

Before the children left, Fanny had opened her languid eyes again, and seen and spoken to them, and tasted some of the refreshing fruit.

"The first thing she has liked!" said Bessie, delightedly. "She had longed for them for days back."

These words were thanks indeed for Jane; but her best thanks were in the grateful look that lay in poor Fanny's eyes, as they bid her good-bye.

"Mary," said Jane to her sister, as they walked homewards, "those grapes were better than the doll."

NINE YEARS EXPERIENCE

Medicine has for so many years, and by so many people, been tried without effect, in treating Chronic Ailments, that the public welcome a new method of curing by electric medical appliances. They are especially effectual in Malaria, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver complaints. There is no Company that has been able to utilize electricity so fully and satisfactorily as the Electric Pad Mfg. Co., of Brooklyn, N.Y. See their large advertisement in another part of the paper.

HOME TESTIMONY.—Many hundred recommendations similar in character to the one given below have been received, and give proof of the great value of Polson's Nerviline as a pain remedy. Try it.

BEGINNING AND END.

The beginning.—A school boy, ten years old, one lovely June day, with the roses in full bloom over the porch, and the laborers in the wheat fields, had been sent by his uncle John to pay a bill at the country store, and there were seventy-five cents left, and uncle John did not ask him for it.

At noon this boy had stood under the beautiful blue sky, and a great temptation came. He said to himself, Shall I give it back or shall I wait till he asks for it? If he never asks, that is his lookout. If he does, why I can get it back again. He never gave back the money.

The ending.—Ten years went by; he was a clerk in a bank. A package of bills lay in the drawer, and had not been put in the safe. He saw them, wrapped them up in his coat, and carried them home. He is now in a prison cell; but he set his feet that way when a boy, years before, when he sold his honesty for seventy-five cents.

That night he sat disgraced, and an open criminal. Uncle John was long ago dead. The old home was desolate the mother broken-hearted. The prisoner knew what had brought him there.—Exchange
