Before the sitting was opened in the assembly to-day Thiers presented a declaration delaying the signatures of the deputies of Bas Rhone and Marseilles and protesting in behalf of the inhabitants against separating Alsace and Lorraine from France. The proposition was referred to a committee who subsequently submitted a report expressing the strongest sympathy with Alsace and Lorraine and directing that the declaration be entered upon the records of the assembly and referred to the French negotiations when they came to treat with the Prussians.

The Assembly conferred the executive power of the Government on Thiers.

London, Feb 17.—In the House of Commons, last night, the prevailing tone was that England is weak, and through her hesitancy had lost the respect of the belligerents and invited early war at her own expense. Gladstone renegotiated the negotiations. He believed that magnanimity on the part of the Germans would benefit not only France and Europe, but Germany itself. It was certain that neither Germany nor France wanted intervention.

The N Y World's financial article this morning says that the opposition of the United States and Canada to the High Commission to settle the Alabama claims and other questions at issue between the two nations, has the effect of giving an improved tone of confidence in financial circles, and that the abundance of available funds and the prospect of new well-receiving subscribers to the new loan and carrying out his programme of issuing the 20's, has given the impacts to investments in Government and other first-class securities. The impression is gaining ground that affairs are improving
