CONCORD NOT FOR THEM

OF THE TROUBLE SOME GREAT MEN WHO HAD A STRONG AVERSION TO MUSIC.

> "Solos and Sonatas Give Me the Spleen," Said Sir Walter Scott-Gautier Called Music 'the Most Expensive Noise on Earth"-Tennyson's Estimate of Browning and Himself In This Regard.

Poverty, says some wise man, is no erime, but it is a great inconvenience.

And insensibility to the concord of sweet sounds, it may also be said, though not criminal, despite Shake-speare's dictum that no man deaf to the appeal of music, should be trusted, is certainly a very great deprivation. Yet, great and lamentable loss though it may be, it is a loss which has been the lot. it may be, it is a loss which has been the lot of a really extraordinary num-ber of men and women, not merely among the rank and file of the world's workers and drones, but among those who have in various directions won istinction.

Even the poets have been divided on the subject, although one might naturally have imagined that felicity in verbal harmony would imply appreciation of music. Tennyson is reported to have remarked once to Sir Hubert Parameter. ry: "Browning is devoted to music and knows a great deal about it, but there is no music in his verse. I know nothing about music and don't care for it in the least, but my verse is full of Coleridge, though he protested that coloringe, though he protested that he had no ear whatever and could not sing an air to save his life, yet delighted greatly in good music and, indeed, displayed excellent taste in his appreciation. He liked Beethoven and Mozart and some of the earlier Italian composers, such as Palestrina and Carsismi, and, much to his credit, loved our English Purcell. "Good music," he said, "never tires me nor sends me to sleep. I feel physically refreshed and strengthened by it, as Milton says he

On the other hand, Southey was in-sensible to the charms of music, a depcivation which was shared by Scott. In November, 1815, Sir Walter wrote to his friend Morritt of Rokeby that he was writing from a lonely fireside, his wife, and daughter having gone in to Edinburgh to attend a great musical festival. "I have an indifferent good ear for a lig." he continued "thy" your ear for a jig," he continued, "but your solos and sonatas give me the spleen, so I e'en remained behind to prune my

Scott, apparently, would have sympathized with Theophile Gautier, who once called music the most expensive noise on earth. Of Gautier it is also related that on one occasion when taken to task by a scandalized host for talking while some one was singing he replied, "Je ne supprime pas la musi-que, je ne fais que 'lattenuer!" A still more famous Frenchman, Victor Hugo, objected strongly to his dramas being used as librettos. He said the music spoiled his verses. Mil-ton took a very different view. He sang of soft Lydian airs—

Married to immortal verse, Such as the melting soul may pierce In notes with many a winding bout Of linked sweetness long drawn out.

The composer of the deep organ harmonles of "Paradise Lost" was probably one of the greatest music lovers in the ranks of the poets. He was a musician himself of no mean ability, and his love for the art stands revealed in many passages in his works.

Insensibility to music has been by no means confined to poets. A latter day ducal governor of Madras is said to have declared that there were only two tunes—one was "God Save the Queen" and the other "was not!" He would have appreciated the remark of the Frenchman that music is "the only noise for which one is obliged to pay," a dictum with which Dr. Johnson would have cordially sympathized.

The doctor's remark at a violin per-formance is familiar. When a friend, noticing the great man's inattention to the dexterity displayed, remarked upon the difficulty of the performance the difficulty of the performance to which they were listening, the doctor cried: "Difficult, do you call it, sir? I wish it were impossible!"

And when Boswell in a gushing fit described how music affected him so strongly and painfully, producing in his mind alternate sensations of pathetic dejection so that he was ready to shed tears and of daring resolution so that he was inclined to rush into the thickest part of the battle, the doctor simply and effectively gave him a cold simply and effectively gave him a cold douche—"Sir, I should never hear it if it made me such a fool!"

Lamb, again, although he numbered accomplished musicians among his friends, cared little for their melodies, friends, cared little for their melodies, He confessed to having practiced "God Save the King" all his life—"whistling and humming it over to myself in solitary corners and am not yet arrived, they tell me, within many quavers of it." On one occasion at the Novellos he managed to "weather the Mozartian storm" with the aid of soothing porter, but his power of musical re-ceptivity was very soon exhausted, as he has explained in his own inimitable way in the "Chapter on Ears." Elsewhere he wrote: Some cry up Haydn, some Mozart, Just as the whim bites; for my part I do not care a farthing candle For either of them or for Handel. Cannot a man live free and easy Without admiring Pergolesi, Or through the world with comfort go That never heard of Dr. Blow?

Minard's Liniment Cures Calds, etc.

Wagner, writing in 1846, said of Schumann: "He is a highly gifted mu-sician, but an impossible man. When I came from Paris I went to see him. I told him of my Parisian experiences, spoke of the state of music in France literature and politics, but he remained as good as dumb for nearly an hour.
One cannot go on talking quite alone. An impossible man!" Schumann gave an account of this interview, which practically agrees with that of Wagsaid, "but he is a man of education and spirit. He talks, however, unceasingly, and that one cannot endure for long together."

CHAMPION LINIMENT FOR RHEU-MATISM.

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamber-lain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year troubled a great deal with rheuma-tism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continual use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by all druggists.

The Term "Prime Minister." "Prime minister" is one of the many terms in English which seem to have been slang at one time. It was first applied to Sir Robert Walpole, but in a reproachful sense. Feb. 11, 1742, after twenty years' tenure of office, Sir Robert resigned all his employments. "Having invested me," he remarked, "with a kind of mock dignity and styled me prime minister, they impute to me an unpardonable abuse of that chimerical authority which they creatas the prime minister or the premier is not even mentioned in the official table of precedence and is unknown to the written constitution of Great Britain.

HAS NO EQUAL

"I had a very bad cold which settled on my lungs. I tried many remedies but could get no relief. On the advice of a friend I procured a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before the bottle was half finished I had not the slightees trace of a cough, and in my opinion Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has no equal as a cure for coughs, colds, or any affection of the throat and lungs.

A WONDERFUL PROOF.

The Burning Glass as a Den

"The sun's heat is so great"-But an intelligent young woman in-errupted the scientist impatiently. "After all," she said, "it is guesswork, this talk about the excessive heat of the sun. You can't prove any of your claims."

"I can't?" he cried. "Why, it is the easiest thing in the world to prove that the sun is hot enough to melt iron, granite, the hardest substances known. into liquid, into steam."

"How would you make such a proof?"

How would you make such a proof? she asked incredulously.

"With the burning glass," said he.

"A burning glass is slightly rounded.
Thus it bends into a focus—it concentrates upon one small point-a number of sun rays. The tiniest burning glass, catching only a few rays, will light a fire, set off a gun or bore a red hole in

"Yes." "The solar heat which the burning glass collects for us is the tiniest fraction of the sun's actual heat. We can prove this by focusing with our glass rays from a powerful lamp or a great are. We get a small, bright spot, a little heat, but this heat is nothing to compare with the heat of the lamp it

"So, knowing now that the color heat which the burning glass gives to us is but a fraction of the heat of the sun, we take a burning glass a yard in diameter—such glasses have been made for the sole purpose of convincing skep-tical persons like yourself—and this glass concentrates many hundreds of sun rays for us, and it gives us a heat greater than we can obtain in any furnace, a heat that will melt rock
