QUIA PIUS ES.

Jesu Pitiful! oh hear!
Listen to Thy servants' cry!
Pity thou the souls that lie
Far from Thee in exile drear:
Jesu! Grant them swift release!
Jesu! Grant them light and peace!

Jesu Pitiful! oh turn, Turn Thine eyes to that sad place! Banished still from Thy sweet Face Lo! in penal fires they burn. Jesu! Bid their sufferings cease! Jesu! Grant them light and peace!

Jesu Pitiful! oh send Angel messengers, to bear These Thy banished ones to where Thou their coming dost attend. Jesu! Grant them swift release! Jesu! Grant them light and peace!

Mother Pitiful! To Thee
Still for them our prayer shall rise;
Look with pitying, Mother eyes
On their pain, their misery!
Gain for them a swift release!
Entrance to Thy Home of Peace.

Rev. Father Peter M. O'Leary, chaplain to the First Contingent in South Africa, who came last week on a visit of his brother, Mr. James O'Leary of the P. O. Department, who is in ill health, celebrated Mass during his stay in the city in the chapel of the Holy Angels, Gloucester street convent of la Congregation do Notre Dame.

The reverend gentleman during his stay gave a short account of his experiences in South Africa to the pupils of the Gloucester street convent. He left for Quebec during the week to fulfil some enzagements, but promised that on his return to Ottaw in the course of a few weeks he will exhalt several "snap-shot" views which he took during the course of the war. His friends were glad to see that he has completely recovered from his severe attack of enteric fever.

A Mission of two weeks' duration will open in Bt. Joseph's church on the Ish inst. Members of the Congregation of St. Paul (Paulist Pathers) will be the preachers.

Peterborough, and To the Right Rev. Dr. McEvay, Bishop of London:
Your Lordships —I desire as the representative of the citizens of Campbellford, to welcome you to our town on this auspicious occasion of your church dedication, and I beg to assure you that the discharge of this duty affords me very much pieasure.
The consecration services connected with the dedication to Almighty God of this beautiful edifice, calls back to the minds of our citizens generally, and of your coreligionists, especially, the sad event of last Christmas morning when the neat, commodious church, which formerly stood on this consecrated ground, was destroyed by fire. But although your parish priest and his people found themselves without a church to worship God, yet I am pleased to state that Rev. Father McCloskey was equal to the occasion, and with commendable promptness he had before 10 o'clock on Christmas morning secured a piace where his people might receive instructions in the regular service commemorative of our Lord's birthday. All classes of our citizens, Protestant or Catholic, sympathized with your people here in the sad and serious loss sustained at that time. From that day to the present Rev. Father McCloskey has labored with such untiring patience and zeal for the restoration of his church as to call forth the warmest expressions of admiration and praise. The fact that within the short space of about ten months his large, such stantial, elegant and costly temple for the warship of the Triune God has been elected on the very site of the former structure, is a sufficient period of the efficiency and executive abiny of Rev. Father McCloskey and people on the spirit with which they entered upon this gree.

We congratulate pastor and people on the spirit with which they entered upon this great work, on having carried their laudable undertaking to a successful issue. We hope and trust that your magnificent church may long remain, not only as a beautiful temple of worship, but as a monument of the patience. Christian effort and self-sacrifice of your esteemed pastor and his devoted people.

Their Lordships made suitable replies to the above address.

Yesterday was the day on which the dedication of the new temple of worship took place. It will certainly be a memorable day in the history of Campbellford, and more particularly in the annals of the Roman Catholic Church of that place. The event was attended by many people not only from the parish of Campbellford but aspecial train from Peterborough brought people from here and picked up many more along the route. The dedicatory services were announced for 10.30 clock, but long before that time the church was crowded. The seating capacity, as previously stated, is $30, but by utilizing chairs and benches in the aisless and by a little crowding about 1300 people were privileged to witness the beautiful ceremony. The ceremonies of the dedication were performed by His Lordship Right Rev. Dr. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough, and Ven. Arch deacon Casey, Peterborough, and Rev. Father Scanlan of Douro, assisted as deacon and subdeacon, respectively.

Among those also present were Rev. F. P. McEvay, D. D. Bishop of London, Rev. Father MeGoikey.

The decoration of the altar was of natural flowers artistically arranged.

Before beginning the act of dedication, the Bishop explained the ceremony about to take place. They were, he said, going to dedicate a temple to the service of Almighty God, In doing so the Church made use of prayers and exercises. When God created our first parents disorder came into the world and the very materials which were entered into the construction of this noble were different the devil and his evil spirits, that which were large the devil and his evil spirits, that which were large the devil and his spirits, hat all hwo came within to pray might also be protected from them. Therefore, the Bishop said we will now begin and he cellific the eremony.

While the work of dedicating the exterior of the edifice was proceeding, the Campbeiford band, which was stationed in the rear of the church, discoursed a few choice sacred selections, At the conclusion of the dedicatory ceremonies, Pontifical High Mass was celeptated. The sermon was delivered by His Lordship, Right Rev. Dr. McKvay, Bishop of London. London.

The "Forty Hours" at "St. Mary's"—this city—announced in a former issue, terminated last Monday.

The Mass of Exposition was sung by Rev. Father Noonan of Biddulph and the opening Sermon preached by Rev. Father McKeon. Chancellor. In the evening His Lordship the Bishop addressed a large congregation on the subject of Penance, and by so doing contributed largely to the success of the devotion.

The Mass "Pro Pace" was sung by Rev. Fr. Egan, of the cathedral, who also preached an appropriate sermon.

The High Mass on Sunday was surg by Rev. Fr. McKeon. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. Father Rochelau of St. Thomas: the evening sermon by Rev. Fr. Francis. O F. M. of Chatham. The same Rev Father sung the Mass of the Reposition and preached—concluding with a few words of well deserved congraturation. Flowers—beautiful and in abundance—were furnished by the ladies of the congregation. The altars and sanctuary were tast fully decorated throughout by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Again at maturity we had to fight anew that battle, for very often it is the greed for money and worldly eminence that shinwrecks the faith of middle agad men, and, unfortunately, women, too. And a the last—when all the world is slipping away from our grasp and when our bodies will soon be turned to ashes — Oh, then, we must make a supreme fight. For as we sow so shill we reap. From the credite to the grave, therefore, Faith must develop in us. We must need to our share to spiced the Fith just as our ancestors did it before us. Our responsibility does not, said he, and in order the secrements and fidelity to prayer. Our responsibility does not, said he, and in saving our power to bring our relatives, friends and acquaintances who are without the fold to a knowledge of the teachings of Jesus Corist. There is no better friend in this world than the faith of Jesus Christ. It meets us at the door of Life and the sucra that he was a surface of the final moment. When the soul is crossing the river of Death and mounting to the judgment seat of Christ, Eath ascends also and life it up to the Throne of God, and we have the bressed assurance of Jesus that having confessed Him before men He would corfess us before His Heavenly Father. Dr. Smith likewise referred to the sweet and consoling doctrine that the light of Faith also guides us through the realms of Purgatory and fills us with the blessed hope of meeting our loved ones in a happy eternity, and be concluded by repraining the words of St. Paul that "Without Faith it is impossible to please God."

ROYAL Absolutely BAKING--POWDER

No inferior or impure ingredients are used in Royal for the purpose of cheapening its cost; only the most highly refined and healthful.

Royal Baking Powder imparts that peculiar sweetness, flavor and delicacy noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, rolls, etc., which expert pastry cooks declare is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

Alum is used in making cheap baking powders. If you want to know the effect of alum upon the tender linings of the stomach, touch a piece to your tongue. You can raise biscuit with alum baking powder, but at what a cost to health!

London, Saturday, Nov. 24, 1900 PUBLIC SPEAKERS.

"Curious," says our old friend, "how speakers affect me. I heard one the other day, a very learned man with no end of titles, and I found him a per fect cure for insomnia. But I remem ber listening to one who quite con vinced me that the tales of past orator ical triumphs were within the bound of truth. He did not have what yo would term a beautiful voice. He wa simply in earnest, and with ever word hot with enthusiasm. He wa unconscious of everything save th truth he was preaching, and his la guage could readily be understood b every auditor." We think that man speakers have little or no influence because they indulge too largely in rh torical pyrotechnics, or because the imagine that studied expression, whi is oftimes turgid, is alone appreciat by the public. This is little better th self-manifestation, and the hearers a quick to perceive it. The speech th finds a place in our hearts is the one th is tinged with the blood of the orato that has engrossed his thoughts a comes from his lips with an earnestn that convinces those who hear him t he means what he says.
