Home Mission.—An interesting meeting is connection with this object was held in the Wesleyan Church on Monday evening. John Sterling took the chair by request of Rev Mr. Nicholson, previous to which the former gave a brief but excellent address on christian duty in relation to the destitute localities of this us to sustain the pauper, a higher law enjoined the relief of the poor in their spiritual interests. Rev Mr. Black of Newport followed, and discussed the question of liberal and systematic giving to God's cause, and its bearing on the

on those points which demand the intelligent attention of clergy and laity alike.

Mr. J. W. Webb was the next speaker. He touched on the original nature and objects of Methodistic work, and showed that a change had necessarily occurred in the system as respects Home Missionary efforts. It was to meet the exigencies in connection with this change the exigencies in connection with this change.

HANDSOME.—The residence of Rev. Mr. Nicholson was, last Tuesday evening, the scene vain. of a double surprise and contribution. The Teachers of the Wesleyan Sunday School assembled and partook of a social Tea together, after which the Pastor presented to John Sterling, Esq., the affable and devoted Superintennt of the school, a large and elegant Silver Ice Pitcher and Salver, containing a suitable inscription in the best style of the art. This beautiful present from his Teachers was re-ceived by Mr. Sterling with expressions of sur-prise and gratitude; and in his turn Mr. S. stated that he was commissioned to present to their Pastor, as the gift chiefly of the young men of his congregation, a Purse contain Fifty Dollars. The enjoyment of the Teachers over this double surprise may be imagined, as thoy had managed to conceal from each of the recipients all knowledge of what the other was issioned to sav and do.
