

NEW YORK'S BEST DETECTIVE IN TORONTO

George S. Dougherty, Who Was With Pinkerton's for Many Years, and is Now Head of New York Detective Force, Has Had a Remarkable Career.

One of the shrewdest detectives in the business is George S. Dougherty of New York, who is attending the convention of the chiefs of police of Toronto. Mr. Dougherty is second deputy chief of the detectives for the New York Police Department. He, with Commissioner Rhinelandt Waldorf, came to Toronto for the gathering of the police chiefs.

Mr. Dougherty was 22 years with the Pinkertons at New York. From 1886 to 1907, he was assistant superintendent during which period he handled all the criminal operations for the American Bankers' Association, the Jewelers' Protective Union and the Jewelers' Security Alliance, and was chief of all criminal business for the United States and Canada.

In the spring of 1911, the detective bureau of the New York Police Department was in a chaotic state and was widely criticized by the newspapers of that city, when on April 27, Mayor William J. Gaynor offered Mr. Dougherty the second deputy commissionership, to which he was appointed on May 1, 1911. His appointment was on merit only and not in any way influenced by politics.

Since then and under Commissioner Waldorf, he has attained a high standard for organization and harmony in the detective bureau. His courteous and affable treatment of all those who come in contact with him gain him many friends and make him idolized by the men under him.

He knows thousands of people all over America, and is a skillful cross-examiner. His most recent success was the clearing up of the great $20,000 taxicab robbery in which two bank messengers were murdered and $100,000 in broad daylight in the financial district by a band of brigands who made a clean getaway.

JAIL BREAKER IN COURT AGAIN

John Mulhall Was Remanded on Charge of Stealing Horse and Buggy—Fined for Selling Liquor.

John Mulhall, noted particularly for an escape he made from the Central Prison on Sept. 2 last, was brought before the bench in police court yesterday on a remanded trial for the theft of a horse and a buggy and his escape from the central. His case was again remanded.

Albert Dabell pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping a common gaming house. The case was adjourned until July 17.

For selling spirituous liquors without a license William Wilson paid a fine of $100 into the police court treasury yesterday morning.

Louis Gurofsky appeared on a charge of theft in connection with insurance policies taken out by the Sanitary Bedding Co., and which, it claimed, were never registered with the company. Defendant pleaded not guilty and was committed for trial.

Hot weather, which bothers men and women and gladdens the heart of soda fountain proprietors, works a more serious effect upon the infant children of the congested districts. Last year, the parish of St. John's Church lost 20 babies during the hot weather and the movement to prevent such a mortality this summer has resulted in the institution of the first Babies' Rest Station in Toronto.

The Rest Station is a tent located in Victoria-square, near Portland-street. It will be under the joint control of the university settlement and Rev. Russell Maclean of St. John's, and will be in charge of a competent matron.

The Rest Station will aim to keep the babies cool when every place else is scorching, and to teach mothers the proper care of children in hot weather. Sick babies will not be taken in, as the object of the movement is prevention rather than cure.

POLICE CHIEFS VISIT PRISON FARM

Party of Delegates to Big Convention Inspected Government Institution at Guelph—Commissioner Waldorf, Chief of New York Force, Has Arrived.

Commissioner E. Waldorf of New York, accompanied by Deputy Chief Dougherty, arrived tonight to attend to-day's session of the Police Chiefs' Convention. About forty other delegates also arrived yesterday. They will register this morning, as the registration committee made part of five coach-loads of visitors to the Guelph prison farm, and last night the delegates were guests of the Royal Alexandra.

First Attendants. This is Commissioner Waldorf's first attendance at the association's annual convention. He stated that his interest was in respect chiefly to new ideas to be gained with respect to reaching a higher standard of organization, with respect to efficiency in the prevention of crime.

Commissioner Waldorf's forte is organization. Tho a millionaire, society man and a successful military officer, and something of a politician, he is only in his thirty-fifth year. He views life and its conditions with an amused smile, but his strenuous life indicates that he sizes it up as a game well worth while playing.

After a creditable course at Columbia University, young Waldorf engaged in the study of foreign languages and civic government in Europe.

Entered the Army. On his return, trouble with Spain was brewing, and he entered the army as a second lieutenant. He served with distinction in Cuba, and the genius he displayed in organizing transportation led to his appointment in the Philippines to the command of a body which he kept under their protection 250,000 natives.

On his return to New York, Mayor McClellan appointed Waldorf as deputy police commissioner. This enabled him to get an insight into police organization methods, and he left New York to take charge of the force policing the watershed of the Catskills. From this he took a fling at politics, with an unsuccessful run for congress.

His next appointment was as fire commissioner of New York, when he devoted his energies to securing a motor equipment for the vehicles.

Today's Feature. Commissioner Waldorf's participation in to-day's sessions is anticipated as being likely to prove the feature of the convention sessions.

The delegates and ladies will be guests at the banquet given after noon. They will wind up their discussion of papers to-night.

Tomorrow morning the committees will report, officers be elected, and next place of meeting decided upon.

SPECIAL POLICE WATCH STREETS

Acting Mayor Church is Determined to Keep Metropolitan Workmen Off Yonge Street.

War is on between the city and the owners of the Metropolitan Railway. The company has evidently decided to avail itself of the permission granted by the Ontario Railway Board, and has begun work on the deviation of the Yonge-street track to the west of Yonge-street. As a matter of fact, the only action taken by the company to date is the pulling down of a couple of houses on Alcorn-ave. in line of the proposed new track, but there is good reason to suppose that things only the first move in well-planned campaigns.

On the city's side there is no lack of precaution. Special policemen have been patrolling the street near Farmham-ave. for over a week, and every move on the part of the company has been observed and reported. Acting Mayor Church has written to Chief of Police Graesset authorizing him to stop the work as soon as it touches on city property. As yet, however, the city's position in the matter, Mr. Church said last night:

"So far as the Metropolitan people have done to pull down some buildings on their own property. The moment they start to invade Yonge-street, the city will be sufficient police to prevent their going ahead. In the meantime, a strict watch is being kept."

The city cannot enter an appeal against the decision of the railway board before September, as the court of appeal is not now in session. They will then appeal the whole case. In the meantime, the company has obeyed the order of the board and commenced work "on or before July 10th."

PHOTOGRAPHERS MEET. Canadian Association Convention Now Being Held in Toronto.

One hundred photographers, delegates to the convention of the Canadian Photographers' Association, which is now meeting in this city, dined at the Victoria Hotel last night, and will begin their morning the real business of the convention. The rooms of the Toronto Camera Club on Gould-st., have been placed at the disposal of the visitors.

Demonstrations of advanced photography were given yesterday morning by E. F. Brown of St. Louis, and Whitman of Binghamton, N.Y. The convention will be addressed by J. E. Mook and J. W. Beatty, experts from the states.

Among the photographs on exhibition at the convention headquarters, the best photographs made by E. H. Greene of this city are worthy of praise.

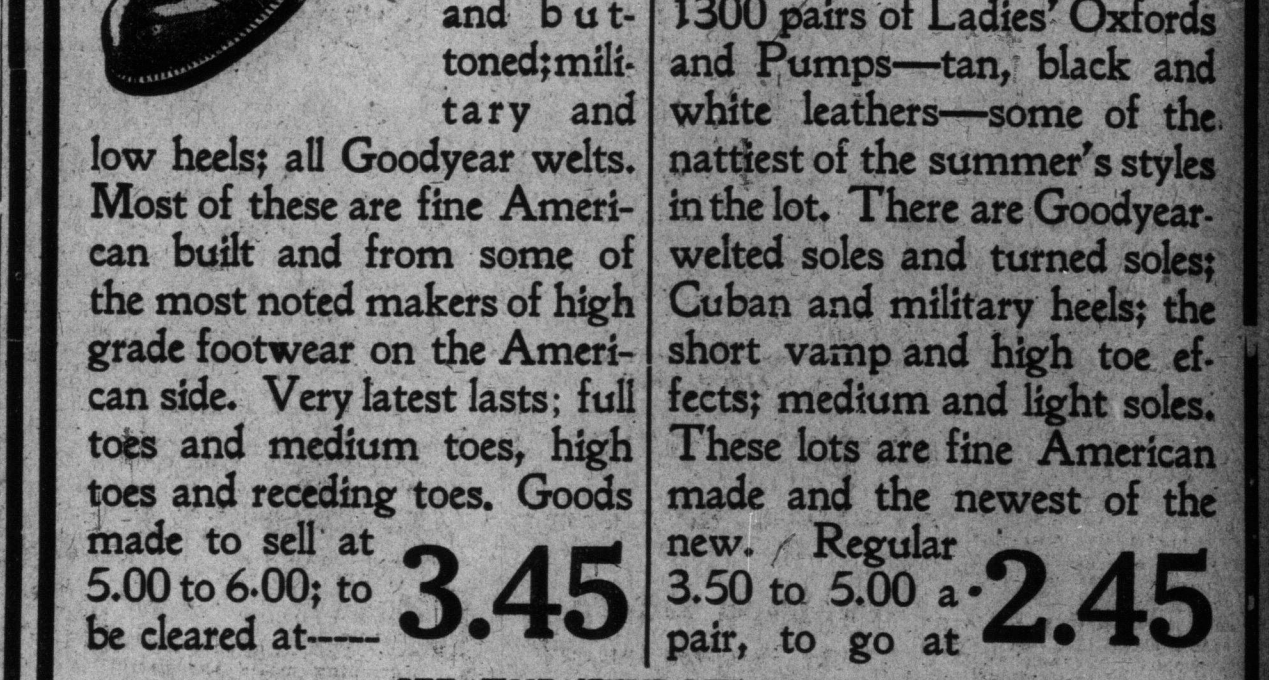

GARDEN PARTIES POSTPONED. The garden parties arranged for last night under the auspices of the Methodist Church at Mimico and St. James' Anglican at Humber Bay were postponed on account of the adverse weather conditions and will be held this evening.

"606" THE GREATEST SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY OF THE AGE. BLOOD-POISON AND ALL ITS TERRIBLE COMPLICATIONS CAN NOW BE CURED.

To Say Nothing of the Heat. It was warm yesterday; it is warm now, and the chances are that it will be real warm to-morrow, and the day after to-morrow, and so on through July and August. This is merely to call your attention to the fact that you are cooking with a coal range. Of course, in the scurry to get up the coal, shake the stove, empty the ashes, and so forth, a little thing like the mercury at the top of the tube may pass unnoticed. We want you to take a look at the thermometer, or, better still, look in the mirror after your morning session with the coal stove.
