59TH YEAR. NO. 23372

LONDON, ONTARIO, MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 26, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

SEES LONDON'S POPULATION 92,000 IN 1930

Completes London West $520,000 Sewer System

CITY ENGINEER ANNOUNCES END OF CIVIC WORK

Plares Residents Can Now Connect Homes To Sewers.

MUST OBTAIN PERMIT

To Prepare Bylaw Prohibiting Drainage of Water From Roofs.

Connecting the pumping station at Douglas and Cavendish streets with the pipes leading from streets in the district, city workmen Saturday afternoon completed the new sanitary sewer system of London West, constructed at an estimated cost of $520,000.

This fact was announced by City Engineer H. A. Brazier Monday morning, who stated that residents of London West may immediately proceed to connect their homes with the sewers fronting them. He warns them, however, that before such action can be taken a permit must be obtained from the plumbing inspector.

Will Serve Every Street. Work on the London West sanitary sewer system, which will serve every street in that district, except those on the city limits, where one side is in the township, and three streets on the Cove flats, which have not been built upon, was begun last summer.

According to the engineer's plans, the system should have been completed about ten days ago, but heavy rains prevented the workmen from laying a 27-inch pipe connecting the pumping station with the main system.

This connection, approximately 110 feet in length, was completed Saturday afternoon, and the pumps at the station, which are electrically driven, have been in working order for several days. They will pump the sewage across the River Thames to the main disposal plant, and they are four in number.

A bylaw will be prepared prohibiting any water from roofs or yards being emptied into the new system, as it is strictly sanitary in function, according to the city engineer. The new station is ready to take all the sewage from London West.

In addition to serving West London, the new sewer system will also serve Thames street, and a portion of South London, via a pipe which crosses the River Thames at Dundas street. This section of the system has not been completed, but will not interfere with the main system.

To Drain Water. Beneath the 27-inch tile connecting up the system with the pumping station, it was necessary to lay a six-inch tile to drain the water encountered by the workmen in digging the deep trench for the pipes. The presence of this water became a menace a few days ago, when heavy rains filled the trench and necessitated operation of the pumps at the station to drain it off.

However, this difficulty has been overcome, and the first complete sanitary sewers system for West London became a reality on completion Saturday afternoon.

Guard Kills Veteran In Error For Escaped Convict

MONCTON, N. B., June 26.—William Fitzpatrick, aged 30, was shot and instantly killed about 1 o'clock Sunday morning at Port Elgin in mistake for an escaped convict named William McLean from the Dorchester Penitentiary. The shooting was done by Guard Frank A. Dobson of the penitentiary staff, who had been specially dispatched to Port Elgin Saturday in response to a message that a man resembling the escaped convict had been seen near Port Elgin.

After hearing evidence, a coroner's jury exonerated the guard. The dead man was a returned soldier, being a member of the New Brunswick 26th.

Fears Former Kaiser May Return To Germany

LONDON, June 26.—Apprehension exists in Holland lest Former Kaiser William attempt to slip away from Doorn and re-enter Germany in the event of a royalist rising following the assassination of Foreign Minister Rathenau, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail at The Hague.

The writer, however, quotes J. B. Kan, secretary of the Dutch home office, as saying that such apprehension is groundless.

LIBERAL CHIEF DENIES UNION

Hay Brands Stories of Alliance With Farmers' "Pipe Dreams."

Hon. Peter Smith Also Declares He Knows Nothing of Amalgamation.

Toronto, June 26.—Ottawa stories to the effect that Premier Drury contemplated some sort of alliance with the Liberals in the Legislature may have some foundation, but it was difficult today to find anyone who would give confirmation of them.

Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, and Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, characterized the stories as "pipe dreams" and "fantastic."

Wellington Hay, Liberal leader, who, according to the Ottawa dispatches, was to have one of the principal portfolios in the new coalition, stated by long distance telephone from Listowel that "I have never been approached and know nothing about it. You cannot make that too strong so far as I am concerned," he added.

"Have you heard that five Liberals may accept cabinet positions?" he was asked. "It's very interesting," he replied, "but so far as I am aware it is nothing more than gossip."

Hon. Peter Smith, who is thought to be the gentleman referred to in an Ottawa story which speaks of "an emissary of the Ontario premier" being in the capital within the last two weeks, said he was in Ottawa, but only for an hour and a half; "Just passed through on my way to Renfrew County," he said, "I never heard of any proposed amalgamation. It's just a pipe dream."

CHURCHILL ASKS FOR FULL DEBATE ON IRISH AFFAIRS

Makes Promised Statement Before Commons Monday Afternoon.

LONDON, June 26.—Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies, rising to make his promised statement on Irish affairs in the House of Commons this afternoon, said the government desired the freest and fullest debate, and one that could be determined by a division.

Mr. Churchill declared he did not hesitate to say that all the horrors that had occurred in Belfast were due to the organization in northern territory of two divisions of the Irish Republican Army, and the continuous efforts by extreme partisans of the south to break down the Ulster Government and force Ulster against her will to come under the rule of Dublin.

STOPS TRAIN TO SAVE AUTOMOBILE

Because he failed to recognize the right of a mere railway crossing gate, of slender proportions, to stop his progress, a man, giving his name as Pardee, believed to be from out of town, narrowly escaped a bad smash with a G. T. R. passenger train at Adelaide street Saturday afternoon.

For some reason the man failed to stop his car when the south-east gate was lowered. Crashing through the obstruction he drove onto the tracks and then stopped his car immediately in the pathway of a train approaching from the east.

Unable to start the car in time, he jumped from the seat and ran towards the train, excitedly waving his arms. Fortunately the engineer had his train under control and was able to bring it to a stop before the locomotive reached the stalled car.

MULTITUDES MOURN AS WILSON IS LAID AT REST IN ST. PAUL'S

In Far Corners of British Empire Minute Guns Sound, While Old London Bows Bared Heads As Funeral Passes in Drizzly Rain On Way to Hero's Grave—Verdict of Wilful Murder Brought Against Assassins By Coroner's Jury.

LONDON, June 26.—Londoners by the hundreds of thousands left their homes early today to pay tribute to the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson at the funeral services held for the late military chieftain, victim of the bullets of assassins.

For hours they stood patiently in line in a drizzling rain to watch the solemn procession making its way to the sound of muffled drums from the field marshal's late home in Eaton Place to St. Paul's Cathedral. The entire three-mile route was choked with spectators, and all traffic was at a complete standstill.

St. Paul's Square had never held so many people since the funeral of King Edward in 1910, while outside Sir Henry's home as the procession started a great multitude had assembled, former officers and soldiers being conspicuous amongst them. The throng stood with bared heads as the cortege formed and passed on toward the cathedral.

Throughout the city all flags were half-masted, and many offices and shops were closed to permit employees to witness the imposing ceremonial. Throughout the Empire, also, the day was one of national mourning, even from far-off New Zealand coming word that minute guns would be fired during the funeral and all flags half-masted. In Northern Ireland, the home of the slain soldier, there were special manifestations of grief, and memorial services were held in most of the churches.

The scenes in London contrasted with those of a week ago when the city rang with the cheers of the multitudes welcoming home the Prince of Wales. Today was sombre with the thud of muffled drums and the crunch of the feet of slow-moving troops on the gravelled pavements as they marched beneath a drizzling rain. The past throngs of the populace who stood with heads bared and bowed in tribute to the murdered soldier.

From the bullet-marked doorway in Eaton Place where he died, the body of the late field marshal was carried to its tomb beneath the great dome of St. Paul's where lie enshrined the bodies of Wellington, Nelson and others, who made British history on the battlefield and in the quarterdeck.

Coffin Draped in Flags. Thousands of cheering troops, horse and afoot, carried in front of the flag-covered coffin the draped colors of some of the regiments which the dead field marshal had captained to victory in the great war, while alongside the rumbling caisson marched five field marshals, five generals and the chiefs of the naval and air services, who acted as pallbearers.

In its wake a lone enlisted man led the field marshal's dapper charger, riderless and with stirrups reversed. Six officers in resplendent uniform bore the late field marshal's medals and decorations, and his baton on scarlet cushions.

Then marched the Duke of Connaught, turned to Page 9, Column 2.

PROPOSE REORGANIZATION OF POSTAL DEPARTMENT

London Authorities Advised of Contemplated Changes To Take Place Soon.

Reorganization in the London postoffice and postal department will take place within a month, according to word received by the local office.

The advice is to the effect that with the prorogation of Parliament, a reorganization similar to the one that occurred under the direction of the civil service commission last summer will be carried out.

When Parliament is in recess, opportunity will be given the ministers and heads of the departments of government to direct such a reorganization.

Immediately after this change has taken place, the long-delayed appointments in the local postoffice are expected to be made; or it is possible that the appointments may be made in conjunction with the reorganization.

COMMONS NEARS END OF SESSION. Ottawa, June 26.—(Canadian Press).—The railway rates reductions, according to notice given Saturday night, will come up in the House of Commons this afternoon. Notice to this effect was given by Hon. A. K. MacLean, who has been presiding over the committee sessions on this thorny subject.

The premier stated at the same time that the railway rate question was the only government business now on the paper of the House of Commons.

Mount Everest Baffles Effort of Man

LONDON, June 26.—Mount Everest has again baffled the best efforts of man. The Calcutta correspondent of the Daily Telegraph today confirms previous reports that Brig-Gen C. B. Bruce, head of the present expedition, has been forced to the conclusion that persistence in the effort to scale the peak would only result in useless tragedy.

Major H. T. Morshead was the worst sufferer from frost-bite. G. L. Mallory and another member of the party, also was badly bitten, and several others less severely.

SLAIN HERRIN MINERS BURIED

Protestant Ministers Commit Bodies to Earth in Potter's Field.

Coroner's Jury Holds "Unknown Persons" Responsible For Deaths.

Herrin, Ill., June 26.—Williamson County buried the dead in her latest mine war yesterday, conducted an inquest to determine the cause of their death, and today faced the responsibility of bringing the guilty to justice.

With not a single arrest made since the massacre of last Thursday, when at least nineteen men were killed, strike sympathizers turned the Lester mine, and with county officials making no visible effort to place the blame, the investigating is being done by state and federal agents.

Representatives of the department of justice, department of labor, the state attorney-general's office and the adjutant-general, are quietly delving into the cloak of secrecy which so far has surrounded the identity of the 5,000 men who marched from Herrin in broad daylight, took more than 50 unarmed men prisoners, marched them back down the road into a wood, and there killed nineteen and wounded nearly as many more.

Yesterday six men of Williamson County—three miners, an electrician and the superintendent of the Herrin waterworks—were solemnly inducted into the evidence of witnesses and returned their verdict.

They found, and so recorded, that C. K. McDowell, murdered superintendent of the Lester mine, killed a union miner on Wednesday, the day before the massacre. Of the other dead, nineteen in all, including two strikers, the jury found they came to their death by gunshot wounds inflicted by unknown persons.

Yesterday morning sixteen unknown dead, all non-union workers and guards at the Lester mine, were buried by the county in Potter's Field.

In plain caskets, were placed side by side on the parched grass, four Protestant ministers of Herrin conducting the brief burial service, while a hundred overall-clad miners and a dozen newspaper correspondents looked on. The ministerial quartet "Nearer, My God, to Thee," read a "salm," delivered a prayer, and committed the bodies to the earth.

No flowers graced the graves, but at the head of each the undertaker stuck a little metal sign, with a glass-covered card. On each card was a number and the date, "June 22, 1922." For each numbered card the undertaker preserved a description of the man buried beneath it, if relatives should appear to claim him.

"GRAND OLD MAN" OF LAKE ERIE DIES

Forty-eight years ago Mr. McIntyre became watchman on one of the company's boats. At his death he was one of the principal owners of the line.

FATHER BRADY RECEIVES HONOR FROM POPE PIUS

Pastor of St. Mary's Church Addressed as Monsignor.

HIS HOLINESS IS SPONSOR

Others of London Party Also Honored by Head of Church.

Rev. Father M. J. Brady, pastor of St. Mary's Church in this city, has had the title of Monsignor conferred upon him by Pope Pius XI, word to this effect reaching the city today.

Monsignor Vive Voce, as Father Brady is now known, is the first to receive the honor by word of mouth from the pope since he became head of the Roman Catholic Church.

The prevailing custom is to notify the recipient of any honor conferred by the Pope by wire or letter, but when Father Brady entered the presence of the Pope for his first audience he was addressed as Monsignor, thereby informing him that the title was being conferred upon him.

The Holy Father himself acted as sponsor. It was also learned today that Father Foley, who was one of the priests from London accompanying Father Brady to Europe, has been made Doctor of Divinity by His Holiness, and that another of the party has received the title of Monsignor.

Monsignor Vive Voce sailed to Rome a few weeks ago with Bishop M. F. Fallon, Father Foley, Father Forristal and Father Hanlan to attend the Eucharistic Congress in Rome. The party will sail for Canada from England, July 30.

The new Monsignor has been pastor of St. Mary's Church for about three years, coming to London from Wallaceburg to take the place of the late Monsignor P. J. Kennedy.

BRITISH PRESS DENOUNCES SLAYING OF DR. RATHENAU

Believes German Government Will Be Seriously Embarrassed by Loss of Minister.

LONDON, June 16.—Accounts of the assassination of the German foreign minister, Dr. Rathenau, fill the chief columns of the London newspapers this morning, and the crime is generally denounced with severe reprobation.

Its political significance is stressed in the editorial columns, and serious inferences are drawn. It is regarded as certain that the German government will be seriously embarrassed by the loss of its able foreign minister, while the evidence of a conspiracy against the republic is considered as affording ground for grave apprehension as to future events in Europe.

The Daily Mail declares the situation is not a matter for purely local concern, adding: "The Allies must see to it. The whole question of reparations is at stake."

The Morning Post urges France and Great Britain to take warning and co-ordinate their policy before the threatened storm bursts.

TO AFFILIATE WITH MOSCOW UNION

Truro, N. S., June 26.—The special convention of District 26 of the United Mine Workers of America, now meeting here, decided on Saturday to send a delegate to District 18, the Alberta and British Columbia division, to take up with the miners there the question of sending a delegate from Canada to the Red International Trades Union in Moscow to negotiate on the matter of affiliation with that organization. It was decided that District 26 would pay half the expenses of such a delegate. District 26 is the Nova Scotia section of the U. M. W. A. The miners further recorded their intention of asking all the "workers" of today to join into one union to "fight the battle of the wage earners."

LANDS 15 FROM PURITAN WRECK

Lehave, N. S., June 26.—Schooner Spray arrived here this morning with 15 of the 16 missing men of the Gloucester schooner Puritan. (One man, Christopher Johanson, was drowned. This accounts for the whole crew.)

Made Monsignor

FATHER BRADY.

POPE PIUS XI created Father Brady, Monsignor Vive Voce, by so addressing him at an audience in Rome, granted to a party of London clergy, including Bishop Fallon.

ASK EXTENSION OF DEBENTURES

Citizens of London West Follow Suit of Northern Residents.

Latter Not Satisfied With 20-Year Term For Payments.

Following the procedure of residents of North London, in the vicinity of Huron, Regent, Victoria, Richmond and St. George streets, who have asked that debentures to pay for sewers constructed on the above thoroughfares be extended to 30 years, ratepayers of West London, are contemplating similar action with regard to the new sanitary sewer system in that district.

City Clerk S. Baker informed The Advertiser that a citizen of West London approached him Monday morning, and requested a form of petition to be signed asking for an extension of time in which to pay for these new sewers. The city clerk informed him that there was no form published for this purpose, as it is contrary to city council procedure to grant such an extended term for debentures.

"There was a property-owner from West London in this morning," said the city clerk Monday, "and he asked for a petition form to have the cost of West London sewers spread over a 30-year term instead of the usual ten years."

"Was the London West system constructed against the will of the ratepayers involved?" asked the reporter, having in mind the case of the North London citizens, who did not desire the local improvements, for which they are now being compelled to pay.

"Sewers in London West were petitioned for in certain districts," explained the clerk, "and because of these petitions the city had to make a whole system in order to grant them. These citizens who want the terms of payment extended should be made to understand that in doing so they will be paying three times as much as in ten years, owing to the interest. They want thirty years in which to pay."

"It would be a good plan for London West ratepayers to find out what this sewer is going to cost them before petitioning to extend their debentures," advised City Engineer H. A. Brazier, who is in charge of this construction work. "They do not know their frontage rate yet, and therefore, do not know what the sewer is going to cost them."

The citizens of North London, who are not satisfied with an extension to twenty years of debentures on their sewers, but request thirty years in addition, will have their request re-which to pay, and financial relief in considered by members of No. 2 committee of the city council in session Tuesday night.

RECOGNIZE TURK NATIONALIST RULE

Constantinople, June 26.—Persia has formally recognized the Turkish Nationalist government by appointing as fully-accredited ambassador in Ankara, Mimitaz-Edd-Dovleh, formerly president of the Persian Parliament.

The diplomatic situation thus created is most unusual, as Persia already has an ambassador accredited to the Sublime Porte, which claims sovereignty over the same territory as does the Nationalist government.

HYDRO BOARD

FIGURES CITY'S GROWTH-TO-BE

Reports Yearly Increase of 4 Per Cent From 1902 to 1910.

ADVANCE MAINTAINED

Tabulates Data Gathered by Commission During Local Survey.

Based on its report on figures for the last twenty years, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, through its chairman, Sir Adam Beck, estimates that the population of London in 1930 will be at least 92,000.

This report was prepared in connection with a survey of the status of the London Street Railway Company by the commission on request of the city council.

Increased 4 Per Cent. From 1902 to 1910 population in London increased from 29,183 to 49,507, which shows an increase of 4 per cent each year. Between 1910 and one year later, there was a decrease of 5 1/2 per cent in the city's population. From 1911 to 1916 there was an increase in population of 4 per cent per year.

According to the report, it is not certain what caused the decrease in 1911, but a decrease in population from 1916 to 1918 in the city's population is attributed to the war.

From 1918 until the present time an increase of four per cent in London's population has been steadily maintained. From this data the report says: "It would only be reasonable to expect a continued similar increase, and, in fact, conditions point to a more or less greater increase, but a four per cent increase for five years, in which time the estimated figures have grown to about 75,000 should be conservative."

"It would seem proper then to figure on a greater increase as the population enlarges, up to a certain limit, of course, but probably safe to assume five per cent for a further five years. This brings a population of about 92,000 by 1930. Statements of city officials, etc., point to a generally anticipated figure of 100,000 population in ten years as a fair estimate. We should safely be able to assume 92,000."

Estimated Figures. Following are the estimated figures as presented by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission on London's population:

	Calendar Year	Fiscal Year
1922	65,205	63,916
1923	67,813	66,500
1924	70,508	69,126
1925	73,745	71,891
1926	77,372	75,485
1927	81,259	79,259
1928	85,323	83,242
1929	89,580	87,404
1930	94,070	91,775

"Past records of population show figures for years as in January. We are taking this figure in fiscal year calculations, and average of that figure, and the one for following year as population for calendar year calculations."
