Rebecca Wilson (claimant). Osler, J.A., heard an appeal from judgment refusing new trial of Elliott, Co. J., Co. Middlesex. The County Judge found in favor of plaintiff's claim for work done and material provided and against the claim of the claimant (defendant's mother) as chattel wort against the claim of the claimant (defendant's mother) as chattel mortgagee and assignee of the amount due defendant by Railway Company. The mother has held a mortgage upon everything contained in the defendant's scale factory in Torouto for a number of years, and also has a claim for a large amount of the scale for a large amount of rent and is also entitled by agreement with her also entitled by agreement with her son to the proceeds of all his scale contracts whenever she chooses to claim them. The learned County Judge holds that such a condition of things contravenes R.S.O., ch. 96, and 13 Eliz., ch. 5. He holds the son to have been insolvent and the assignment void under 54 Vic. (O.), ch. 20, sec. 2. Looking at the fact that since 1889 the mother had only received payments of $125 and $45 on account of her claim, he finds that she must have been aware at date of assignment that her son was insolvent. In any event her son was insolvent. In any event her son was insolvent. In any event he thinks assignment insufficient to pass the defendant's interest. L. F. Heyd (Toronto) for claimant (appellant). McEvoy (London) for plaintiff.

Judgment was reserved.
Cattle are "at large" on a highway within the meaning of 51 Vic. (D), ch. 29, sec. 271, when the herdsman, in following one of the herd that has following one of the herd that has strayed, gets so far from the main body that he is unable to reach them in time to drive them over a railway crossing when he sees a train approaching.

The question whether or not they are "at large" need not under all circumstances be submitted to the jury, if the case is being tried before one. The judge may decide that there is no evidence that plaintiff is not within the prohibition of the Act. Thompson v. G.T. Ry. Co. in the Court of Appeal, sec. 15, C.L.T., Occ. N., 309. D'Arcy Tate (Hamilton) for plaintiff (appellant). C. Moss, Q.C. (Toronto), for defendants.

around 59c for Dec. Northwest receipts, 1232 cars, against 862 cars last year. Clearances, about 100,000 bush to-day. The nervousness of some of the western lealers on account of the political complications abroad has subsided, and the markets are again left to the two old influences, one buillish and the other bearish. One is the wheat receipts, and the other a practical continuance, so far, of the drouth in six of the winter wheat states. Kansas acknowledges to fair rains, but in other states it has been inadequate. Frices are lower. For a week Dec. hovered around 60c, and now it is around 59c. The markets do not go down easily, but raily at the call of every little bull feature. It is getting late, and the acreage and condition of the crop are adverse to a fair yield. It may recoup, but probabilities are against it.
