A Different Opinion.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I read and smiled at a letter from the pen of Mr. S. E. Garland, headed "Eat More Whole Meal," under date of 9th inst.

Mr. Garland first deals with brown sugar diverted to some other part of the world instead of coming to Newfoundland as intended. Seems that Mr. Garland was sorry that such a thing happened. As to brown sugar personally I have no dislike whatever, but if the said gentleman had to sell 1 lb. of white and 1 lb. of brown sugar to his customers he may have a different view on the matter. Probably Mr. Garland may use it himself, but a great many of the majority of fishermen strongly objected to using it all, but the law was such that we had to sell so much of each, but it was quite a job to get rid of same.

As to Standard Flour I have no objection to same personally. At first it sold fairly well but when the substitutes had to be added to it and forty-nine pounds to every barrel it then became quite different.

Probably Mr. Garland had the chance to get white flour as a great many did. Then it would be all right to add the full amount of substitutes, but I think if Mr. Garland had to use the Standard Flour with the full amount of substitutes he would tell a different story.

When at St. John's last winter several people said (when talking about substitutes) that the people were very particular.

It may be very well for the people of a city to talk about the people of the outports re substitutes, etc., but the fact is the people of the outports have not the chance to obtain fresh beef, mutton and all the other extras that the people of St. John's have. Bread—whether it be whole meal or whatever it may be—forms but a small portion of a meal for the majority of city folk, but if the chief article of a meal is bread, as is very often the case with a great many people here, I think all would like for it to be as good as could be obtained. A great many city folk will say, as well as outport people, that they have had white flour all the time, while others have had Standard for a whole year. Let any man use Ogilvie's Standard, adding the amount of substitutes required by law, then I think he will be glad once more to get a slice or two of the bread that he was always accustomed to eat.

Another thing re substitutes is that people of the outports generally take enough flour to last until the summer or perhaps for the whole year.

Since Feb. 1st substitutes are not required by law to be used. What about all the substitutes lying around since then that a great many people were obliged to have. I hardly see what will be done with same.

Hoping Mr. Editor, I have not trespassed too much on your valuable space I will conclude by again saying what a man just said to me that he would like for some people to be tied to it for a year doing hard labour. Then I think they would have a different opinion.

Yours truly,
 JACOB GARLAND.

The Garden Campaign.

Dear Girls and Boys,—The season has been so backward that the date for entries in the Garden Competitions has been extended to June 20th.

To-day we would like to speak a little about Window-Boxes and Climbing Plants.

A handy man can easily make the boxes at home from old crates or boxes. They can be from six to nine inches wide and as long as the sill. Holes must be made in the bottom to allow the water to escape freely. Give the box a coat or two of green paint to preserve the wood, and do not put in the earth until the paint is thoroughly dry. Good drainage must be provided by first putting in a layer of clean pebbles.

Many ordinary house-plants, such as geraniums, will thrive well in window-boxes. Pansies and daisies, if roots can be procured, make an effective showing, and given a little attention will bloom throughout the season.

The lovely ferns, which are so abundant in our woods, make most attractive plants for window-boxes. They are easily obtained, grow readily, need little care, and can be renewed if necessary.

Think how much prettier our streets would look if each house had even one window-box to brighten it. Come, everyone, big and small, begin to-day to prepare your window-box. The effort will be well worth while, for plants and flowers when loved are assuredly potent educators and exert a wholesome influence on the community.

Ugly bare walls and fences are so easily hidden, that it can only be indifference to them, or lack of knowledge of how to treat them, or want of sympathy with things beautiful that leaves their unsightliness an eyesore to be endured. For almost any wall is a canvas upon which a picture can be painted in living colours with living flowers. A good way is to plant Runner Beans or tall Convolvulus at the foot and train them to the top, by means of strings six inches apart, fastened to the top and the bottom of the fence. Up this the climbers quickly run. Hops are wonderful growers.

And the Worst is Yet to Come—

A Marine Disaster.

ONE MAN DROWNED.

On Saturday afternoon, Captain Joseph Johnson and five members of the crew of the schooner Albert J. Lutz, arrived in town from Renewa, which place they had reached that morning, after their ship had capsized in a squall of wind and gone down, taking one of the crew, the cook, with her. The schooner left Sydney on Tuesday with a load of coal for P. Templeman and was bound to Catalina. Fine weather was experienced, and up to the time of the disaster, the ship was running by the wind in a moderate breeze with smooth sea.

At one o'clock Saturday morning, without the slightest warning, a heavy squall of wind struck the ship and threw her on her beam ends. The captain and two of the crew were on deck at the time, the former was aft at the wheel, and was able to hang on, but the others were thrown into the water. With great presence of mind, the mate, Thomas Chalk, grasped the dory which floated up from the deck and cut it loose, otherwise all would have been lost. The two men who were in the fore-castle were aroused but it was impossible to render them any assistance, as the entrance to the fore-castle was almost entirely under water.

After many efforts, one of the men, Charles King, miraculously succeeded in forcing his way up through the rushing sea, but the cook, William L. Johnson, cousin of the Captain, a man of 52 years of age, was unequal to the task and went down with the vessel which sunk just a minute or two after the others had boarded the dory. The men found themselves without oars and were at the time about 6 miles south east of Cape Broyle, but with the use of the thwarts which they used as paddles and with the help of the wind however they succeeded in making Renewa at about 5 o'clock in the morning, where they were looked after and subsequently brought on shore. William Johnson, who was drowned was a married man and his widow survives him. He belonged to Catalina. The Albert J. Lutz was a ship of 95 tons and owned by Captain Johnson. The names of the crew besides those mentioned were Azariah Tippet and Fred King.

CHAFE—PACK.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. Canon Hewitt, in St. Andrew's Church, Petty Harbor, on Wednesday, June 4th, when Mr. Harry Pack, of Bay Bulls, led to the altar Miss Flora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chafe of Petty Harbor. The bride wore a pretty dress of white silk with hat to match, and was attended by Miss Lucy Pack (sister of the groom) who wore a dress of blue silk. The groom was supported by Mr. W. Chafe, brother of the bride. After the ceremony was performed the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's parents where a reception was held which was participated in by the immediate relatives and friends of the family. After the reception the newly-wedded pair drove to Bay Bulls, their future home. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Pack many years of happiness.

The Majestic.

A big week-opening bill is arranged for to-night at the above theatre. The B. S. Moss Productions presents that startling love romance entitled "One Day," with an all-star caste.

The Majestic orchestra has now added a new feature, that of Mr. David Swedlin, late of the Boston Conservatory of Music, who will be the violinist, and he is some violinist. Just hear him play. Mr. John O'Reilly will be heard in a new song to-night accompanied by the orchestra. Prof. F. J. King, Mr. David Swedlin and Mr. J. F. Ross.

A floor-lighting system has been installed in the balcony. There is a light in each step over which is placed a heavy plate glass on a level with the floor. These floor lights are similar to those used in the large American theatres, and the Majestic is the first theatre in St. John's to have them. The screen has been set back six feet, so that the people sitting in the front rows will have as good a view of the pictures as the people in the back of the hall. These improvements will enhance the value of the Majestic as the Queen of Cinema Theatres.

Shipping News.

The S. S. Sachem left Halifax at 5.30 yesterday morning, coming to this port.

The barge, Geopie, which has been undergoing repairs at Baird's wharf is now ready for cargo, and will load codfish for James Baird Ltd.

The S. S. Seal is expected to leave Halifax to-day for here with general cargo.

The S. S. Adolph arrived here yesterday with full general cargo, after a run of two and a half days from Halifax.

The schooner Mark H. Grey has cleared from Burin for Lisbon, with a cargo of codfish from Inkpen and Bishop.

WHY WOMAN'S NATURE IS MISUNDERSTOOD

In a book on feminist matters I came across an interesting hypothesis the other day, —that the true nature of woman is entirely misunderstood because for centuries a most everything written about woman was written by men.

I like this idea. It explains so many things. The familiar contention, for example, that women are greater talkers than men. They may be among themselves (though I have my doubts about that) but put a man and a woman together and who does most of the talking. Doesn't the man lecture on that great topic, himself, while the woman listens? (The Authoress who has been looking over my shoulder wishes to differ with me at this point. He says the woman may listen before marriage but she makes up for it afterwards.)

Many Men Love To Say "I Told You So."

Then there is the thoroughly masculine assumption that women say "I told you so" and men never do. I believe I have tilted at this theory before. Men hate to be proved wrong and when events have proved them wrong, to have a woman say "I told you so" is simply not to prevent it by branding those words as a peculiarly feminine and objectionable trick. It has been my experience that men say "I told you so" just as much as women; perhaps more, because there isn't any sex tradition to frighten them away from it.

What Is Your Experience?

Then there is the thoroughly masculine theory that women have no sense of humor. I have met women who had no sense of humor and I've met men who had no sense of humor (just as I've met women who weren't fit to vote and men who weren't fit to vote), and I've met men with a keen sense of humor and women with an equally keen sense. And I can't see that there are any more of one than the other. Can you?
