Arrest of Two Englishmen in Germany for Spying on Fortifications Revives the War Scare—Speculation as to Holland's Attitude. London, Sept. 9.—Out of the arrest of two Englishmen, Brandon and Trench, on suspicion of espionage in Germany, there springs a recrudescence of the talk about Teutonic invasion of this country. Had it not been that the present is a holiday time it is more than likely that the new evidence which has been given to the warlike preparations across the North sea would have caused a deeper reaching scare than any of the preceding ones.

SHOT AT PIERRE, S.D.

Report That Miller, Wanted for Murder Near Moose Jaw, Was Killed. Moose Jaw, Sept. 9.—A report was received here today that Miller, the man wanted for the murder of Ed. Beale in the Blue Hill district, in June last, had been shot by the sheriff at Pierre, South Dakota. The dispatch from Pierre says that a man killed closely resembling Miller in weight, height, probable age, besides face scar. However, the dead man has been secured which would indicate that he had worn shackles at some time. Describing the events leading up to the fatal shooting the dispatch says the small man, when called upon to submit to arrest for begging and annoying women, started to run and when closely pressed turned to attack the sheriff. A mounted policeman was on his way to Pierre to identify the body if possible.
