DESICCATED WHEAT FOOD

Is made of the choicest White Winter Wheat, desiccated to the extent that the starch is converted into dextrine, rendering the Food Act of Digestion done before the food enters the Stomach. The outer woody fibre is removed by a process of decortication, but leaving the inner bran containing the phosphates, nitrogen, gluten, and other elements necessary to supply the wastes of the body. It is rolled or granulated, and made convenient for cooking, and makes excellent porridge, griddle cakes, soup, puddings, etc. It is a sure Cure for Dyspepsia, and any one troubled with weak digestion or constipated habits derives the greatest benefit from its use. It is as healthy as fruit for summer.

Ask your Grocer and Druggist for it.

N.B.—This is the Desiccated Wheat that cures Dyspepsia, and no other.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

COOKIES.—Two eggs, one and one-half tea-cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of soda, nutmeg to taste. Mix in enough flour to roll, cut into round cakes and bake in a quick oven.

DELICATE PIE.—Whites of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls of cream, one large spoonful of flour, one cup of white sugar, one cup of cold water; flavour with lemon. Line a pie plate with pastry, pour in the mixture and bake at once.

BROWN BREAD.—Two-thirds of a cup of molasses, two cups of sour milk, one cup of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of soda, one of salt, one cup of flour, four cups of cornmeal. Steam three hours and brown a few minutes in the oven.

WASHINGTON CAKE.—One pound of brown sugar, one pound of flour, one-half pound of butter, two pounds of stoned raisins, four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of soda, dissolved in a half cup of hot water, one-half pint of molasses, two grated nutmegs.

MINNEHAHA CAKE.—One-half cup butter, one and one-half cups sugar, whites of six or the whole of three eggs, one cup sweet milk, two and one-half cups flour, two teaspoonfuls Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder. Bake in three layers. For filling—one cup sugar, four tablespoonfuls water, boiled till clear. Stir it into the beaten white of one egg quickly, and add one-half cup raisins, seeded and chopped fine, and one-half cup chopped hickory-nut meats.

A SUCCESSFUL COMPANY.

(From the Globe of 18th.)

A reporter of the Globe, taking in our great fair, met a leading fire insurance man, and in conversation learned from him that the fire insurance business in Canada this year was likely to be more profitable than for many years.

Turning around he saw Mr. McCabe, managing director of the North American Life Co., of this city, and the reporter, anxious for news, thought it a good opportunity to learn how the life business was progressing. Mr. McCabe was ready to give any information desired. He said: "So far as our company is concerned, I certainly think it will be the best year we have ever had, at least that has been our experience up to date. The outlook for business is encouraging, crops have been fairly good and prices are satisfactory; this means a help to our agents, and the result, more business for the company, besides, policyholders will be better able to continue and increase their insurance. I see no reason why all our properly managed home companies should not meet with a fair measure of success this year." The reporter suggested that several companies had a great variety of plans now, and enquired whether they excelled the old plans. "Undoubtedly," said Manager McCabe, "formerly a man had to pay till death, whereas now he has the option of terminating his contract at the end of fifteen or twenty years, and, if the policy be on the investment plan, he will not only have his life insured for the term, but in addition get a good return for his money. Talking of the old plans reminds me that two or three years ago one of our vice-presidents, a man of large and successful financial experience, mentioned at one of our agents' conventions that he had been insured for many years in an old Scotch company and had paid in premiums considerably more than the face of the policy. He regretted very much that when a young man no opportunity was offered him to secure an investment policy such as our company is now offering the public.

"The North American has gone further than this, however, and is issuing policies upon which, after being ten years in force, the company will lead the insured the balance of the premiums to make his payments, and if the insured should die before the end of the investment period the full amount of the policy becomes payable without deduction of the loan. Yes, we think it is a splendid plan, as it offers the insured so many advantages.

"Now, for one getting up in years, or a young man wishing to save some money, we have a seven per cent. guaranteed income bond."

"What form is that?"

"Why, at the end of fifteen or twenty years the insured can draw out his cash surplus, have a paid-up policy for the full amount of his policy, and in addition draw an annual cash income of seven per cent. on the face of the policy, so long as he lives."

Further conversation with Mr. McCabe was abruptly terminated by the pressure of the crowd carrying the Globe reporter to another part of the building.
