Whether living in their own houses or refugees whose houses in the fighting zone have been demolished by shells, the French people in the rear of the British front have not had many afternoons off either. With the crops all in and the wheat ripening, word came that strange pic-turesque mortals from somewhere be-yond the Arabian Nights' country, known as the British Indian troops, who had been refrigerating through Flanders winter in French barns and outbuildings, were going to give an exhibition of horsemanship.

There French guns, hundreds of French guns, were busy tearing away at the German works known as :"The Labyrinth". KING OF BELGIANS USBORNE METHODISTS CELEBRATE 50TH YEAR

On Sunday the congregation of Zion Church, Usborne, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary and Monday a picnic was held on the public school grounds. The Sunday services were taken by two of the pioneer preachers, in the morning by Rev. Mr. Quance of Bryon and in the evening by Rev. Mr. Veal of Lambeth. Mr. Veal was the young man on that station forty-two years ago, Mr. Quance coming a few years after. The church at the time it was open belonged to the Bible Christians, and at the time of the union joined with the Methodists.

There are very few of the pioneers left. There were large crowds to hear both ministers on Sunday and also a large number attended the picnic on Monday. There were addresses given by Bros. Veal, Quance, Holms and McAllister. Solos were given by Messrs. Mills of Woodham and Saul of Kirkton; violin solo by Mr. Skinner of Elimville and singing by the Centralia Quartet. On Sunday the music was led by the Granton choir. The proceeds amounted to about $180.

It had been turned into a farmer's pasture field, while an old buggy was found nearby in a bush. The light wagon hired with the upper Fecht. Charles Jenkins of Petrolea Says He Is Bitterly Op. posed to Act.

"I don't think the Government has any moral quality to commend itself, if you get down to the moral point of view," said Charles Jenkins of Petrolea yessaid Charles Jenkins of Petrolea yesterday afternoon, in a discussion following an amendment to the report of the moral and social reform committee's report, which was to the effect that the Synod of Huron express its appreciation to the Government in enforcing the dry canteen. The amendment lost, but it caused a great deal of discussion on the evils and benefits of abstinence, as seen by the different members, lay and clergy, of the diocese.

Canon Craig, who seconded the amendment which Matthew Wilson, Chatham, entered, took exception to the words of Mr. Jenkins, and said it was his personal conviction that the liquor traffic should be tied up as tight as it was possible to tie it, and that this conviction was growing within him more and more.

Mr. Jenkins assured the canon that, in his mind, the act of the Government in discriminating against the soldiers was an uncalled for act of injustice, and he, for one, was bitterly opposed to it.

Matthew Wilson, Chatham, stated that the Province of Ontario had legislation along temperance lines far in advance of any other province in Canada, and he thought that the Government's action in causing the dry canteen to be put into force was commendable.
