CICOTTE MAY GET
THIRD CHANCE TO COME BACK

Slim Sallee Is Probable Opposition, Though Luque, Cuban, May Be Given Chance.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Pitching selections for the third game of the series scheduled for Redland Field tomorrow were shrouded in uncertainty tonight, but it was generally believed that Manager Gleason of the Sox would send Eddie Cicotte, although beaten twice, against the Reds in a determined effort to again turn the tide of defeat.

"Slim" Sallee, who defeated the Sox 4 to 2 in the second game of the series, probably will be Manager Gleason's pitching choice, although he may decide to give Luque, the Cuban twirler, a chance to face the Chicagoans. Sallee was batted hard in the second game, the Sox getting ten hits, but only succeeded in scoring two runs.

"Today's game was a heart-breaker for the Sox to lose," said Manager Gleason tonight. "We should have won it half a dozen times. But the strain of the series is beginning to tell on my players, and they were a bit unsteady. But they will regain themselves tomorrow and wind it up."

Kerr pitched more balls than either Ruether or Ring. He demonstrated his gameness when he pitched himself out of a couple of tight places and got some erratic support. It is possible that I shall start Sallee against the Sox tomorrow.

"The Sox have hit their winning stride, and although tremendous odds are against us, we are far from out of the race," said Manager Gleason. "The players have begun to hit, and it will be a different story from now on. They slammed everything Ruether and Ring had today, and will do the same thing tomorrow to Sallee if he pitches."

"Despite the fact that the breaks were against us, we played a better game than we have in a long time. We should have clinched the game in the eighth, only for Ruether's lucky catch of Ruether's liver. It would have gone for a double sure, and we would have secured two runs. I am proud of Kerr's pitching and his remarkable gameness.

"I have every confidence that Cicotte can beat Cincinnati, and may start him tomorrow if I think he is right."

Winning Counter Comes in 10th Inning of 5-4 Game That Saw Ruether, Erstwhile Idol, Knocked From Box and Dick Kerr Win Second Sox Victory—Ring, Relieving Ruether, Was Wild, But Received Great Support—Buck Weaver Mighty Walloper of Game.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The person who was directed yesterday to ship up the pole at Redland Park and measure it for the world's championship bunting slid the shaft a bit today, and the measuring was postponed. The reason was that the Chicago Sox did not dare lose today's game, for with it would have gone the championship, they overcame a four-run lead and by delivering one more tally in the tenth won the game, five runs to four for Cincinnati.

It was a contest replete with thrills and heart-breaks, varied by some weird fielding, snappy base-running, mighty clouts, mad catches, and, in short, practically everything relating to baseball.

Cincinnati looked like a certain winner in the third and fourth innings, in the course of which four Redlegs crossed the plate. In the fifth, however, the White Sox turned two passes and a single into a tally, and in the sixth, struck out, but Gandil who had pitched the first two innings, which tied the score. To Buck Weaver, sterling third baseman, who wielded a mighty stick in the game, fell the distinction of recording the winning run in the tenth. He was first man up, and he doubled to centre, his second two-sacker of the game, and then began to chant encouragement to Ring, who had displaced Ruether, as pitcher for the Reds.

The Necessary One. In a contest replete with thrills and heart-breaks, varied by some weird fielding, snappy base-running, mighty clouts, mad catches, and, in short, practically everything relating to baseball.

Jackson tried a bunt and missed, but on a second attempt the ball dribbled a few feet down the third-base line, and while the ball was perfectly fielded, Jackson scored the initial sack with time to spare, Weaver landing on third. "Happy" Felsch, who had delivered a double in the sixth inning, struck out, but Gandil who had pitched the first two innings, which tied the score. To Buck Weaver, sterling third baseman, who wielded a mighty stick in the game, fell the distinction of recording the winning run in the tenth. He was first man up, and he doubled to centre, his second two-sacker of the game, and then began to chant encouragement to Ring, who had displaced Ruether, as pitcher for the Reds.

The crowd gave him a rousing welcome, but although he held his adversaries listless during the first three innings, experts noted that the Sox were slugging the ball savagely into the outfield, or sizzling it down the foul lines in a way that was not present in the first game. There was none out in the sixth, when Manager Gleason, miffed in sorrow that in anger, beckoned him to the bench, and Jim Ring, a left-hander, came in to replace him. In the seventh, Ring was called on to save the day. He was wild, but effective, until the tenth inning, aided by some sparkling fielding. At Chicago, was again called upon by Manager Gleason, and although he was hit by two well scattered, save for his two bad innings.

The stands were packed when J. Collins, the first of the Sox batsmen, faced Ruether. He popped a high one which Ruether captured by back of second base, surrounded by Neale, Daubert and Kopf, who had journeyed from their respective stations, as it might have belonged to any of them. Eddie Collins hit viciously for an out at centre.

In the Red's half Groh doubled after out by Rath and Daubert. Risher at short jogged Roush's grounder until the runner was safe, but Groh overran third, and Risher threw to Weaver for an out.

The feature of the second inning, otherwise unadorned, was the forced-out of Duncan. Ruether's fumble got a life on Risher's fumble, grounded to Kerr, who ignored the batsman and snapped a high one to Weaver, who, however, trapped it with his ungloved hand and caught Duncan. Risher then tapped one to Eddie Collins, whose throw to Risher killed the run. In the third, Roush was remembered by cheering by the crowd, responded with an easy out to Kopf to Gandil.

In the fourth, Schalk walked, and was sacrificed to second, but got no farther.

Fireworks Start. In the third inning the scoring began. Rath was retired, E. Collins to Gandil, and Daubert singled to right. In the second, Groh fanned, and Roush was hit by a pitched ball. There were now two on bases, and the crowd began calling for a run. Duncan responded with a terrific double, scored Daubert and Roush, amid a tumult in the stands. Roush was remembered by cheering by the crowd, responded with an easy out to Kopf to Gandil.

One isolated and useless single marked the Sox's half of the fourth. In their half the Reds accounted for more tallies. Neale sent one to right field, which took an eccentric bound, and J. Collins cut across the field, and it rolled on for a triple. Risher was an out. E. Collins to Gandil, Neale being held easily at third. Ruether Forced Ruether at second a moment later, ending the round.

In the tenth inning Weaver doubled and Jackson singled, sending Weaver to third. Sacrifice hits—Kerr, Daubert, Roush, and Risher. Gandil responded with a single to centre which sent Weaver home with the winning run. Jackson took second on the play. Risher lined to Kopf and Jackson was doubled out.

In the Red's half Roush went out. Collins to Gandil. Duncan fouled out to Schalk and Kopf was easy by the Collins-Gandil routine.

NORWICH TRUNDLERS FAIL TO LIFT PENMAN TROPHY

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 7.—For the third time in ten days the local bowlers successfully defended the Penman trophy against outside clubs. This afternoon two rios of Norwich bowlers, from whom the Woodstock trundlers secured the trophy, made an attempt to lift the silverware donated at the Penman tournament. Both local rinks were up, when the play was concluded. The Long-silver quartet had a majority of four shots, while the rink skipped by G. F. Mahon had the lone end, 27 to 11, the silverware donated at the Penman tournament. Both local rinks were up, when the play was concluded. If Cicotte gets another try today it will probably be the first time that a pitcher has had a chance to make a come-back after two failures. Cicotte's first effort was hopeless. His second performance not too creditable, with his booting away of his own game practically, and yet in the face of this Gleason will probably prop him up again. If he does go back a lot of fans will be with him on his gameness.

Probably this won't be a nine-game series after all, though. They may keep playing on into the winter, until Cicotte does win a game.

Reuther's rise and fall was sudden coming and going. After the flag is finally nailed to one of two masts, and it looks like the one further away from the North Pole than even "Doc" Cook was. Reuther's performance will be the outstanding performance of the series—and the down-falling, too.

If Gleason is wise, even if he does win today, he'll postpone ordering the flags for a few days. He might go ahead with the digging, though.

The challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton for the American cup is the first actual international sporting challenge since the closing of the war. His half-brother, Shamrock IV., was crossing the Atlantic under her own sail in 1914, when she was forced to put into Bermuda on a declaration of war.

Polo will again be to the fore internationally, but nearly all the members of the last English team have made their last big rush for gold in Weap and Egypt and in France. The first few months of the year saw most of the class from which the polo players of old England were drawn "gone west" or disabled and lost to the sport.

DOPE SHOWS KERR WAS STEADIEST IN PINCHES

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Dick Kerr, midwest southpaw pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, again today was the hero of the White Sox routers after having pitched his team to another victory here today in the sixth of the world's series baseball games.

Walter Ruether, season hero of Cincinnati's victory in the first game, blew up in the sixth inning, and was sent to the bench. Jimmy Ring, the Redlegs' right-hander who pitched a winning game for his club at Chicago last week, finished.

Although Cincinnati knocked eleven hits off Kerr, while Ruether and Ring were touched only for four hits, an analysis of today's pitching record shows that Kerr pitched a steeper curve to the little twirler walked only two men and struck out two. Ruether and Ring gave a total of six bases on balls and six errors.

Kerr gave a total of only 50 balls, while the Cincinnati pitchers threw 65 wide ones. The White Sox star put over 27 strikes and his opponents 24. Ruether and Ring were touched for 34 hits, of which 10 were safe. Cincinnati got 35 clouts at the ball, 11 of which were safe. Twenty-four fouls were struck off the pitchers and only 10 off Kerr.

Grace Direct After Two Easy Wins, Has Hard Drive in Finish at Grand Circuit.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 7.—The feature of today's racing at the meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Association was the Phoenix Hotel purse, in which Direct C. Burnett was favorite, but the favorite led until within a short distance of the wire, where Cox, behind Frank Dewey, came with a rush and won with something to spare.

Grace Direct, which had paced an easy mile the first heat, won the second in easy fashion, after which she defeated her field in a hard drive in the third mile.

In the 3-year-old Futurity, Julius De Forest was an odds-on favorite, but failed to win, the race going to the Calor, Calvary Earl and Johnny Quirk. Best time—2:03 1/2.

The 2:06 pace was a drawn-out affair, with three heat-winners. The two favorites, Calgary Earl and Johnny Quirk, were down in defeat to Direct the Work, an extreme outsider.

The 2:12 class trot was a tame affair, Jesse Y. winning the first two heats, and D. J. Burke the third.

The Christian by a few inches. In the other heats Lord Seymour came from behind and sprinted by the leaders in the last five heats.

Valerie Todd won a very good race, and, while she won with something to spare, she did not have it any too easy. The 3-year-old Patrick Todd gave to Valerie Todd an argument in the second heat and was not beaten until they passed the distance station.

Valerie Todd was in the slow pace, beating one after another, and appearing to be quite the best.
