

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Frenchman, intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle little lamb, said: "She is one mutton as is small."

Bismarck chopped $97,000 worth of wood last year in his county of Lauenburg, donated to him after the '66 campaign by the Wilhelmish Majesty.

"What becomes of dogs when they die?" was what juvenile in Burlington asked his pa. "They go to the happy land of canine," he quickly replied.

A LONG PRAYER.—A paper says, describing a funeral: "The procession was very fine, nearly two miles in length, as was also the prayer of the chaplain."

THAT ALONE COULD DO IT.—Engaging Photographer, after a few preliminaries, to a young lady who has come in to have her portrait taken: "Just look a little pleased, Miss. Think of 'im."

AN EDITOR'S APPEAL.—The editor of the Shenandoah (Va.) Democrat very feelingly addresses his delinquents: As the report that we are very wealthy has gone abroad among our subscribers, and has made them awful slow about paying up, thinking doubtless we don't want the money, we hasten to say that the report of our wealth is false in every particular. If ocean steamers were sailing at a cent a dozen, we could not make the first payment on a canoe. The lightning of poverty has struck us square, and had it not been for an armful of hay our devil managed to steal from a blind mule, our large and interesting family would be without a mouthful to eat at this moment. Is not this a sad picture, and can you delinquent subscribers look upon it without feeling the greenbacks rattle with indignation in your pocketbooks! We do not like to dun you, but we must if you fail to take the hint.

HOW KID GLOVES ARE MADE.—In certain parts of Europe the rearing of skins is an important business, those which command the highest prices, and are regarded as superior to all others, being the French, called in the market peaux rationales. By some the fine quality of these skins is attributed to a peculiar virtue in the wild vines upon which the young ones feed in the pastures which the frequent, this, however, being a popular error, as their value is simply the result of the care with which the little animals are reared during their life of four or five weeks. They are not allowed to roam at large, as such a license would imperil the evenness of their skins, which would become scratched by rubbing against stones, or passing through hedges. They are, besides, deprived of all food except milk as eating grass would tend to make their skins coarse. Consequently they are kept under a wicker coop, from which, at regular hours, they are led to suckle the mother, and this continues until they are killed at the end of four or five weeks. The younger they are killed the thinner the skin, but, of course, the smaller they are the less valuable, too, especially when they are only large enough to allow of single-buttoned gloves, while the demand is all for two, three and four buttoned gloves. By rearing the kids in the manner just described, larger skins are obtained, which are as fine and delicate as those of younger ones of other countries where they roam at liberty. As France produces the best skins, so Paris excels all places in France where gloves are manufactured, and an adept in the trade can select a Paris-made glove from among hundreds made elsewhere.

THE WIFE.—Only let a woman be sure she is precious to her husband; not useful, not valuable, not convenient, simple but lovely and beloved; let her be the recipient of his polite and hearty attentions; let her feel that her cares and love are noted; let her opinion be asked, her approval sought, and her judgment respected in matters of which she is cognizant; in short, let her only be loved, honored and cherished in fulfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband, her children and society, a well-spring of happiness. She will bear pain, toil and anxiety, for her husband's love to her is a fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein, adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy will dull the edge of sorrow. A house with love in it—and by love I mean love expressed in words, and looks, and deeds, for we have not one spark of faith in love that never crops out—is to a house without love as a person to a machine; one is life, the other is mechanism—the unloved woman may have bread just as light, a house just as tidy as the other, but the latter has a spring of beauty about her, a joyousness, a penetrating brightness to which the former is an entire stranger. The deep happiness of her heart shines out in her face. She gleams over. She is airy and graceful, and welcoming and warm with her presence, she is full of devices and plots, and sweet surprises of her husband and family. She is never done with the romance of poetry and life. She, herself, is a lyric poem setting herself to all pure and gracious melodies.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang, the breath is offensive, smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, mental depression, hacking cough, and general debility. Only a few of the above named symptoms are, however, likely to be present in any one case. There is no disease more common than catarrh, and none less understood by physicians.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is, beyond all comparison, the best preparation for Catarrh ever discovered. Under the influence of its mild, soothing, and healing properties, the disease soon yields. The Golden Medical Discovery should be taken to correct the blood, which is always at fault, and to act specifically upon the diseased glands and lining membrane of the nose. The Catarrh Remedy should be applied warm with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche—the only instrument by which fluids can be perfectly injected to all the passages and chambers of the nose from which discharges proceed. These medicines are sold by Druggists.

NERVOUSNESS.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first-class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

Shares $100.00 payable ten per cent quarterly.—Dividends of nine or ten per cent can be expected by Permanent Shareholders; the demand for money at high rates equivalent by compound interest to 14 or 16 per cent, has been so great that up to this Society has been unable to supply all applicants, and that the Directors, in order to procure more funds, have deemed it profitable to establish the following rates in the SAVINGS DEPARTMENT: For sums under $500 00 lent at short notice 6 per cent For sums over $500 00 lent at short notice 5 " " For sums over $25 00 up to $5,000 00 lent for fixed periods of over three months 7 " " " As the Society lends only on Real Estate of the very best description, it offers the best of security to Investors at short or long dates.
