A Charter From the Public

publishers of daily newspapers were to cease issuing their papers during the summer months, saying-"It's too hot in July and August to publish papers, and, anyway, people don't read papers in summer," —what a cry of protest would go up all over the land.

The public would say to the publishers :-

"We must have the news and you "must give it to us. You are our "servants in this matter-our "news gatherers and scatterers. "We are ready to pay you for this "service. You have no right or "liberty to take it upon yourselves "to cease publishing your papers "at your pleasure or conveni-

Think of it! The Daily Newspaper exists by the mandate of the people. It alone among all publications may not continue or cease at its pleasure, for it holds its charter from the people whose servant it is.

Then think of this:--

Have those other servants of the people-the merchants who supply them with their daily necessities-any right to be silent with respect to the news they have for those who depend on them? Has not the public a right to demand that the news of the stores shall be published along with other news of value and interest? We put it up to the people of this community and to the merchants of this city that the store news of this community is necessary news and should appear regularly in the public press at all seasons of the year. Think of this, you merchants of this city.
