DARKEYED ADELE.

Far away from my own dewy skies I have wandered, Far, far from my own native valleys I roam, Mid scenes of bright beauty, the broad flowing river, The maple's deep shade and the wild torrens foam.

I love this young land with its fine covered mountains, Its broad unlight valleys where peace loves to dwell, And yonder brown cot where the tamaracs are waving.

For there is the home of a y darkeyed Adèle. Yet oft in my dreams I hear the lark singing, Where the wild waves are kissing and curdling shores, Where the cottages hums smile amid white blossomed hedgerows.

By the daisy-gemmed banks of the dark flowing river, O my own sea-girt Isle, how sweet is the dawning! Though a stranger I walk in a far distant clime, While the fair rosey morn'g the blue hills a-mist stealing, To brighten the land of the maple and pine.

I love this young and when the summer's proud splendor, Beams golden and bright over mountain and plain, When the bright flowing rivers, unobscured and unloosed, Go sparkling and frore to meet ocean again.

When in shade beneath the maples the red berries cluster, And the bright robin sings sweet songs in the dell, When in peaceful green beauty the tamaracs are waving, Round the cot and the house of thy darkeyed Adèle.

A YELL FOR BLOOD.

ROCHFORT'S RAGE AGAINST THE FRENCH PREMIER. Unexampled Violence of the Radical Press.

PARIS, April 1.—There has seldom been a day of such intense excitement as this, and as it draws to a close the feeling grows momentarily more violent.

The Transigence appears to-day with sensational headlines in huge letters—"A Assassination!"

Rochfort shouts for Ferry's head, and says—"I don't wish to address an Napoleon III, by comparing him with Jules Ferry. Although Napoleon was guilty of a crime, fully in the bearing war against Germany, he at least did the people to be put in it on Saturday. But Jules Ferry has not only risked his own life, but he has risked the lives of his countrymen, when they have now to be in thousands."

It is from the bottom of his ministerial case that this kind of polemic is now being advanced, and our honest souls to the scandal of the hour. This will kill by telegraph, and assassination on the part of the radical press.

But now we are now engaged in the danger and found waiting. Your countrymen are now engaged in the danger and found waiting. Your countrymen are now engaged in the danger and found waiting.

The Libre says—"Why ought in China soldiers that one day will be provided on the Rhine? It is the Republic which promised to bring peace the right to appear before the electors of the nation with the programme of a great war in its hands? We should try to save what is left of our soldiers in Tonquin."

But the true Frenchman will consent to die the death in which he is engaged, our money, our party and our republic.

Variety the Spice of Life.

There is variety in the letters received by Mrs. Lydia B. Pinkham, testifying to the cure effected by her Vegetable Compound and the great relief afforded to thousands of women in all sections. Mrs. C. of Toronto, says: "I have taken three bottles with very gratifying results." Mrs. Stephen B. of Shelburne, Quebec, says: "I am now using the fourth bottle and have derived great benefit already." Sarah C. of Eugene City, Oregon, says: "It is the best medicine for the female sex I have ever found." Mrs. C. of Santa Fe, says: "Your Compound has done me a great deal of good." Mrs. H. S. D. of Portland, Me., says: "It has done for me all it claims to and I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering as I have done." Mrs. D. H. E. of Lexington, Va., says: "I have taken one bottle and I assure you I feel a great deal better. I feel strong as ever and I've never felt a pain in my back since the second dose."

Suffering Womanhood. Too much often cannot be made to bring to the attention of suffering womanhood the great value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the diseases of women, and perhaps nothing is more effective than the testimony of those who have been cured by it. Such a one is the wife of General Barringer of Winston, N.C., and as quoted from the General's letter as follows: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham: Please allow me to add my testimony to the most excellent medicinal qualities of your Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Barringer was treated for several years for what the physicians called Leucorrhœa and Prochloria Uteri combined. I sent her to Richmond, Va., where she remained for six months under the treatment of an eminent Physician without any permanent benefit. She was induced to try your medicine and after a reasonable time commenced to improve and is now able to attend to her business and consider herself fully cured." (General Barringer is the proprietor of the American Hotel, Winston, N. C., and is widely known.)

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared from pure, natural, vegetable ingredients. It is sold by all druggists. Sent by mail, postage paid, in form of Pills or Lozenges on receipt of price as above. Mrs. Pinkham's "Guide to Health" will be mailed free to any lady sending stamp. Letters confidentially answered.
