Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson and Party at the Car Shops.

Highly Delighted With the Company's New Buildings.

An Interview With Sir Charles - The Party Take a Trip to Springbank.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, presilent of the Grand Trunk Railway, and party arrived in the city about 11:30 a.m. today on their special train. They spent last night, at Guelph, and this morning, en route to London.

Charles and party were met by Mr. Wm. McWood, superintendent of the local car department, who escorted them through the buildings. The visiting company comprised:

The trains pulled into the East End yards at the car shops, where Sir

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson and Lady George M. Hays, general manager. W. McGuigan, general superintend-forman, of London, Eng. Joseph Hobson, chief engineer. F. W. Morse, superintendent of E. Fitzhugh, divisional superintend-Mayor Little subsequently joined Sir Charles and Lady Wilson.

The visitors were piloted through every department of the immense building, and the president was highly delighted with all he saw. He personally congratulated Mr. McWood. When he visited—London a year ago only the crumbling walls of the old shops stood where now the handsome new pile is erected.

MAD DOG SCARE. Kilworth People Worked Up-Several

Valuable Cattle and Canines Bitten. People in the vicinity of Kilworth were worked up into a high state of excitement last evening by the appearance, shortly before midnight, of a medium-sized dog of the black-and-tan breed, supposed to be mad, that evinced a disposition to attack everything canine that came in its way. Several dogs were bitten. The pugnacious brute also attacked and bit a number of cattle. Several attempts were made to shoot the dog last night, but only succeeded in wounding him. Early this morning two men started out after the animal and killed him about daylight. The dog wore a collar and carried two city tags. One of the dogs that was bitten by the in-truder was shot last night and the ther will be dispatched today.

> COULDN'T FOOL HIM. An old farmer was in a merchant's office, and asked if he could supply some fresh butter. The merchant told him he would inquire if his wife needed any. So he stepped to the tele-phone, called her up and talked a few seconds through the telephone. Then, turning to the countryman, who was standing with his hands in his pockets, his eyes stretched and his fact very red, he told him that his wife said that she would not need any butter. The indignant countryman blurted out: "Look here, mister, it you didn't want any butter, why didn't you say so? I ain't such a fool as to think that you've got your wife shut up in that little box!" and he went, leaving the merchant speechless.
