from Dieppe says: "A German girl spy was arrested yes terday by English soldiers on the bridge over the Oise River at LaCroix. In her possession were the plans of all the roads and bridges around Paris.

She looked to be not more than 17 years old. "A German spy dressed in an English uniform was caught the same day and shot immediately by an English officer, because he made a gesture as if to take something out of his pocket instead of obeying an order to throw up his hands." John Montgomery, charged with being a vagrant, was found last night sleeping at the gas plant in South London. He stated he was from Chicago. That made no difference to the magistrate, however. He was assessed $5 or 10 days.
