhibitor and exhibited Berkshires only. He won 4th in Aged Boar class; 2nd for Sr. yearling Boar and 2nd for yearling pig under eighteen months old. He also won 2nd for Boar under one year old. Mr. Cox won 3rd in aged sows; second and fourth for Sr. yearling and fourth for sow under a year old.

In the two classes Mr. Cox won second and in another flier class, he won third and fourth. Second also won third and 4th for yearling pig under 6 months, produce of same sow, and fifth place for "four swine, get of same boar." The Grand Champion pig, a pen of three, was owned by Mr. Berkshires, owned by Iowa State College. There were no Canadian entries in fat classes.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM

Especially clever work was accomplished by the O.A.C. stock judging team last week when second highest standing in the judging competition was awarded to Ontario. The Ontario boys obtained 160 points, more than any previous second, being only a few points behind Iowa State College team which won first. Prof. G. E. Day and Prof. Wade were the trainers. In general proficiency O.A.C. stood second in sheep and cattle; third in horses and swine. In individual standing, O. C. White, O.A.C., was second best man while W. R. Reek, O.A.C., stood ninth. The Ontario Government would certainly be justified in donating more funds for stock judging teams in order that a better acquaintance may be made with American stock.

The Canadian judges at International were Prof. W. J. Rutherford, Winnipeg, Man.; and Rolt, Miller, Stouffville, Ont.; Shropshire Sheep; Prof. G. E. Day, O.A.C., Guelph, Oxford, Ont.; C. E. Waple, Freeport, Ont.; Herbert Low, Highgate, Ont.; Lincoln; Geo. Allen, Burford, Ont.; Suffolk; Tom Graham, Claremont, Ont.; horses (Clydes) in students contest—R. C.
