Concrete Sidewalks are Safe, Slightly and Everlasting

LUMBER used in damp places and on wet ground—as, for instance, in walks—has a very short life. It requires almost constant repairing and, in a few years, needs replacing.

Concrete, on the other hand, improves with age, and the very dampness which destroys lumber calls out the best qualities of the cement by making it harder and harder—until neither time nor traffic can affect it.

The best of wooden walks keep getting out of repair, and are a continual menace to life and limb. They are also a frequent source of expensive doctor bills and lost time. Then again, they are likely to cost up the original cost in repairs before they are replaced. Concrete walks are slightly, everlasting and safe. They cost less to build and need no repairing nor painting.

terians, nor Baptists, or Methodists, or Anglicans; but they are clergymen of the Roman Catholic church. I do not rejoice in the fact that many Presbyterian families in P. E. Island are in-coming to the West where perhaps conditions are not so favorable for the bringing up of a family. The clergyman of our churches should take an interest in farming conditions, instead of leaving it all to the clergy of another church. The problem is not insoluble, but one easily within our command, is concluded.

Savings of a Little Child Dying of Tubercular Trouble Goes to Help the Consumptive Poor

How true it is in many different walks of life that "a little child shall lead them." We have been shown a copy of a letter written by a lady of St. John, N.B., who only a month ago lost her little child, a girl of nine years, of tubercular trouble. The mother's own words tell the story better than it can be told in any other way. She writes to the Secretary of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst in these words: "While my loved one was ill, I one night opened some literature from you at her bedside. She asked me what it was. I told her it was a paper asking for subscriptions to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, and showed her the pictures in the pamphlet. She asked if she could not give what she had in her little savings bank. I told her 'Yes'—so she gave it to the doctor and he would send it. But she was too sick when he came again, so I am enclosing an express order for the amount I found in the bank, viz., $1.75, a small subscription, but trust you will receive it in the spirit in which it was given."

The letter is typical of many that are being constantly received at the head office of the Muskoka Free Hospital, 347 King St. W., Toronto. These come from all parts of Canada, for patients are received from anywhere in the Dominion.

At the present time there are 156 patients in residence in the Muskoka Free Hospital, 128 of whom are unable to pay a single cent, and the other 28 only nominal sums—much less than actual cost of maintenance. During the nine years that the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives has been opened, not a single patient has ever been refused admission because unable to pay.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—G. E. Armstrong, chairman of the provincial board of censors of moving picture films, stated yesterday that after December 1, all films not showing the board's stamp of approval would be confiscated. The act came into force on July 1 last, and since that time several thousand reels of films have been examined. With reference to the cutting of the Stars and Stripes shown in many films, not all films showing "Old Glory" are prohibited but in all the films with the exception of the coronation pictures, scarce by a Union Jack was noted.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION

In St. John Last Week a Great Success --His Lordship Bishop Richardson of the Anglican Church and other Speakers Take Prominent Part.

A large number of delegates from all parts of the province attended the Laymen's Missionary Convention in St. John last week.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson of the Anglican church delivered an intensely practical and carefully thought out address on "This Province, its Opportunity and Responsibility." No missionary movement in foreign lands, he said, could be a success unless the Church grasped its opportunities and responsibilities at home and it was possible to be so short-sighted as to overlook the opportunities at home. The most urgent need in the mission field in this province was a material one. The church was obliged to maintain machinery which was capable of attending to the needs of six or seven times the population. Clergymen were living on starvation wages and in consequence a degraded conception of the Christian ministry was gaining ground. The reason why our people were migrating to the West leaving their farms, was that they were reading lying pamphlets picturing conditions there in an exaggerated light. Another reason was a lack of self-confidence in the East. This was essential and was what made the West single with energy. All this migration to the West had had the result of building up a crude material spirit there. The greatest heritage of the maritime provinces was their method and character. But this generation was departing from the ways of their fathers. Politics had become corrupt. The Bible was no longer revered as it had been and he urged that steps be taken to see that the Bible be taught in the public schools. He announced in conclusion that a conference of the Protestant denominations would be held on Thursday to take up this question.

Sir Andrew Fraser spoke on the "Unfinished Task in Non-Christian Lands." He said he was a bearer of the message of the church in the east—a message of thankfulness at what Canada was doing to carry Christianity into other lands. As business men, having given of their interest and means to the mission movement, they, no doubt, wanted to hear something of the work done by the missionaries. He could tell them something of that work. He had witnessed the results in India, and gladly given his eldest son to the work of the missions.

It was said the missions did not produce results. He would not argue that. The works of the Lord were great and only those who took pleasure in them were competent witnesses of the results. He had travelled over all India, and had seldom been for more than a day without seeing missionaries or their work. It was his official duty to inspect the work of the missions. And he could say that God's work progressed in the east as in the west. The Lord had done great things for India. But there was much to do. There were many places in India where the name of Christ was unknown. Continuing, Sir Andrew said, the opportunities for missionary work in India were exceptional. There was no college in India to which missionaries were not admitted. All doors were opened. A great intellectual unrest was going on in India; like other people they were claiming civilization and industrial methods. If we gave them these things without Christianity, there might be danger to civilization. The church had put her hands to the plough; she dare not turn back.

On Wednesday the different denominations held separate rallies. That of the Presbyterians and Congregationalists was addressed by E. A. McCurdy of Newcastle on the question of the Utility of Modern Methods of Finance in Missionary Work.

Rev. S. J. MacArthur of Newcastle gave a very convincing address. It is not only the work of the pastor, he said, but it also belongs to every one of us to take part in this great work. Over two-thirds of the heathen population has not as yet been reached by the word of God. It is an amazing task. But a forward step is soon to be taken. I think what is going on in Canada and what is going on in our midst to-day signifies that within a year or two there will be accomplished what it took a generation to accomplish in the past. The Presbyterians he went on to say could do much more than they are doing for economic improvement in the province.

They know that there are many vacant farms, that there is much rich but untilled soil, and they are doing nothing. What could they do? They could do for New Brunswick what Dr. Robertson did for P. E. Island. He taught the farmers how to farm he made the farming industry that is there today. I tell you those who are taking that interest here are not Presby-

According to Government Estimates

was made in Western Town Property during the year 1909

Did you participate in these huge profits or did you "pigeon hole" the propositions submitted to you by your western friends for future consideration? In short, are you the man who made a profit or the unfortunate one who had the chance but did not possess sufficient judgment to recognize the opportunity or sufficient courage to close a deal? The man or woman entitled to sympathy is the one who says: "Five or ten years ago I had the chance to buy this or that property at $100 or $500, and now it is worth $10,000." The average person sneers at the person who makes such a statement and says: "I would have bought and made that money." Are you going to say five years from now that you had a chance to buy a lot at Poe, Alta., at from $50 to $100 each, or are you going to be the man who will have from $1,000 to $10,000 in cash as a result of having bought property in this town in this year of grace, 1911?

POE A COMING COMMERCIAL CENTRE

Poe is located on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway between Edmonton and Saskatoon. It is located in one of the finest farming districts in Western Canada. The surrounding country is settled by a progressive type of farmers and consequently will become the market centre for Northern Alberta. Poe district possesses rich coal mines, is close to rivers and lakes and large forests are easily accessible from this point. These natural resources are in the hands of the residents of the town, first, low cost of living, and second, great commercial activity, two essentials in the upbuilding of a large town, thus creating valuable real estate.

POE AS A MANUFACTURING CENTRE

This townsite and contiguous territory has the requirements outlined by large manufacturing concerns for the location of large factories or large enterprises of any kind employing large numbers of people. The rivers and lakes furnish water, the coal fields and forests furnish fuel and cheap building material, the fine farming lands furnish farm products, enabling the residents to live at a low cost.

The town is located on the main line of a transcontinental Railway, assuring the necessary transportation facilities. These combined conditions will furnish cheap labor, one of the most important features of a manufacturing centre.

Poe is a Good New Town in which to engage in Business or a Profession
