

the Canadian Government will willingly and capably provide.
There is no need for an individual firm to "re-invent the wheel" or expend unnecessary effort when the Government may already have the desired information readily available.