TORONTO'S NEW MAYOR.

The gentleman who will preside at he inaugural meeting of the Council of the corporation of the City of Toonto on Monday next is still unknown to the great majority of people who have elected him to the high office of Mayor. The inaugural will probably e well attended, because many will want to see for themselves what Thomas Urguhart looks like. In peronal appearance there is a good deal of falling-off from the gubernatorial figure of Mayor Howland. Mr. Urquhart is 44, but he looks much younger, for he is slight, and neither erect nor tall Are You One of Those Troubled in this Way? of stature. He walks with short, hasty paces, and advances as if he were running. His walk is an index to the gen eral characteristics of the man. His voice is somewhat jerky and thin, his arguments inclined to be rather technical than convincing, whilst his manner was troubled with palpitation of the cal than convincing, whilst his manner acks repose. The first impression of the Mayorlect is not likely to be as favorable as he deserves, because his record is honest, he is an indomitable worker, and his sympathies are with public progress. He has not heretofore been a man of weight in the Council, because the City Fathers, after the fashion of elected bodies in general, have little patience with rasping speakers.

The new Mayor is not the man to omplain of difficulties of this kind. Like all self-made men, he thoroly understands the practical philosophy of life, and takes the opposition he enounters as one of the incidentals of retting on in the world. Thomas Urquhart's record is all to his credit. He was born in 1858 in the little village of Wallacetown, in the County of Elgin, where his father kept a general store. The young Urquharts vent to the village school, but Thomas was taken away to help his father a the age of 13, and in a short time the whole running of the store fell upor his shoulders. He, however, found time for other work, and was Clerk of the Township of Dunwich till he left the village in 1880. He did not, how ever, set out to conquer cities as a young man of neglected education. His younger brother in the meantime had passed his matriculation examination and the Thomas could not share the same opportunities he did the next best thing. The brother attending school came the private tutor, or grinder of the brother who had to work for the family, and in this way the elder boy got up his matriculation work also, and was ready at the age of 22 to take up the study of law. He went into the law office of Farley & Doherty in St. Thomas, but after he had been there a year the Winnipeg boom enticed him and he went west only to meet disaptment within a few months. From Winnipeg Thomas Urquhart struck back for Toronto in the beginning of 1882. Here he entered the law
