WILL MEET BRITISH DESIRES,

Unless the U.S. House Interferes Too Much, Clayton-Bulwer Treaty Will be Killed.

New York, Jan. 23.—The Commercial-Advertiser's London special to-day says: The neutrality and abrogation provisions of the Senate's Nicaragua Canal bill will meet English desires official and unofficial, according substantially with recent exchanges of opinion between London and Washington. Unless the House of Representatives materially changes these provisions, the way is practically clear for proceedings for formal abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. New York, Jan. 23.-The Commercial-A4-freaty.

After final Congressional action, there will be a possibility of talk of the exchange of a portion of the British West Indies for a portion of the Philippines. Undoubtedly this has been mooted in the Cabinet discussion of the West Indian problems.

A DOUBLE FUNERAL

Mr. John Secord Died in St. Catharines Just at the Hour Set for His Wife's Obsequies.

St. Catharines, Jan. 23.—The funeral of Mrs. John Secord, which was to have taken place on Sunday at 2 p.m., was postponed until to-day at 2 p.m., owing to the death until to-day at 2 p.m., owing to the death of her husband, which sad event occurred at the very hour announced for the funeral services. The family and friends were gathered; the clergyman, Rev. Mc. McGinnis, was about to begin the service, when Mr. Secord passed quietly away. He had been in feeble health for some time, owing to his advanced age, and since his wife's death was unable to sleep or take his accustomed rest, and expressed a wish that he would accompany to the grave his beloved partner, with shear he spent so many happy years. On Sunday morning he took a bad turn, the family physician was called, and he pronounced it a critical case, as his heart was weak, and prepared the family for the finely provided in the incident occurred.

his heart was weak, and prepared the family for the final result—that death might take place at any time.

One of the most eminent physicians in Canada pronounced his trouble to be Bright's Disease, and said he could never get better. Mr. Stowell began to arrange his earthly affairs, having given up hope of recovery.

He is now in India and serving on the Plague Commission, and it is evident that he does not intend his special knowledge of enteric fever to be wasted.

With good cause. India is the hotbed of enteric fever. So far as the European is concerned, this disease is infinitely more headly than either choicra or bubonic plague.

All attempts made by the Government of India to eradicate it have so far proved fulle, and not a week passes but one or more deaths are reported among the small British population of the East Indies from this cause.

Prof. Wright will, it is to be hoped, conduct a thorough enquiry into the disease while he is in the East.

EXPLOSION IN STRATFORD. A Building Was Wrecked, But There

Was No Loss of Life. Stratford, Ont., Jan. 23.—The residents in the vicinity of the Gas Works were startled by an explosion which took place between 4 and 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The brick annex to the generating building was completely demolished, the walls being levelled to the ground. Fortunately, no one was hurt, though the men in charge had a narrow escape. The cause of the explosion is not definitely known, but is supposed to be connected in some way with a new process for the production of ammonia, which is being tried. The damage is between one and two thousand dollars.

Mr. Jones and his men ought to start in on this job to-day. Mr. Jones must remem-ber that he cannot go up against 35,400 cyclists and agnore them with impunity.

N. Stowell, Who, His Doctor Said,
Stast Die of Bright's Disease.

Brockville, Jan. 23.—Hamilton undoubtedly has good cause to boast of the large number of lives saved by the use-of Dodd's kidney Pills in that city. But Brockville is not a whit behind the Ambitious City in this respect.

There are hundreds of persons in Brockville who would, undoubtedly, have died of Kidney Disease, had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Take the occasion of the Ambitious City in the behind the Ambitious City in this respect.

There are hundreds of persons in Brockville who would, undoubtedly, have died of Kidney Disease, had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills. One Friendly Frenchman.

The Architects' Club.

The younger architects of the city have formed a social club, and they will meet at dinner once a week to discuss topics of interest to themselves. The first lunch was held at the New Coleman yesterday, when the twelve members were present, as follows: C. H. Acton-Bond, Eden Smith, J. Francis Browne, Mr. Sproutt, 'Charles Langley, A. H. Cassels, William Rae, Mr. Hines, Sandford Fleming Smith, S. G. Beckett, Vaux Chadwick, Mr. Harwood and Mr. Wells.

Mis earthly affairs, having given up hope of recovery.

One night he read an advertisement, telling how Dodd's Kidney Pills had cured many cases of Bright's Disease, even after the doctors had said they were incurable. He took heart again, and next day begin using Dodd's Kidney Pills. To his intense surprise and delight, he became so marked that his friends noted it, and wondered what caused the improvement.

To cut a long story short, seven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Stowell of Bright's Disease, after one of the best doctors in Canada had said he could not recover.

This is merely an example of the wonderful work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing in Brockville. They are the greatest life-savers of the age, and their cheapness (50c a box at all drug stores) puts them within easy reach of everyone.

ANGLO - FRENCH DISPUTES

Radical Republicans Spoke in a Conciliatory Tone and Advocated Peaceful Measures

EX-PREMIER RIBOT WAS CRITICAL

And Intimated That There Were Other Considerations Which Had to be Taken Into Account.

Paris, Jan. 23.—In the Chamber of Depa-ties to-day, MM. Denis, Radical Republi-can, and Cochin spoke in a conciliatory strain, urging friendly negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the disputes with Great Britain, Former Premier Ribot made a speech criticizing many of Great Britain's pretentween France and Great Britain. In so doing, he pointed out that the Dreibund had been weskened by the Franco-Italian rapprochement and the Russo-Austriau en-France only desired the peace of Burope, and to that end Frenchmen ought to forget their internal dissensions and think more of France. Foreign Minister Speaks.

think more of France.

Foreign Minister Speaks.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, said his policy had been directed towards conserving the permanent general interests of France. He recalled the role of France during the Spanish-American war, and said the appeal addressed to France "by one of the two nations with which we had equally critical relations" was all to the honor of France, and the Government could not refuse its assistance, knowing "that it would not be misunderstood by our friends in America. This was a moral advantage for France, which no one failed to understand."

Referring to the Czar's disarmament proposals, the Minister said France's whole sympathy supported them for two reasons—the good of humanity and respect for the nation with which her friendship was never more complete than now. France was aware that nothing would be asked of her in the nature of diminishing her strength, Relative to the protection of Enstern Christians, France's historic position had not been weakened in the slightest degree. Unfortunately, there was a reverse side to the picture. The great states of the world differed, but he believed their disputes might be settled in a spirit of conciliation. It was in this spirit that the Fashoda incident was settled. M. Delcasse praised General Lord Kitchener's treatment of Major Marchand, the French officer who occupied Fashoda. The honor of France had been in no way tarnished. The Foreign Minister said in conclusion: "France is always ready to negotiate, being conscious of her rights. Great changes are preparing throughout the world, and, therefore, it is necessary to walk prudently. To complete our task in a dignified manner, the full support of the Chambers is necessary."

The House then adjourned. The House then adjourned.
