Nor is even that all. Here is the very worst, which sets, as Mr. Kipling says, "the gilded roof on the horror." That perverse and incorrigible finance minister declares that when there is another general revision of the Canadian tariff, it should be made upon the principle of establishing different tariffs to deal with different countries. For high tariff countries a maximum rate; for low tariff countries a minimum rate; and for all members of the British empire a substantial reduction from the minimum rate. Truly, in the face of so monstrous a proposition the true minimum rate. Truly, in the face of so monstrous a proposition the true Cobdenite is left speechless with austere reprobation. But, somehow or other, our thrifty and enterprising Canadian cousins seem to like the plan, and we shall not be surprised to see them adopt it, and stick to it, and prosper mightily under its influence.

l'isherman's Luck a Diamond Ring. New York, July 1.—Henry Walter was fishing in Jamaica Bay yesterday, when he felt a fierce tug at his line: He landed a weakfish weighing six lbs. As Walter swung the fish over the gunwale into the boat it spit the hook from its mouth, and with it a small object that glittered. The fisherman rubbed his eyes, but only succeeded in filling them with scales. After washing the scales out Walter was able to ee a diamond ring beside the flopping
