MUNICIPALLY OWNED TENEMENTS SUGGESTED CONDITIONS which exist in this town to a somewhat limited extent, and which must in the nature of things be grappled with by the authorities in the near future, constitute a problem the solution of which well deserves the best consideration of citizens. At the meeting of the Board of Health last week the housing and supervision of a class of our population loomed large as an element in our

It is useless to conceal the fact that there are today a considerable number of our people who are living in habitations which reither sanitary nor comfortable and under conditions that are producing and will continue to produce most undesirable results. The fact that we have destitution and want among a class of our citizens is not due to the lack of charity among our people. In some cases it may result from an ill-directed generosity and a neglect in looking the real needs of those in want. Wolfville should have no pauper the real needs of those in want. Wolfville should have no pauper class and no slums, and that these exist—to even a small extent—is no credit to this highly favored community. It is neither good business nor good ethics to permit the present state of affairs to con-

When we take into consideration the amount expended each year to maintain present conditions and the benefit that would come from having a more efficient class of working people in our midst, the balance might prove to be on the right side of the ledger.

OUR EDITORIALS COMMENDED

THE ACADIAN is gratified and grateful for the many appreciative comments which have been made by readers upon its editorial policy and the character of the articles which have appeared from time to time in that department of the paper. We appreciate these all the more because they have in most cases come from those who are recognized as an authority on such matters. Our constituency is rather an unusual one, and our readers include naturally men and women of more than ordinary intellectual endowment. That we have been able to merit their good opinion is

NOT UNEXPECTED

OSBORN Wood, son of the famous U. S. General, Leonard Wood, who won a fortune from Wall Street is now nearly reduced to poverty. For almost a year he has been in Europe living at high speed. Months ago his wife became disgusted and returned to the United States, and now rumor has it that she will divorce him.

Like thousands of men who were once parvenus but who are now derelicts, Wood could not stand the possession of money. When he made his sensational clean-up he was the envy of many. Today he is the envy of none. Most of us have the energy to make money, but how many of us have the character to keep it along with our self-respect?

MORE THAN HIS SHARE

PARLIAMENTARY proceedings show that Col. J. L. Ralston, the chairman of the Royal Commission on Soldiers' Civil Reestablishment and Pensions, received last year for services and expenses in making investigations $20,347.32. Is it any wonder that there is very little left for the other "returned men"?
