INCOME TAX ACT

Mr. Gurbax Singh Malhi (Bramalea—Gore—Malton, Lib.) moved:

That, in the opinion of this House, the government should amend the Income Tax Act to eliminate the payment of personal income tax on interest from personal savings accounts when the amount of interest is $1,000 or less.

He said: Madam Speaker, I am very pleased to have the opportunity to introduce this motion today. I believe taking this action could benefit a great number of people, particularly our senior citizens.

Amending the Income Tax Act to eliminate the payment of personal income tax on interest from personal savings accounts when the amount of interest is $1,000 or less is not a completely new idea.

In 1974 an exemption on the first $1,000 of interest income was introduced as a way of counteracting the impact of inflation on the taxation of interest.
