DESTRUCTION OF BEULAH HALL.

Place of Historic Interest in "the Ward"—Built 20 Years Ago.

Beulah Hall, which was badly demolished by the falling walls at the Thompson factory fire, is one of the historic places in St. John's Ward.

It was originally erected some 20 years ago by the late Walter Mackenzie of Castle Frank and Dr. Hoskins, K.C., for undenominational Christian work in the ward. Since then it has been most successful in its mission. Twice within the last six years it was added to, but even then was unable to accommodate the Bible classes and evangelical services on Sunday, which have been held in the Y.W.C. Guild, with daily services in Beulah Hall.

Those connected with it were in active touch with the missionaries in India and Africa and the season's work, almost ready to be dispatched to these places, was destroyed by the fire. There were many aching hearts among the residents of the neighborhood, who have for years been constant attendants of the hall.

HUDSON BAY VS. CANADIAN SEA.

The reported desire of some Canadians to have the name of Hudson Bay changed by legislative enactment to Canadian Sea is easily understood. They take an increasing pride in their distinctive name, and they think that their control of the great body of water would be better indicated by the proposed titular altercation. But is it wise to change at this late day a name so interwoven with history and tradition?—Providence Journal.

Ticks

A WATCH ticks 141,912,000 times in one year, the wheels revolve from 8,768 to 4,730,450 times annually.

We frequently get watches that have been allowed to run five or ten years without cleaning or fresh oil, as a consequence they usually require new pivots and sundry other repairs.

If you have a watch treat it as well as you would a bicycle or any piece of machinery.

We do all repairing promptly, reasonably and satisfactorily.

STOP EXPORT NATURAL GAS ASKS JESSOP OF LINCOLN

Or Failing That, Dominion Government Should Put Export Duty on.

The afternoon session of the legislature, like that of the municipal committee in the morning, was devoted to gas.

Hon. R. Harcourt made a vain appeal to Dr. Jessop to abandon his motion, but the member for Lincoln insisted "That in the opinion of this house the government of Ontario should at once memorialize the government of Canada to prohibit the exportation of natural gas from Ontario into the United States of America, or, failing that, to place an equitable export duty upon all natural gas exported."

There was quite a lively debate covering the whole question involved and Dr. Jessop once interrupted the minister of education to assure him of his own intense interest in the subject. It was causing a great deal of agitation in the minds of people in the Welland district. It dated back to 1889, when the oil wells at Bertie were bought up by a Buffalo company and $100 a year was all that was paid for the privilege of piping away the product. The resources of the province were squandered. The timber limits were sold. All that was left was a considerable quantity of natural gas. Canada should be for the Canadians. They were indebted for fuel to a nation commercially hostile. Many places would be glad to have the natural gas. No sooner was a new oil well found than the Buffalo company absorbed it. Canadians had to pay $1.50 a thousand feet, when it was retailed in Buffalo at 25 cents. The case was similar to that of Detroit, which had Canadian gas piped 30 miles to build it up. He understood the agreement with the company lasted only during the pleasure of the crown. Vested rights were spoken of, but he denied that vested rights could be extended to new wells. Ontario should have the benefit of her own resources.

Keep Politics Out.

Mr. Harcourt would not make a political question of it. It had been referred to a special committee in 1894 and expert evidence had been taken. As a matter of fact a very large number of people used the gas in Welland County, and only in certain months was it exported, while every day it was used in Ontario. The company had sunk 200 wells. It cost $1000 to sink a well. Several of these went down 3000 feet. The average was 800 feet until the medina stone was reached. Altogether $1,015,000 had been expended by the company. St. Catharines people had not invested. The Dominion government's consent was necessary before a well was dug. A large number of users were necessary to make the business profitable. When they first applied for leave to pipe the gas across the river was the time to prevent investors risking their money, since the Buffalo trade was necessary to their existence. A dozen Ontario municipalities were using the gas to the complete exclusion of coal and wood as fuel. These would oppose the withdrawal of the export privilege. It cost $300,000 to pipe the gas to Niagara Falls City, a distance of about 12 miles. They would pipe it to St. Catharines if the situation warranted. Another field had been discovered and might supply that city. He found no fault with any place for taking such action as they deemed best to secure the supply of such a desirable commodity.

Why Not in Welland?

Dr. Jessop thought if the government could stop the export of gas in Essex it could stop it in Welland, and Mr. Harcourt replied that the conditions were not the same.

Mr. Downey interrupted, and Mr. Harcourt begged his "somewhat irrepressible friend" to give him a chance. Ottawa was the court where the case must be settled, and he happened to know that the Ottawa government was to be approached about it. The power to impose an export duty lay entirely at Ottawa.

Mr. Downey wished to mark the difference between imposing an export duty and prohibiting the export.

Mr. Whitney remarked that the finding of a committee nine years ago on which Mr. Harcourt relied might or might not apply to the present situation.

Should Consider Investors.

Mr. Harcourt never knew a corporation with warmer friends in its field of operation than the Gas Company in Welland County. The extra hazardous, perilous nature of their investment should be considered. They had sunk a million on the good faith of both governments.

Dr. Reaume wanted a revenue from the gas fields. The rights of the province in the bed of the river had been discovered since the finding of the committee. There were only 600,000 cubic feet going to Buffalo, and that could be utilized in Ontario. The Liberal Windsor Record looked to Mr. Gibson to protect the province in this matter.

Mr. Auld excited a hearty opposition laugh by his statement that he was not one of those who wished to build up cities in the United States, and had been one of those who stopped the export of pulp wood. If there were any way of stopping the gas from going out of the country he was in favor of it.

Mortgage on Algoma Central.

Mr. Powell has given notice of a question if the government is aware that there is already a mortgage covering the Algoma Central Railway, the steamship lines and associated industries; and if so, what is the amount.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Niagara Falls, March 9.—Harvey Smith, resident of Niagara Falls South and employed on the power works, when crossing the M.C.R. tracks at Falls View this morning on his way home from night work, was run over by a train and instantly killed. The unfortunate man stepped off one track out of the way of a train approaching him in front of another going in an opposite direction. He leaves a wife and two small children.

KILLED BY SARDINES.

Peterboro, March 9.—The death of James Craig, a nephew of John Craig, proprietor of the Craig House, Lakefield, occurred this morning under peculiar circumstances. Last night, before retiring, he partook of a light lunch, consisting of sardines. After he had eaten a small quantity he noticed a bitter taste and did not eat any more. He retired in his usual health, and slept for some hours, when he awoke, feeling unwell. A doctor was hastily summoned, but Mr. Craig rapidly became worse, and died at 6 o'clock this morning, death evidently being due to poisoning. The deceased, who was a married man, was one of the most widely known men in the county.

BIG SAVING ON CORDWOOD SHOULD STIMULATE INTEREST

Port Hope Wants Trent Valley Canal and Thus Asks Toronto's Co-Operation.

Charles Lindsey, registrar of the western division of the city, has written the mayor, calling his attention to the unsafe condition of the vault in his office on Richmond-street. He called the city commissioner's attention to the matter two years ago, but nothing was done and the danger of the whole furnishings, on which rest tins containing thousands of registered documents, falling to the ground and causing immense damage has been since then daily increasing. The registrar asks for immediate action, as any delay may be very serious and even result in loss of life.

The Trent Valley Canal.

The Port Hope Canal Association has written Mayor Urquhart, asking the co-operation of the city in presenting the claims of Port Hope before the transportation commission, as the outlet for the Trent Valley Canal, in preference to Trenton.

The secretary of the association states that the saving in the cost of cordwood alone thru decreased freight rates should suffice to arouse the city's interest. Barges could be laden at any point on the small lakes and conveyed here without transhipment. Saving might also be effected on many other articles of merchandise, such as lumber, stone and general merchandise.

Yonge-St. Bridge Order.

A copy of the Yonge-street bridge order was received by Mayor Urquhart yesterday. The secretary to the railway commission stated that the matter had been overlooked in the transfer of many matters from the railway committee of the privy council to the commission, and this accounted for the delay. The order, which was signed in January, states that the work of construction must be begun by April 1, and completed before Oct. 1, 1904. The bridge is to be of steel and a thoroly modern structure, and after its completion the city must close that portion of Yonge-street which crosses the tracks of the two companies.

Market Pavement.

J. W. Siddall, the city architect on the St. Lawrence market, has again written the board of control regarding the paving of the north section of the market. Mr. Siddall wishes his original recommendation of $3800 carried out, as the arcade between King-street and the market is to be paved with concrete at a cost of $836, and the profit on the work not gone on with must also be considered.

Parks and Gardens.

The parks and gardens committee have recommended that the city council appropriate $35,000 for the Industrial Exhibition, to be applied as follows: Fireproof addition to the art gallery, $13,000; administration building, $20,000; lavatory and conveniences, $2000. It was decided to grant the use of the old main building to the Canadian Furniture Association, for their annual display during the summer.

An extra interim appropriation of $4000 was recommended, making a total of $8000, for the department. A number of applications for city grounds for athletic purposes were referred to Ald. Stewart and Foster and Park Commissioner Chambers for a report.
