Although the Globe and its echoes would have pelieve that fuel is more plentiful and per in the United States than here, it is cheaper in the United States than here, it is a fact that in some parts of the Union, even so far east as the Chicago district, fuel is at times not procurable at all at any price. The correspondent alluded to above says that fue famines during the winter are of frequent occurrence in Minneapolis, which must be a decidedly unpleasant state of affairs in a city where the mercury has a habit of getting down off its perch and grovelling about among the fifties and sixties.

The Grits professed great anxiety to have the writ issued for East Northumberland. ut now that the writ is about to issue, they find themselves without a candidate, their ince, Mr. McCallum, deeming prudence the better part of valour, and retiring in good order. This is rather amusing after the flourish of trumpets with which his candida flourish of trumpets with which his candidature was announced and his forthcoming election predicted. It is announced in St John, N.B., by a leading Grit organ that Mr. Leighton, the Grit nominee for Carleton, N.B., has also declined to face the music, and that Dr. Connell, brother of the late member, will probably walk over the course in the Conservative interest. "What is the use of buying a chandelier," asked the illiterate Church member, "when we have nobody amongst us who can play on it?" We would like our Reform friends to tell us what is the use of having a reaction when they have no one amongst them who will consent to react?

England, commercially, is in a better condiion to-day than she was two or three years ago, but agriculturally things are getting vorse and worse. Reports from the principal arming counties all show that the situation is steadily growing desperate. Although the landlords have made large concessions in rent and in other privileges, there is still such a small margin of profit in farming that the area of untilled land is constantly increasing. If, by any possibility, a farmer can forfeit his ease, he is almost sure to take advantage of is opportunity. The statement is made by number of well-informed authorities that ever before was there in England such a complete want of faith in the future of the omplete want of later in the thouse the gricultural interest. There have been in the past bad years, but the farmers have looked topefully beyond them. At the present time, many of them are convinced that a good bad season will equally result in loss.

The re-vamped railway policy of the Onario Government has been most successful in he creation of dissatisfaction, not only nong those who have been refused aid for heir schemes, but also amongst those who have received such aid as has been doled out to them. One of Mr. Mowat's organs, the Mount Forest Confederate, thinks that as between the Georgian Bay and Wellington and the Stratford and Lake Huron Railway Companies, the distribution of subsidies has been most under the Stratford and Lake Huron Railway Companies, the distribution of subsidies has been most under the Georgian Bay st unfair, inasmuch as the Georgian Bay d Wellington has received $1,500 per mile and Wellington has received $1,000 per mile from Mount Forest to Durham, while the Stratford and Huron gets $2,000 per mile from Harriston to Wiarton. The Confederate feels free to express this opinion:—"That a line running through a section of country—the greater portion of which is already served with an efficient road—should receive more aid than a company whose line runs through a district having no railway is to be regretted. district having no railway is to be regretted esides, the municipalities more directly in-rested in the G. B. & W. B. put their hands their pockets a second time and grante id to the company in order that the road hould be completed." Our Mount Forest contemporary will of course continue to sup-port the Ontario Government, therefore its protest against what it considers injustice might as well have remained unmade,

MARKET FEES AND TOLL-GATES. To the Editor of The Mail.

To the Editor of The Mail.

SIR,—The intended legislation with the object of abolishing market fees and toll-gates is undoubtedly a movement in the right direction, but there is a possibility of not only doing great injustice, but of bringing about a state of affairs which may injure both farmers and townspeople alike. The town of Paris affords an excellent illustration of this. For about twenty vears, with slight intermisafords an excellent illustration of this. For about twenty years, with slight intermissions, the safe of produce was free in that town. A market building and grounds aforded all the accommodation necessary, but neither buyer nor sellere ver made their appearance, and the system of hawking about from house to house could be adopted by any who wished to do so perfectly unrestricted. The result was that the people were badly served, as farmers refused to peddle their products, preferring to drive seven miles products, preferring to drive seven miles arther on to Brantford or other market towns where fees were collected, and where purchasers could be me with without the toil of travelling from house to house. The people of Paris had conse-quently to be contented with the limited and enerally very poor assortment of garden and airy products which the grocers were able to procure for trade, and after many years of contention and striving to abolish sectional ealousies, a small building and plot of ground were chosen in a central position, and a market established. The fees are merely nominal, and then only on the ordinary garden produce, butter, eggs, wood, &c., but g.am, wool, and products not affected by a local market, are sold anywhere without restriction. The result has been the establishment of an excellent market which has benefitted the farmer and proved a comfort and convenience to the and proved a comfort and convenience to the townspeople, while the revenue is scarcely more than covers the bare expense of a moderate salary to a clerk whose duty it is to measure wood and regulate the business.

The town of Paris were also owners of a section of Governor's Road running east and section of section of covernor's rest and running east and section of section of covernor's rest and running east and section of se section of Governor's Road running east and west some seven or eight miles, in which they invested some $12,000 or $15,000 many year ago. They had three toll-gates on this road and after keeping it in proper repair, derived an income of from $800 to $1,000 per annun from it. The town endeavoured for many years to induce the county or townships to assume this and other toll-roads, but without the County and the County of the Co success, and so, to set the example, the Council of Paris abolished its tolls, and gave up ll right and title to the road.

Here, then, is the position of Paris. The people have tried a free market, and it has proved an utter failure. They have estab-ished a market with slight restrictions and noderate fees, and it has proved a boon to ooth town and country, and works satisfactorily. If the old system of peddling be re-introduced, Paris market will undoubtedly torily. If the old system of peddling be reintroduced, Paris market will undoubtedly be destroyed. And all, notwithstanding that they have generously abolished their tollbars, for which the county refused to give them any compensation whatever.

Not only has the county refused to de this, but there are two toll-roads leading into Paris, one of some six miles from Ayr to Paris, and the other of about seven miles from Brantford to Paris. Since Paris has abolished the toll on her crossing of the latter road where the fees were collected for both, the proprietors of the B. & P. road have asised the tolls to the same figure as where Paris was part owner, and the people going north and south are as badly off as ever. Ye the county refuses to take any action toward the abolition of these toll-roads, and Paris has no option but to submit to her tradibeting hampered as badly as before from certain sections of the country.

The question now comes: As these toll-roads belong to private individuals, and are not county roads, will the town of Paris by obliged to abolish her market fees, or will the county or townships be compelled to purchast the proprietary rights of the road-owners before the new market law takes effect:

Yours, &c.

Superior to any Family Medicine DOCTORS GAVE HER UP. VEGETINE CURED HER

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir. About fifteen years ago I wastroubled with Scropulous Humour which settled on my lungs and brought on a severe cough. I consulted five or six of the best physicians in Boston, but they gave up treating me, said there was no hope of a cure, and they could do nothing more for me. A friend who had used Vegetine in his family recommended me to try it. I procured three bottles, and before finishing the third, bottle found myself entirely cured, and had not another attack of scrofule for nine years. After that period I had to get some more Vegetine, but it quickly restored me to health again, and I have not had a third attack. I am sixty-nine years old, and since becoming aware of the virtues of your medicine I have given it to my children and grandchildren, and have recommended it to my friends. The results have been invariably all that could be desired. Previous to my first trial of the Vegetine I had a cancer removed, and scrofulous sores broke out on me, but none have appeared since, and I believe it superior to any of the Family Medicines in use.

MARIA J. KIMBAIL.

I can vouch for the above statement in every particular, and consider Vegetine the best Family Medicine now in use.

NOW OFFER FOR SALE OVER 1,360,000 ACRES, of the Choicest FARMING and TIMBERED LANDS in the Northern Peninsula

These partially cleared lands are now offered at the low price of from $4 to $4.50 per acre, one on the cash, and the remainder at purchaser's option, at any time within nine years, with interest yable annually at seven per cent.

Roads are being opened through these lands, and no better opportunity has ever been offered to en of small means to secure a good farm, and intending purchasers will be wise by availing them-lives of this chance before prices advance, as the lands are being rapidly taken and settled upon. The lands more immediately on the line of the Detroit, Mackinac, and Marquette Hallrad, from a Straits of Mackinac to Marquette, are more heavily timbered, and are almost universally good ricultural lands, leaving splendid farms when the timber is removed.

The tron and lumber interests of the upper peninsula are of such magnitude as to call for all the larcoal and lumber that the timber and wood upon the lands will produce—this will enable the titler to make good wages while clearing the land.

Lumber Mills and Charcoal Kilns will be built at various points along the line, and Furnaces are we being erected along the line of the road at Point St. Ignace.

The great demand and good prices for ishour, both in winter and summer, make these lands partularly desirable as homes for the poor man. The lands adjacent the railroad are affered at lees from $5 upwards, according to location, value of timber, etc. The lands are at your very lor, and are being rapidly settled by Canadians.
