IRELAND'S ONWARD MARCH.
 Who stems our course on the onward path, who dares to bar the way?
 Must we bow to the will of the craven church who seek our fate to sway?
 If the base pedlars with lying boast their mandate needs proclaim, They may learn to their bitter cost that we can likewise play that game.
 'Tis the coward's creed to muzzle truth and fetter thought and speech, To curb all honest utterance, and justice to impeach;
 Their puny light will soon be quenched by the grand resplendent ray That ushers in the coming dawn of freedom's cloudless day.
 Poor popinjays bedecked in garb of many a motley hue—Vain tricksters, could their flaunting rags a nation's hope subdue?
 Their bloodstained flag our dreams of future victory alloy.
 Or the waters of the Boyne blot out the fame of Fintona!
 Ay, we are rebels, for we dare revolt against craft and wrong—No state-paid, know-no servile slaves, to our true ranks belong;
 Warring against the spurious fraud that truck-les to a lie, Strong in the might of rectitude, their threat we can defy.
 Down with the tyrant's landmark, the trimpery barricade—Though fenced with swords we'll onward march, unconquered, undimayd, With the weapons of free thought and speech a bloodless strife to gain—We tried the test before, and now we'll try it once again.
 PINOLA, in United Ireland.

CRIME IN HIGH PLACES.
 A Vigorous Attack against the Toleration of High-toned Vices—Elegant Society
 Sharply brought to Task.
 BROOKLYN, June 16.
 In the Brooklyn Tabernacle yesterday morning Dr. Talmage preached a sermon against the aristocracy of crime, declaiming with great force against the toleration by elegant society of vice that possesses riches and what is called good breeding. He especially warned the young against avarice, impurity and revenge. In our time, said Dr. Talmage, there is a disposition to put a halo round iniquity if it is committed in conspicuous place. During the last two months there has been an epidemic of crime in high places. There is not a State or city or village which has not been called to look upon a startling felony or absconding cashier or a swindle momentous. I propose to show that sin is sin whether in high place or low place. There are in our land hundreds of people hiding behind communion tables who have no business to be there. Unless the life is right the heart is not right.
 SWINDLING IN BUSINESS.
 Shall we have the Tombs for a man who steals an overcoat and all Canada for a man to range in if he robs the people of three millions? A different measure has for years been applied to the crimes of Wall street that applied to the spoils which the wretch carries up Rat alley. For the man who steals an overcoat, a ride in the city van without an opportunity of looking out of the window. For the man who steals a large estate, splendid equipage dashing through Central Park. There is an impression abroad that the poorest way to get money is to earn it. A plain young man gets tired, and although he gives up his situation he has more money than he ever had.
 If he can escape the Penitentiary three or four years he will get into politics and have fat jobs. Then he gets so far along he is safe for perdition. It is quite a long road before a man gets into the romance of crime. Those are caught who are only in the prosaic of it.
 If the officers let them alone awhile they will steal as well as anybody. If God should put into money the capacity of going to its lawful owner there would not be a bank or safe deposit in the United States whose walls would not be blown out and mortgages would rip and gold would shoot and beggars would get on horseback and stock gamblers would go to the almshouse.

 estate, splendid equipage dashing through
 gets tired, and although he gives up his situation he has more money than he ever had.
 If he can escape the Penitentiary three or four
 are caught who are only in the prosaic of it.
 If the officers let them alone awhile they will steal as well as anybody. If God should put
 owner there would not be a bank or safe de-
 and gold would shoot and beggars would get
 to the almshouse.

LIBERTINISM.
 So there has been a great deal of fascination thrown around libertinism. Society is very severe about the impurity that lurks around the low haunts, but becomes lenient in proportion as it becomes elevated. Where is the judge that dare arraign the wealthy libertine who flaunts his iniquity in the face of society? The flag of iniquity looks out of the tapestried window. It seems as if our society were going back to the state of morals in Hercules when it sculptured his vilens upon pillar and temple wall and nothing but the lava of a burning mountain could hide the crime. I believe God's thunderbolts are hissing hot and when He comes to chastise the community for these sins the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah will be tolerable as compared with the fate of our modern society which knew better and did worse. Adulterers and forgers shall fall into the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone, which is the second death. It is hell on earth and hell forever. The pulp has been so cowed down on this subject it hardly dares speak and men are almost apologetic when they read the ten commandments.
ASSASSINATION.
 Then look at the fascination thrown around assassination. In all communities there are men who have taken the lives of others and got scot free. Society is alert for certain kinds of murder, but when affluent men in high position avenge themselves on others' great sympathies are aroused, the lawyers plead, the ladies weep, the jury is bribed and the man goes free. If the verdict happens to be against him a new trial is granted and the case is adjourned till the community has forgotten all about it. Then the prison door opens and the murderer goes free. He who willfully takes the life of another is a murderer, I care not what the provocation or the circumstances be.
