The Snow-Fall

The snow had begun in the afternoon
And lasted all the night
Had been heaping field and house
With a silence deep and white.

I stood and watched by the window
The noiseless work of the sky
And the sudden hurried of snow
Like brown leaves whirling by.

I thought of a mound in sweet repose
Where a little headstone stood
How the flakes were folding it
As did robins the babes in bed.

Up spoke our little Mabel,
Saying, "Father, who makes the snow
And I told her the good old Father
Who cares for us all below.

Again I looked at the snow fall
And I thought of the leader
That arched our first great sorrow
When the mound was heaped so high.

I remember the gradual falling
That fell from that cloud like snow
Flake by flake, heeling and biting
The scar of that deep-remembered day.

And again to the child I whispered
"The snow that husheth all
Darling, the Merciful Father
Alone can make it fall."

Then with eyes that saw my kneeling
And she, blessing back, cool and kind
That my kiss was given to her sister
Folded close under deepening shade.

PUPILS' LOCALS

From the Boys' Side of the Institution

BY GEORGE MUNRO

—Mr. Coleman, our head teacher's birthday is on the 12th inst.

—Several afternoons when it was too cold to go skating and we had a good time.

—The men finished filling the house last week. They had a strong time for it this year.

—Ferdinand Ross, one of our boys has stopped school. He is now in a shoe-shop working all day.

Willie Lightfoot, one of our pupils who had been sick for a long time, went home, returned on the 20th. He looks much nicer than before.

—We are waiting for a long time to be allowed to go skating and ice boating on the bay, but there is too much snow on it. That prevents us from going.

—It is reported in the newspapers that there was black snow in Chicago recently. Snow is always white but oh! where did they get the black snow?

—On the 13th ult., Mr. Matheson went to Toronto on business. During his absence Mr. D. R. Coleman took his place during the day and Mr. P. took his place during the night.

—On the 15th ult., we had a snow storm and it began getting colder on Sunday, and on Monday morning it was 38 degrees below zero, but we didn't feel cold inside.

—In the evening of the 20th ult. there was a hockey match between the Trenton team and the Belleville team. When the game ended, the Trenton team were victorious by 8 goals to 2.

—We have recently heard that our brother deaf-mutes across the border had played a rugby football match with the Potomac Athletic Club and were by one touch down to their opponents none.

Anecdotes of Absent-Minded.

Another "absent-minded man" item has been received. This one refers to Ampere, the famous mathematician, who was noted for his absent-mindedness. On one occasion, it is stated that while walking along the street he mistook the back of a cab for a blackboard, and as a blackboard was just the thing he needed at the time, to solve a problem which had been vexing his mind for some moments during his walk, he made use of it. Taking a piece of chalk out of his pocket he proceeded to trace out a number of algebraical formulæ on the cab's back, and followed the moving "board" for the space of a quarter of an hour without noticing the progress of the conveyance. As to whether the cabman charged him by the course or by the hour, or even at all, the item does not inform us.

From the same source we have the following item. They have a good joke just at present on a well-known lawyer who is noted for his absent-mindedness. He went up his own stairs the other day, and seeing a notice on his own door, "Black at two," sat down to wait for himself. —Harper's Round Table.

Every human being whom we approach should be the better for us. —Wm. B. Channing.

Never sacrifice a right privilege to obtain a favor. The cost is too great if you cannot secure what is right and needful for you by square and honest conduct, better do without it by all means. A littleness denial is better than dishonesty.
