He was much impressed with the appearances of the Armories, and said that the building was one of the largest and best equipped in America. In order that Canada might be prepared to defend her great extent of borders against marauders, it was absolutely necessary that the volunteer militia should be maintained in a high state of effi-ciency. This was the end with which the Armories were erected, and his lordship hoped that it would be carried out to the fullest extent. He was delighted at the opportunity of renewing his friendship with such veterans as Sir John Carling and others. He then urged all young men present to become members of one or other of the local militia corps and thus do their share in keeping up a reserve force to defend the country. Con-cluding, his lordship said: "I have

DEATH OF MR. JOHN H. GINGE

Prominent Businessman Passes Away After an Illness of Some Months.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of one of London's most prominent businessmen-Mr. John H. Ginge, manager of the Canadian Packing Company. For some months, Mr. Ginge's health has been poor, and last fall he took a trip to Europe in the hope of bettering his condition. In this he failed, however, for he returned somewhat worse than when he left London. For the past two months he found it necessary to remain indoors the greater part of the time, but about four weeks ago he appeared to be improved and gave a dinner at the London Club to a large company of friends. This was his last appearance in public in London, A few ays ago his illness became acute and leath resulted on Wednesday. The deceased was a man in the prime of life, of splendid physique, genial and gentlemanly. About eleven years ago he came to London from Denmark, and established at Pottersburg the large factory known as the Canadian Packing Company, This concern, under Mr. Ginge's guidance, flourished, from year to year until now it is one of the largest of its kinds in the country, Mr. Ginge was always ready to perform a kindly ct, was a man of high ideals, and was in all respects a model citizen and a credit to the Danish people. He is survived by a widow and two children, Margaret and Jack. The funeral will be held Friday, and will be of a pri-
