The Proper Place
—FOR—
The Proper Thing

The progressive merchant must study business as the sailor studies his chart. He must consider whether or not it is practicable to draw to himself the people who care to be well provided with his goods. He must consider the best method for doing business, not only with those in the town, but the cluster of people that occasionally visit the town; so that he may be able to sell them.

In view of this it is any wonder that 203 King Street finds it necessary to establish a Millinery section!

In spite of the surplus millinery stores our customers are continually asking for head-wear, and to-day we wish to inform them that we will soon be in a position to supply their wants.

Way Signed the Counter Petition.

Editor Athens Reporter:
DEAR SIR.—If you will allow me a little space in your valuable paper I will answer the above. Some two or three months ago Munsell Brown came to me with a petition largely signed which I signed, but did not read. He told me its object was to have School Section No. 6 support the high school. I did not know where No. 6 was located, nor did I see it.
I thought there was some union section that had not hitherto supported it.
I thought no more about it till about a week ago. I was in your village and was met by J. C. Alguire, H. Arnold, and J. P. Lamb. They said they had a petition for me to sign to have the township support the high school. I told them that I had already signed a petition that had 60 assist them. To my surprise, they told me No. 6 was their section and comprised but little more than the village. I, of course, saw what I had done and signed the counter petition.
It is evidently too hard for the township to support it, let alone the school.
Something should be done to make the adjoining townships, which evidently derive an equal benefit, assist in supporting it.

Village Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the village council was held on Friday evening 11th inst. The minutes of last regular meeting were read and confirmed. Bills were read from Geo. Hobson for $5.38 and Tios. R.
Miles for $40.89 for cedar stringers for sidewalk purposes. Street committee recommended payment of the bills as they had examined the matter and assented to it, finding it first class. The price being 1 cent per foot lineal measurement. On motion the bills were ordered to be paid and the amounts. The auditors of the acts of 1891 presented a detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the village for the past year which was accepted and ordered to be printed in Reporter.

Clerk read a list of duties to be observed by Sanitary Inspector, Chief of Police and transit officer, prepared on order of council, which was ordered printed and a copy sent to every householder in the corporation.

The road and sidewalk committee were instructed to procure some one to clear the sidewalks of snow, with the snow plow loaned them by Mr.
Parish. There being no further business the council adjourned until the 2nd Friday in April at 8 p.m., unless sooner called by the Receiver.

B. LOVENY,
Village Clerk.

Mr. Mowat's bill to suppress the tobacco evil among youth is a stringent measure. "Any person actually or apparently under eighteen years of age who has in his possession, or smokes or in any way uses, in a public street or other public place, cigarettes, cigars, or tobacco in any form," shall on conviction be fined from $1 to $5 for every offence, or go to jail for a period not over seven days.
Any person who directly or indirectly sells, gives, furnishes or pays for cigarettes, cigars or tobacco in any form, to the said juvenile, shall be fined from $10 to $50 or imprisoned without hard labor for a term not exceeding thirty days, or both as may be imposed to the same extent.

John Morley, of Mount Forest, while out rabbit hunting ran across a bear in a hollow stub, in a scrubby bush only a few rods from the residence of William Duncan, clerk of Went Lumber, and quite near the road.
Morley armed only with a fowling piece, loaded with pigeon shot, the old gentleman let drive at him as soon as it poked its head out of the hole.
When the same head, as Mr. Morley thought, appeared he was ready with another dose of shot. Again a third time a head appeared and again the hunter blazed away, thinking the game was hard to kill. Failing to see any further signs of life after the third shot, the hole was inspected, when three dead bears, two cubs and an old one, were dislodged.

Mrs. Martin Conroy was in Pembroke last week and called at the Observer office and told a rather strange tale concerning her late husband.
Her husband Martin Conroy was a shanty cook and a few years ago he went to the old country to inherit a fortune left him by a deceased relative. When he returned he never told his wife nor anybody else how he fared but he appeared to be somewhat flush in funds for some time after. On the first of last month Conroy died suddenly at Campbell's Bay, but before his death he told a Mrs. Kelly with whom he boarded to send the Savings Bank at Ottawa for several hundred dollars, but the bank refused to give it without producing the bank book which Conroy said was in the care of some gentleman in Pembroke. There the matter rests.
The poor old woman does not know what to do. She has no money to fee a lawyer and does not know what steps to take to get the money her husband is said to have deposited in the Savings Bank. Mrs. Conroy lives in Griffith.
