

Subscription.—One Dollar per year, 6 months 50 cents, 3 months 25 cents, postpaid in advance.

Rates of Advertising.
One half inch, one insertion, $0 20
One inch, one insertion, " 30
One and one-half inch, one insertion, " 45
Two inches, one insertion, " 75
Each additional inch, one insertion, " 50
Continuation one-fourth of first insertion.

Special notices in local column 10 cents
per line for first insertion, 5 cents per line
each subsequent insertion.

Special arrangements made with parties
wishing to occupy more than half a column
space. Liberal terms made with yearly advertisers.

In order to insure insertion, advertisements should be in the office not later than Tuesday Morning.

The attention of subscribers is directed to the following:
LEGAL DECISIONS IN NEWSPAPER CASES.
1.—Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post-office, or whether directed to his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for payment.

2.—If a person orders his paper discontinued he will pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount
whether the paper is taken from the office
or not.

3.—The courts have decided that returning to take newspaper and periodicals from the Post Office, or removing and leaving them
undisturbed is prima facie evidence of involuntary fraud.

PATENTS
Inventors and Trade Marks obtained and all
Patent Business conducted for MODERATE FEE'S.

OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S.
PATENT OFFICE. We have no subagents. All business direct, hence can transact patent business in less time and
at LESS COST than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo, with description. We advise if patentable or not.
If we advise it is not patentable we charge nothing. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A book, "How to Obtain Patents," with reference to actual decisions in State, County or town, sent free. Address
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

MEN
Our Specific No. 23 permanently restores EXHAUSTED VITALITY, LOST MAN-HOOD and GENERAL DEBILITY when other treatment fails. Sent in bottles of one or two, and DIRECTIONS for home cure. Toronto Dispensary Co., 343
Spadina Ave., Toronto, Ont.

INSURANCE
Fire & Life Insurance Agency
GOOD RISKS SOLICITED FOR

The Lancashire Fire Insurance Company, Ltd.

The Liverpool, London & Globe Fire
Insurance Company.

The Standard Life Insurance Company.

C. J. OSMAN,
Agent.

Hillsboro, A. Co.

Leather Manufacture.
If you want a first-class quality of Cold Liquor Tanned Leather
—call at the—

HARVEY TANNERY.
Upper, calf and Harness Leather manufactured and kept on hand. Best quality of
SOLE LEATHER

Hand Made Boots
kept in stock.

Oil Tanned Larrikans a Specialty.
Orders for which are solicited, to be delivered next Autumn.

GOOD PRICES PAID FOR HEMLOCK
BARK—COUNTRY PRODUCE
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS.

W. H. A. CASEY,
Proprietor.
Harvey, A. Co., May 26, 1888.

Art and Science.
In the grasp of modern Minds in the present day, is making rapid progress.
Notably among others is the Art of Photography,

which is the hands of

MONCTON'S ARTIST.
Mr. C. E. Northrup, is not one of the late artists, but is rapidly attaining a

Foremost Place
attained by few. Mr. N., at considerable expense, has introduced a variety of

New Designs in Scrolls,
which objects and designs, which almost reproduce the original. His samples are the admiration of all.

The public can always rely upon getting
THE LATEST

NORTHROP'S STUDIO,
Main Street, Moncton, N. B.

C. P. Curtis & Co.
Produce Commission Merchants.

ATLANTIC PROVINCES
Sole agents of all kinds of groceries such as Hay, Potatoes, Apples, Eggs, Poultry (alive or dressed), or any other article parties wish to ship to this market on rails. Fish of all kinds in their season. Quick sales. Prompt returns.

CHARGES MODERATE.

1812 HOUSEHOLD SPECIFIC—
The Great External Remedy. Used
in all diseases where an external application is indicated it never fails. Nearly 100 years before the public. Once introduced into a family, they never will be without it.
It is Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gouty swelling in the Hands or Feet, Burns, Scalds, Bruises, Scum: Soreness of the Muscles, etc., its effect is magical. Kept in the house for any and all emergencies. It will never disappoint you. Only 25c a bottle, and you'll get its worth 100 fold by all druggists.
D. A. L. S. B. W. L. Manufacturing Chemist, No 2 Brighton Street, Boston, Mass.
If your druggist does not keep it get him to order it.

FREE! 16 Grand LOVE STORIES
to package of goods worth two dollars to manufacture, sent in a large Picture Book, that will surely put you on the road to a handsome fortune. Write quick,
and send 5c. silver, to help pay postage.
W. KERR, Vermont, U.S.

The Weekly Observer

Devoted to Literature, Education, Temperance and General Intelligence.

VOL. 5.

HILLSBORO, A. CO., N. B., THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1889.

NO. 15.

THE LIGHT RUNNING
NEW HOME
SEWING MACHINE
HAS
NO
EQUAL.

THE ONLY SEWING MACHINE
THAT GIVES
PERFECT SATISFACTION

NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO. BOSTON, MASS.
CHICAGO - 28 UNION SQUARE, N.Y. DALLAS
ILL. - 1015 N. 10TH ST. ST. LOUIS, MO. ATLANTA, GA. SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

JAMES CRAWFORD,
Moncton, N. B.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered
for this disease. Read proof below.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
OFFICE OF CHARLES A. SYDNER,
Sole Agent,
CLAREMONT ST. AND THURLOW ST. MONCTON, N. B.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
DR. R. J. KENDALL CO.,
100 N. 10TH ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., November 8, 1888.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
Price 50c per bottle, or six bottles for $2. All Druggists have it on hand for you, or it will be sent to you
on receipt of price by the proprietors.
D. B. & C. Kendall Co., Brookfield, N. Y.

NOTICE.
All persons having legal demands
against the Estate of the late David Duffy, deceased, are hereby requested to remit the same, duly stated, within three months from the date hereof. And all persons indebted to the said Estate
are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

PETER DUFFY,
ADMINISTRATOR.
Hillsborough, N. B., April 29, 1889.

HO TRAVELLERS
Patronize the New Moncton
Livery Stable.

We have taken the stable lately occupied by Mr. Stevens, corner Front and Main Streets, and solicited a change of management, and under the able and energetic management of Mr. C. E. Northrup, a first class livery stable, horses loaned on reasonable terms. Careful attention given to travellers' requirements.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
PUBLISHED WEEKLY.
It is the oldest and most popular scientific and mechanical paper published and has the largest circulation of any paper of its class.
Fully Illustrated. Best class of Wood Engravings. Published weekly, except on holidays.
Price 10c per copy. Sent by mail for three months $2.50, for six months $4.50, for a year $7.50. Single copies 10c. Address,
NEW YORK, N. Y.

ARCHITECTS & BUILDERS
A great success. Each issue contains colored illustrations of the latest and most modern styles of public buildings. Numerous engravings and full plans and specifications for the use of architects and builders. Price $2.50 a year, $1.00 a copy. MUNN & CO., PUBLISHERS.

PATENTS
We have had many years of experience in the preparation of specifications for patents, and the drawing of applications for American and Foreign patents. Correspondence
strictly confidential.

TRADE MARKS.
In order to secure a registered in the Patent Office, apply to MUNN & CO., and procure specimens of the goods, or send for circular containing full information. Send for circular.
Copyrights for books, charts, maps,
and designs.
MUNN & CO., Patent Solicitors,
GENERAL OFFICE: 36 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The Mechanical Frog.
This is the only frog of the kind
that will
crawl up
the wall, and
hold on to it
by its feet.
It is made of iron, and is very strong.
It is used for
many purposes,
and is a very valuable
article.

A. W. KINNEY,
YARMOUTH, N. B.

The Weekly Observer.

HILLSBORO, N. B., June 13, 1889.

Bad Prayers.

I do not like to hear him pray,
On Tuesday knee about an hour
For grace to spend right the day,
Who knows his neighbor has so flour.

I'd rather see him go to jail
And buy the lockers' brother bread,
And see the children eat their fill,
And laugh beneath their humble shed.

I do not like to hear him pray,
"Let blessings on the widow be,"
Who never seeks her home to say,
"If I want or grace you, come to me."

I had the prayer so loud and long,
That I offered for the orphan's weal,
By him who sees him cry-bred by wrong,
And only with his lips doth feed.

I do not like to hear him pray,
With jewelled car at a "ken dress,"
Whose washwoman toils all day,
And then is asked to work for less.

I do not like such low prayers;
If wrong, I hope to see you;
No angel wings them upward - say,
"They're lost a million miles from heaven."

Live it Down.

"Has your life a bitter sorrow?
Live it down.
Think about a bright to-morrow,
Live it down.
You will find it never pays
Just to sit, wet-eyed, and gaze
On the grave of vanished days,
Live it down.

"Is disgrace your daily burden?
Live it down.
You can win a brave heart's pardon:
Live it down.
Make your life so free of blame,
That the lustre of your fame
Shall hide all the olden shame;
Live it down.

"Has your heart a secret trouble?
Live it down.
Useless griefs will make it double,
Live it down.
Do not water it with tears—
Do not feed it with your fears—
Do not nurse it through the years—
Live it down.

"Have you made some awful error?
Live it down.
Do not hide your face in terror;
Live it down.
Look the world square in the eyes;
Go ahead as one who tries
To be honored, ere he dies,
Live it down."

The Post's Valentine.

My name is Johnny; my sister's name is Jennie, and the long thin post with hair on her collar who comes to see her every Sunday evening is called Aigy.
The rest of it is Algernon Tenyson Sui-bi. He amounts to less than the inside of a large zero. The hardest work I ever know him to do was to watch a man play solitaire. Afterwards
he said he was real tired.

Jennie thinks he is just too literary and intellectual; and she's trying to be that way herself—reading poetry and all that sort of thing—but its no use.
Jennie is a nice, pretty girl, too good for a dude like Aigy, but she weighs 150 in the shade, and she's just too intellectual to think that the 25 cent candy Aigy brings her is good, and not intellectual enough to know what the mat' r with
it. And as for being literary! It makes me laugh to see her try to read the books,
that Aigy tells her are so fit of 'em.
They put her to sleep.

She used to take them over to Lu
Brown's. Lu is literary herself. Jennie would get her to talk about the books,
and remember what she said. Then she'd repeat it to Aigy in the evening.
It was about the meanest thing I ever knew a girl to do, because Lu was trying to fascinate the poet here, and was working the literary dodge, and it was worth. I would stand any such trick as that, so I went and told Lu how the matter stood, and the next day she filled Jennie up with the faintest lot of nonsense I ever heard. Jennie didn't know that there was anything the matter with it, and when the poet called she gave him
the usual dose. I was under the piano that evening, and I thought there was to be a row, but Jennie cried, and Aigy forgave her.

Our Washington Letter.

The awful deluge in Pennsylvania
awakened universal sympathy here and the Morning Post has already begun to receive subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers at Johnston. General Schofield, acting Secretary of War is by direction of the President already organizing means of relief and by morrow some plan will be submitted by which the National Treasury may furnish aid. The President sent a telegram of sympathy Saturday, and requested the Mayor of Johnston to make a night draft on him for his subscription.
"The local inundation has reached a high point than ever attained during the flood of 1881, which was a midwinter disaster. The loss to the Government and to corporations and private individuals is very great. The loss of life fortunately will not reach half a dozen in this vicinity. Pennsylvania avenue is flooded and the street car lines have closed travel. No trains arrive from the west or north. Boat ply-avenues a mile for the river port. The regulation of George Washington as a navigation engineer in selecting the site of Washington for the Capitol is suffering a severe strain. The extensive improvements on the flats are nearly ruined.
The great ponds of the U. S. Fish Commission filled with carp flooded and the fish escaped yesterday munched to the delight of the small boy. A carp twenty inches long, was caught on Pennsylvania
avenue, opposite the National Hotel.
In the evening thousands of the fish
were attracted by the electrical lights,
and could plainly be seen disporting in
the flood.

Children's Column.

She Displeas It.

We hope, little reader, that you never
quarrel and fight, or speak cross words.
Here is a story about two children that
almost had a quarrel. They were both
right, and when they found out what
each other meant they became friends
again. Perhaps you cannot understand
this story, if you cannot, ask your teacher, and she will tell you all about it.

"Had too!"
"Hadn't neither!"
So commended Ben and Mia,
Neighbour children who were boasting
Of their grand-mamas, one day.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
All the difference began,
By Mia's saying she'd two grandmas,
While poor Ben had only one.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
Tommy said, and kinks of friz,
"How could you have two grandmothers
When just one is all they is?"

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
"Come of you had two," said Mia,
"You'd displeas it!" Then Mia answered:
"My grandmas were twins, I guess!"
—Ez.

A Clever Parler Trick.

In company it is well to know at least
one trick which requires nothing but a
pencil, a slip of paper, and a good mem-
ory. It is called "who wears the ring."
The number of persons participating in the game should not exceed nine. Some
one of the company is selected unknown
to you to put a ring on one of his fingers.
You now say you will tell (1) who
wears the ring, (2) the hand it is on, (3)
the finger of the hand and (4) the joint
of the finger. This is apparently presuming to do a great deal, and your
hearers will look on at first rather dubi-
tantly.

The company being seated in regular
order the persons must be numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The thumb must be turned
the first finger, the forefinger being the second. The joint nearest the extremity
must be called the first joint; the right
hand is one and the left has two.

The preliminaries arranged, let the
room in order that the ring may be placed
unobserved by you. Suppose that the third person has the ring on the right
hand, third finger and first joint. Your
object is to discover the figure 3131.
How would you do it?

What Rained a Dynasty.

The Duke of Orleans was the eldest son of King Louis Philippe, and the
inheritor of whatever rights his father
could transmit. He was a noble young man—physically noble. His generous
qualities had made him generally popular. One morning he invited a few of his friends to breakfast, as he was about
to depart for Paris, to join his regiment.
In the conviviality of the hour he drank
a little too much wine; he did not be-
come intoxicated; he was not in any respect a dissipated man. His character
was lofty and noble. But in that jocos-
hour he drank just one glass too much
in taking the parting glass he slightly
lost the balance of his body and mind.
Bidding adieu to his companions, he
entered the carriage; but for that one
glass of wine he would have kept his seat. He leaped from the carriage; and
for that one glass of wine he would have
slighted on his feet. His head struck
the pavement. Senseless and bleeding,
he was taken to a beer shop near by and
died. That extra glass of wine over-
threw the Orleans dynasty, confiscated
their property, and sent the whole family
into exile.

A Mixed-up Minister.

In an old parish church, the minister
was very deaf. One Sunday, the pre-
senter had to give out the intimation in
the following order: "Now hymns books,
baptisms, and other minor matters. But
the preacher, commenced with the baptism first, saying: "There will be a public baptism here, next Sunday, and parents will give in their names during the week." The minister, thinking he was
intimating about the hymn books, said:
"And parents, who have not got them,
will kindly come to the vestry after this
service. Small ones, 1d.; large ones,
3d.; red-backed ones, 3d."

Children's Column.

She Displeas It.

We hope, little reader, that you never
quarrel and fight, or speak cross words.
Here is a story about two children that
almost had a quarrel. They were both
right, and when they found out what
each other meant they became friends
again. Perhaps you cannot understand
this story, if you cannot, ask your teacher, and she will tell you all about it.

"Had too!"
"Hadn't neither!"
So commended Ben and Mia,
Neighbour children who were boasting
Of their grand-mamas, one day.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
All the difference began,
By Mia's saying she'd two grandmas,
While poor Ben had only one.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
Tommy said, and kinks of friz,
"How could you have two grandmothers
When just one is all they is?"

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
"Come of you had two," said Mia,
"You'd displeas it!" Then Mia answered:
"My grandmas were twins, I guess!"
—Ez.

A Clever Parler Trick.

In company it is well to know at least
one trick which requires nothing but a
pencil, a slip of paper, and a good mem-
ory. It is called "who wears the ring."
The number of persons participating
in the game should not exceed nine. Some
one of the company is selected unknown
to you to put a ring on one of his fingers.
You now say you will tell (1) who
wears the ring, (2) the hand it is on, (3)
the finger of the hand and (4) the joint
of the finger. This is apparently pre-
suming to do a great deal, and your
hearers will look on at first rather dubi-
tantly.

The company being seated in regular
order the persons must be numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The thumb must be turned
the first finger, the forefinger being the
second. The joint nearest the extremity
must be called the first joint; the right
hand is one and the left has two.

The preliminaries arranged, let the
room in order that the ring may be placed
unobserved by you. Suppose that the
third person has the ring on the right
hand, third finger and first joint. Your
object is to discover the figure 3131.
How would you do it?

What Rained a Dynasty.

The Duke of Orleans was the eldest
son of King Louis Philippe, and the
inheritor of whatever rights his father
could transmit. He was a noble young
man—physically noble. His generous
qualities had made him generally popu-
lar. One morning he invited a few of
his friends to breakfast, as he was about
to depart for Paris, to join his regiment.
In the conviviality of the hour he drank
a little too much wine; he did not be-
come intoxicated; he was not in any respect a dissipated man. His character
was lofty and noble. But in that jocos-
hour he drank just one glass too much
in taking the parting glass he slightly
lost the balance of his body and mind.
Bidding adieu to his companions, he
entered the carriage; but for that one
glass of wine he would have kept his
seat. He leaped from the carriage; and
for that one glass of wine he would have
slighted on his feet. His head struck
the pavement. Senseless and bleeding,
he was taken to a beer shop near by and
died. That extra glass of wine over-
threw the Orleans dynasty, confiscated
their property, and sent the whole family
into exile.

A Mixed-up Minister.

In an old parish church, the minister
was very deaf. One Sunday, the pre-
senter had to give out the intimation in
the following order: "Now hymns books,
baptisms, and other minor matters. But
the preacher, commenced with the bap-
tism first, saying: "There will be a public baptism here, next Sunday, and parents will give in their names during the
week." The minister, thinking he was
intimating about the hymn books, said:
"And parents, who have not got them,
will kindly come to the vestry after this
service. Small ones, 1d.; large ones,
3d.; red-backed ones, 3d."

Catarrah, Catarrah Deafness

Sufferers are not generally aware that
these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living
parasites in the lining membrane of the
nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic
research, however, has proved this to be
a fact, and the result is that a simple
remedy has been formulated whereby
catarrh, catarrah deafness and hay fever
are permanently cured in from one to
three simple applications made at home
by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrh discharges peculiar to
females (white) this remedy is a specific.
A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A.
H. Dixon & Son, 308 W. King St.,
Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Generous Offer.

The above Magazine (Godey's Lady's Book) and THE WEEKLY OBSERVER
will be sent to any address one year upon
receipt of $2.25. Address,
OBSERVER PUBLISHING CO.,
Hillsboro, A. Co., N. B.

Children's Column.

She Displeas It.

We hope, little reader, that you never
quarrel and fight, or speak cross words.
Here is a story about two children that
almost had a quarrel. They were both
right, and when they found out what
each other meant they became friends
again. Perhaps you cannot understand
this story, if you cannot, ask your teacher, and she will tell you all about it.

"Had too!"
"Hadn't neither!"
So commended Ben and Mia,
Neighbour children who were boasting
Of their grand-mamas, one day.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
All the difference began,
By Mia's saying she'd two grandmas,
While poor Ben had only one.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
Tommy said, and kinks of friz,
"How could you have two grandmothers
When just one is all they is?"

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
"Come of you had two," said Mia,
"You'd displeas it!" Then Mia answered:
"My grandmas were twins, I guess!"
—Ez.

A Clever Parler Trick.

In company it is well to know at least
one trick which requires nothing but a
pencil, a slip of paper, and a good mem-
ory. It is called "who wears the ring."
The number of persons participating
in the game should not exceed nine. Some
one of the company is selected unknown
to you to put a ring on one of his fingers.
You now say you will tell (1) who
wears the ring, (2) the hand it is on, (3)
the finger of the hand and (4) the joint
of the finger. This is apparently pre-
suming to do a great deal, and your
hearers will look on at first rather dubi-
tantly.

The company being seated in regular
order the persons must be numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The thumb must be turned
the first finger, the forefinger being the
second. The joint nearest the extremity
must be called the first joint; the right
hand is one and the left has two.

The preliminaries arranged, let the
room in order that the ring may be placed
unobserved by you. Suppose that the
third person has the ring on the right
hand, third finger and first joint. Your
object is to discover the figure 3131.
How would you do it?

What Rained a Dynasty.

The Duke of Orleans was the eldest
son of King Louis Philippe, and the
inheritor of whatever rights his father
could transmit. He was a noble young
man—physically noble. His generous
qualities had made him generally popu-
lar. One morning he invited a few of
his friends to breakfast, as he was about
to depart for Paris, to join his regiment.
In the conviviality of the hour he drank
a little too much wine; he did not be-
come intoxicated; he was not in any respect a dissipated man. His character
was lofty and noble. But in that jocos-
hour he drank just one glass too much
in taking the parting glass he slightly
lost the balance of his body and mind.
Bidding adieu to his companions, he
entered the carriage; but for that one
glass of wine he would have kept his
seat. He leaped from the carriage; and
for that one glass of wine he would have
slighted on his feet. His head struck
the pavement. Senseless and bleeding,
he was taken to a beer shop near by and
died. That extra glass of wine over-
threw the Orleans dynasty, confiscated
their property, and sent the whole family
into exile.

A Mixed-up Minister.

In an old parish church, the minister
was very deaf. One Sunday, the pre-
senter had to give out the intimation in
the following order: "Now hymns books,
baptisms, and other minor matters. But
the preacher, commenced with the bap-
tism first, saying: "There will be a public baptism here, next Sunday, and parents will give in their names during the
week." The minister, thinking he was
intimating about the hymn books, said:
"And parents, who have not got them,
will kindly come to the vestry after this
service. Small ones, 1d.; large ones,
3d.; red-backed ones, 3d."

Catarrah, Catarrah Deafness

Sufferers are not generally aware that
these diseases are contagious, or that
they are due to the presence of living
parasites in the lining membrane of the
nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic
research, however, has proved this to be
a fact, and the result is that a simple
remedy has been formulated whereby
catarrh, catarrah deafness and hay fever
are permanently cured in from one to
three simple applications made at home
by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For
catarrh discharges peculiar to
females (white) this remedy is a specific.
A pamphlet explaining this new treat-
ment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A.
H. Dixon & Son, 308 W. King St.,
Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Generous Offer.

The above Magazine (Godey's Lady's Book) and THE WEEKLY OBSERVER
will be sent to any address one year upon
receipt of $2.25. Address,
OBSERVER PUBLISHING CO.,
Hillsboro, A. Co., N. B.

Children's Column.

She Displeas It.

We hope, little reader, that you never
quarrel and fight, or speak cross words.
Here is a story about two children that
almost had a quarrel. They were both
right, and when they found out what
each other meant they became friends
again. Perhaps you cannot understand
this story, if you cannot, ask your teacher, and she will tell you all about it.

"Had too!"
"Hadn't neither!"
So commended Ben and Mia,
Neighbour children who were boasting
Of their grand-mamas, one day.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
All the difference began,
By Mia's saying she'd two grandmas,
While poor Ben had only one.

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
Tommy said, and kinks of friz,
"How could you have two grandmothers
When just one is all they is?"

"Had, too!"
"Hadn't, neither!"
"Come of you had two," said Mia,
"You'd displeas it!" Then Mia answered:
"My grandmas were twins, I guess!"
—Ez.