to guard against casualties in our own trench when it went off.

However, to make sure that the explosion would reach the German line so heavy a charge had to be used that the effects upon the Canadian trench line were somewhat serious. Several of our bombers were killed and wounded, and a reserve depot of bombs buried under the debris. Another bomb depot was blown up by an enemy shell about this time.

These two accidents made us short of bombs when we needed them later on and we had to rely entirely on the supply of bombs which the bombers carried themselves.

The leading company, under Major G. J. L. Smith, rushed forward with the smoke and flying dirt of the mine explosion for a screen and met with a withering fire from the German machine guns placed in "Stony Mountain." But their dash was irresistible and almost immediately the company was in possession of the German front trench and "Dorchester," but those who were opposite to "Stony Mountain" were stopped by fire from that fort, all being killed or wounded.

ADVANCED WITHOUT LEADER

The leading company was followed by bombing parties on the right and left flanks. Lieut. C. A. James, who was in charge of the right bombing party, was killed at the time of the explosion of the mine. Those who remained advanced without a leader. Lieut. G. N. Gordon, in charge of the bomb party on the left, advanced in the direction of "Stony Mountain," but his bombers were almost all shot down. A few reached the first line trench, including Lieut. Gordon. He was soon wounded, and was afterwards killed by a German bomb party while lying in the German first line trench with two other comrades, who had exhausted their supply of bombs. They were almost the only survivors of the bombing party.

The second company, under Capt. G. L. Wilkinson, at once followed the leading company and the bombers, and both parties charged forward to the trench facing enemywards. It had suffered heavily in its advance across the open space between the opposing lines, and Capt. Delamere's company was the fourth sent forward. Captain Delamere had been wounded and the command devolved on Lieut. J. C. L. Young, who was wounded at our parapet. Lieut. Tranter, who took command, was killed in a moment. Company Sergt.-Major Owen then assumed command and led the company with bravery and good sense.

Lieut. F. W. Campbell, with two machine guns, had advanced in the rear of Captain Wilkinson's company. The entire crew of one gun was killed or wounded in the advance, but a portion of the other crew gained the enemy's front trench and then advanced along the trench in the direction of "Stony Mountain." The advance was most difficult and although subjected to constant heavy rifle and machine gun fire, the bombers led the way until further advance was impossible, owing to a barricade across the trench which had been hurriedly erected by the enemy.

GUN ON SOLDIER'S BACK

The machine gun crew, which reached the trench, was reduced to Lieut. Campbell and Private Vincent, a lumber-jack from Bracebridge, Ont., the machine gun and the tripod. In default of base, Lieut. Campbell set up the machine gun on the broad back of Private Vincent and fired continuously. Afterwards, during the retreat, German bombers entered the trench and Lieut. Campbell was wounded. Private Vincent then cut away the cartridge belt, and abandoning the tripod, dragged the gun away to safety because it was too hot to handle.

Lieut. Campbell crawled out of the enemy's trench and was carried into our trench in a dying condition by Company Sergt.-Major Owen, from Woodstock, Ont. In the words of Kingslake, "and no man died that night with more glory, yet many died and there was much glory." The working parties detailed for the construction of the line adjoining our trenches with the hostile line which had been captured, moved out according to arrangement, but the heavy machine gun fire from "Stony Mountain" forced them back to the cover of our trench, and all further attempts to continue work while daylight lasted came to nothing.

THE WESTERN FAIR

The Western Fair of London, Ontario, as an Agricultural Exhibition occupies a prominent position in Western Ontario, and throughout the whole Dominion. This will be the Forty-eighth Annual Exhibition without a break, and every dollar of prize money won during the time has been paid. The management has been increasing the prize list from year to year and through the assistance of Dominion Government they are enabled to add over $3,000 to what was already a liberal list. Live Stock Breeders should avail themselves of the privilege of Exhibiting this year in larger numbers than ever. Exhibitors always report good results from shows at London as buyers are plentiful. The Dairy and Poultry Departments will be of special interest this year. If a prize list, entry form or any other information is required, the Exhibition writes to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario. The dates are September 10th to 18th.

MEOWEN - CARSON.
The following item taken from a Manitoba paper will interest residents of Mt. Pleasant:

Two popular young Lakeland people embarked on the sea of matrimony on Tuesday, June 29th when Miss May Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Carson was united in marriage to Mr. Roy McEwen, Rev. Mr. Colpitts, of Macdonald, officiating. The ceremony took place in the Methodist church at three o'clock p.m. and was witnessed by the immediate relatives and friends. The bride was particularly charming in a costume of white silk trimmed with shadow lace and satin and wore the customary crown. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Robinson, cousin of the bride, while Mr. Cecil Eadie of Oakland, was best man. The gifts to the bride were numerous and costly, among them being a beautiful carving set in which it became necessary to cut the bride's valuable wedding ring. The Herald wishes the wishes of all that the happy couple may enjoy a long and happy journey together.

"I can't," said the lieutenant, "I can't," said the lieutenant, "I can't," said the lieutenant.

Pte. Frank Ullock, late a livery stable keeper at Chatham, N.B., and now with one leg missing said: "Will you take me?" "Sure" replied Gledhill. He got down on his hands and knees and Ullock took good hold of his Web equipment and was hauled gingerly along the ground towards the home trench. Presently Gledhill left Ullock under some cover while he crawled forward. Gledhill was from our entanglements and threw the loop back lasso-fashion to Ullock who wrapped it around his body. Gledhill then hauled him to the parapet where the stretcher bearers came out and took charge.

Good with Any Fruit that Grows!

Lots of times you are at your wit's end for a dessert idea—especially when you have friends to dinner. Let us remind you that good ice cream is always acceptable. You can serve it with fruit, preserves, chopped nuts, minced raisins, Chinese ginger, etc., in dozens of different ways and any number of fancy shapes. Your guests will specially relish the frozen dessert if you take care to serve

Brant Ice Cream

(A suggestion for ladies particularly anxious to please:—Serve Brant Vanilla Ice Cream with hot chocolate sauce.) Why bother with laboriously made desserts? In the end they are not nearly so nice as our exquisite ice cream, nor as highly appreciated. Order a trial brick or pint to-day. Ask for Brant Ice Cream at your dealer's.

N. B.—Brant Ice Cream bricks are carefully packed in improved sanitary cartons.
