THE EVENING TELEGRAM

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, LIMITED, PROPRIETORS.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Wednesday, March 28, 1923.

THE DOLEFUL MAIL.

The Mail waited dolefully on Monday in a four column article, which purported being a reply to certain comments made by the Telegram some days ago, on the rewards received by Sir M. G. Winter, Hon. Eli Dawe and Magistrate G. T. Carty for the certificate of character given Hon. W. F. Coaker by these three gentlemen, which was so generously featured by the Advocate in more than one issue of that paper. The Mail asserts that our fair comment was a personal attack, and that we maligned these gentlemen, who so obligingly signed the certificate referred to. Was it merely coincidence that these were the three who were rewarded with titles and honors and emoluments? Or was it but one of the peculiarities of politics that these gentlemen being the three who sat on the Commission that vindicated Mr. Coaker, according to the Advocate, that they should have had such honors thrust upon them, as it were? The affiliation of ideas is strange, but not more strange than some of the things that have been done and concealed underneath the cloak of expediency. Contrary to the Mail's rambling declarations, the Telegram made no attack on either of these three good-natured souls. We but made a statement of a simple fact, or as it happened, a trio of them. No one will deny the appointments to office of Messrs. Winter, Dawe and Carty. They have them, they fill them, and whatever accrues in the way of emoluments is not refused. Where then does the complimentary references of the Mail, as applied to the Telegram, dovetail? In a search for "Literary Thugs," detectives need not go further than the office of the Mail.

THAT "DEAR FRIEND" LETTER.

Perhaps one of the most singular and striking letters ever penned by Mr. W. F. Coaker in the course of his long and difficult career, is that which we publish in another column to-day, with headlines and text exactly as taken from the copy of a pamphlet received, one of thousands sent broadcast to Councils of the Fishermen's Protective Union. The reading of that most entrancing document will, perhaps, be the best method of comment on its contents. Just what "Dear Friend" Jim said when he received and read that letter, written by the President's own hand and in true characteristic style, deponent sayeth not. But it has become manifest that he thought it too good a thing to keep from the public. Mr. Coaker makes an appeal for the Humber, in which, he says he has put his life's work. What about the Union? Wasn't that his life's work too, according to himself? As the days go on the number of men to be employed in that direction increases by thousands. Ere polling day comes, the whole population will have been promised employment. In that event what is to become of the fisheries? Will imported men be necessary to engage in their prosecution? There has been a whole heap of ludicrous as well as ridiculous matter written by Mr. Coaker since he started circulating his "Dear Friends," but this latter one takes the palm for absurdities and half truths. The Humber, apparently is submitted as being the El Dorado of Newfoundland. Everything must be made subservient to its operation. That the Humber, properly legislated upon, and the measure placed in the hands of a new Government, will have its own valuable effect on the future progress and prosperity of Newfoundland, not a man of common sense doubts. But legislation upon it must be of such a nature that the Colony will not be made to suffer.

A SKELETON DEPARTMENT.

In his "Dear Friend Jim" Letter, Mr. Coaker directs the attention of that gentleman to the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and calls for a special scrutiny of the manner in which that Department has been skeletonized since his administration of affairs as head thereof. "It now," he writes, "costs three hundred thousand dollars, only enough to pay light keepers and run lighthouses. I made it a skeleton, in order to be able to demand that other Ministers cut down expenses." For a skeleton department, the Marine and Fisheries is a pretty healthy specimen. There is plenty of pecuniary flesh still remaining on its bones, which, by the way, cannot have been articulated by Mr. Coaker in the way he implies. From the estimates passed by the House of Assembly, it is set down that the sum voted for Marine and Fisheries Service is $320,691. Of this amount $108,844.00 are allocated as follows:—

Salaries to Officials	$37,426
Contingencies	6,500
Protection	33,000
General Expenses	10,935
Harbor Improvement	17,000
Block House	2,016
Noon Gun	967
Travelling Expenses	1,000

thus leaving $211,847 to be expended on account of lighthouses and keepers. If the three hundred thousand dollars, as shown by the writer of that famous letter, is but enough to pay salaries of keepers and maintenance of lighthouses, then neither the keepers are receiving an adequate wage, nor are the lighthouses being adequately maintained. For taking the figures of the Estimates, slightly over two-thirds of the sum named by Mr. Coaker is voted for these purposes, the total on all accounts being $211,847.00. In addition to the expenditure already shown, there must be considered the Ministerial salary of Four thousand dollars per annum, which Mr. Coaker doubtless drew, and for which some of his opponents say, he did not render continuous service. However, as that gentleman conveniently forgot to mention this little matter to "dear friend Jim," we merely suggest to him not to omit it from the next one he indites to the same person. Figures, as is well known, have a distinctive knack of coming back in judgment of any and every person who uses them with mathematical inaccuracy.

VESSELS ALL REPORTED.—Cape Race Radio Station has advised the Minister of Shipping that as all the schooners, which were supposed to be held in the ice off the coast have been accounted for, broadcasting will now be discontinued in this connection.

SENEY REPORTED.—S. S. Sene left Port Union this morning on her way to Wexleyville, but returned again at 11 o'clock owing to the prevailing ice conditions.

St. John's East Campaign

PRELIMINARY COMMITTEE MEETING.

St. John's East Liberal-Labor Committee met in full strength last night in the C.C.C. Hall, when the preliminary work in connection with the campaign was discussed and splendid speeches were given by the candidates, Higgins, Fox, and Vialombe. Among the visitors present was Mr. John Roberts, the well known business man of Chagres Islands. Mr. Roberts brought very encouraging news from the North. He stated that the people were beginning to realize that the overburdening taxation had made the fishery unprofitable, hence the difficulty with supplies. Mr. Roberts, who was listened to with close attention, gave it as his opinion that Mr. Joseph-Louis would be returned for Fogo District. Other speakers, who gave splendid addresses, were Messrs. George F. Kearney, William Collins, Arthur English, and George R. Parsons. The tenor of the speeches was that Newfoundland must be made a fit place to live in. We were being taxed beyond our earning power, and already the grass was beginning to grow on Water Street, where several firms had closed their doors. Unemployment was rife, our best manhood was leaving the country, and it was time the people had a say in running the country. Following the popular demonstration of Monday night, last night's gathering made the assurance doubly sure that Higgins, Fox and Vialombe will roll up greater majorities than in 1919.

"Officer, He's at it Again!"

PREMIER AND DR. CAMPBELL HAVE A LITTLE SEAT.

A weary fifty attended the meeting of the Government Candidates in the West End on Monday night. The majority of those present were shopkeepers and others who are well paid with government orders for supplies to fight the cause of the Premier and his colleagues. By an arrangement with Hon. M. P. Gibbs and Chairman Ruby, Mr. James Gibbs was one of the first on the scene to address the meeting, and according to our informant he was a "washout," a fact which is not surprising. The interesting part of the proceedings was when Sir Richard and Dr. Campbell arrived upon learning who the speaker was the doctor flew into a rage and became very angry. Sir Richard endeavored to console him by telling him it would be forgotten in a day or two, but all to no purpose. The doctor continued to express his disgust in no uncertain manner. "Who invited him to speak?" said the Premier's colleague, "why the very name of Gibbs with us is enough to ruin us. Tell him to stop. I won't stay if he is allowed to speak," and so on, the doctor berated all and everyone who had anything to do with inviting the lad to the meeting. Sir Richard failed to pacify the doctor's anger who in disgust left the cooper-shop and jumped into a sleigh to be driven to his home where he tore his hair with rage and disgust, calling out the name of Gibbs, Gibbs, Gibbs so pantically that it was only the early arrival of the Premier which restored him to normal. To-day the doctor is apologizing for the indiscreet conduct on the part of the chairman and the leader of the ticket who agreed to the wishes of the suggestor and his son, for the latter to address and endorse the Government candidates.

Methodist College Exhibition.

OPENS THIS EVENING.

The exhibition of pupils' work which commences at the Methodist College Hall this afternoon will continue until 10.30 to-night. The work on exhibit has been prepared by the pupils, beginning at the kindergarten and up to the Associate classes. The exhibits represent paper and plastic modelling, knitting, plain and fancy sewing, crochets, work, candles, drawings, paintings, woodwork and various hobbies. These forms of work show the peculiar tendencies and capabilities of the pupils. Radio concerts of twenty minutes' duration will be given at 4.30, 8.30, and 9.30. This will be the first time that an indoor public gathering in Newfoundland has had the pleasure of "listening in" to a concert of this kind.

Day by day
In every way
The people say
The Government's stock
Is falling and falling.
Congratulations to Chairman Gould and Secretary Brophy on the meetings of Monday and last night.
The Government succeeded in landing three "whitehops" for St. John's East who will be announced to-day.
Three "Bees" almost too funny for words.
The "B's" St. John's West are going to have, are Bennett Better Business.
Even the strongest supporters of Squires are disgusted.

Coaker and Squires are in a sad plight to fill Ferryland, Mr. Grace, Mr. Main, Carbonate, Port de Grave and Bay de Verde.
TO REWOP.
Oh, Bobby dear, I hear you fear,
The news you hear around;
When selling onions, starch and soap
And crabs by the pound.

You're told by every decent man,
Your Coakerites are done;
And that no voter now on them
Will bet one penny-loon.

So Bobby dear, keep on your hair,
Drop writing Coaker dope;
And stick to selling your crabs,
Your onions, starch and soap.

Conception Bay will elect nine M. H.A.'s as supporters of the BENNETT Government. So say the people all over the Bay, and so say the SQUIRES-COAKER emissaries, who have been around there taking soundings.

St. Barbe is now put in the doubtful column by the Squires forecasters. A sure indication that this district is finished with Coakerism.

The snow storms we have had so frequently since the dissolution are an omen of the avalanche of ballots which will overwhelm the Coaker menace in the elections.

All the Squires candidates have strict orders not to mention Coaker in any of their campaign speeches. The first man caught disobeying this order will be given the "hook" and taken off the ticket altogether.

GALLAGHER & SHEAN.
Oh! Mr. Gallagher! Oh! Mr. Gallagher!
Have you heard that Ambrose is coming out.
On the good old Southern Shore
To face Peter and Phil Moore,
And he says he'll give them an awful bout.

Now! Mr. Shean! Now! Mr. Shean!
I fail to know exactly what you mean
For Ambrose's weight's too light.
To put up a decent fight.
So 'tis Cashin & Moore, Mr. Gallagher!
Absolutely, Mister Shean.

Yes, Bennett Knows His Own Mind.

SQUIRES' ORGAN INDULGES IN LOWEST FORM OF DECEIT.

The Daily Mail prints continually an article under the caption "DOES HE EVER KNOW HIS OWN MIND?" The lowest form of journalistic deception is that of deliberately excluding part of a person's statement to give the remark a totally different meaning. The following is taken from Mr. Bennett's remarks on the Fisheries Regulations in the House of Assembly:—"This clause alters the whole situation considerably and takes into account the suggestions that have been offered from this side of the House. For that reason, Sir, I withdraw my objections to the Regulations. Although there are still several clauses that are highly objectionable, but on the shoulders of the Government is the responsibility."

Squires' paper DOES NOT publish the words in black and white. For unprincipled deceit, this cannot be beaten! The Mail also refrains from quoting Mr. Bennett a few days later on this side of the House discussed the Regulations fully and criticised them. While the leader of the Opposition practically endorsed them, there were sections which neither he nor anyone else on this side were in favor of. We knew, however, that the Government to put the resolutions through, no matter what objections were raised, and that it would be futile for us to argue the thing further, but we did succeed in having an amendment moved, I think, by Mr. Fox, added, and when that was accomplished we felt that something had been done to improve the resolutions because it gave the Exporters a chance to consult with the exportation board before any definite action was decided upon in the autumn. I want to put myself on record that I do NOT agree with the Regulations in their entirety. I agree that regulations of some kind are necessary, and I agree with some of the sections, but I don't want it to be understood that in voting for these Regulations that I endorsed them in their entirety."

It was largely due to the rampant dishonesty, discrimination and inefficiency in the enforcement of the Regulations that caused the ruin and disaster to Newfoundland. Coaker's action was pronounced illegal by the Supreme Court and he called on the discarded War Measures Act to support the nefarious designs.

Yes, Mr. Mail, Bennett knows his own mind alright—and spoke it. And it is MEN LIKE BENNETT the country wants. What's more—and you know it, Mr. Mail—it is BENNETT the country is going to have.

Sealing News.

MEN WALKED TO SEALS YESTERDAY.

Very little was done by the sealing steamers on the northern front yesterday owing to the ships being jammed. The crews of the Thetis and Terra Nova had to work several miles to work the patch, but were unable to haul their tow to the ships owing to a snow storm and Northwest gale, which blew up during the day. Judging by Capt. Winsor's position in the Thetis, the ships are now well south, and it is very rarely that the seals are found in this direction. The Thetis gives her position as 206 miles S.E. by E. of Cape Spear. Captain Arthur Jackson in his last trip to the icefields found the Eagle in practically the same position as reported above. The following messages were received last night:—

BOWRING BROS.

Sagena, (Tuesday p.m.)—Ice tight. Ship jammed.
Eagle, (Tuesday p.m.)—Blowing N.W. gale, ice tight. Ship jammed, made 13 miles to-day.

Terra Nova, (Tuesday p.m.)—Crew walked to seals to-day. Killed and packed 2,500. Ice tight. Ship jammed.

Viking, (Tuesday p.m.)—Took first family hood, scattered whitecoats, weather fine and clear.
The Ranger has not reported for two days.

JOB BROS. & CO.

Thetis, (Tuesday p.m.)—Position 206 miles S.E. by E. of Cape Spear. Men walked seven miles to-day. Struck patch seals, met bad weather and had to retreat. Jammed all day.

Septima, (Tuesday p.m.)—Killed and packed yesterday 2,000. Killed and packed today 1,600. Estimate on board 6,000; on ice 4,000. Young harps average 52 lbs. Very stormy to-day, snow squalls, ice tight, ship jammed. Men hauling seals to ship.

RAINE JOHNSTON & CO.

Seal, (Wednesday)—Ice very heavy and light, practically jammed all day. Prospects good when ice opens. Hauling yesterday's seals.

Sagena 7,500
