CON WALSH MAKES WORLD'S RECORD WITH THE FIFTY-SIX POUND WEIGHT

Good judges favor the Dyment candidates at this stage as likely to land the King's Plate, regardless of the big field and the long string Mr. Searam has to his bow. The despatch from Barrie, stating that McCarthy will likely have the leg up on Courtown II., will give additional confidence to the supporters of the Brookdale horse.

Followers of the thorobreds will be glad to know that with to-morrow's issue of The Sunday World their old friend, Pop, will resume his inimitable Topics of the Turf.

The crowd at St. Lawrence Arena hardly recognized the wonderful performance of Con. Walsh last night with the 56 lb. weight, who heaved the ponderous missile 31-2 inches higher than the best previous indoor record in one attempt, rattling the platform aloft, showing that the throw was easily good for an inch or more. The height was 15 feet 31-2 inches, Martin Sheridan's best out-door record being just 21-2 inches less. The easy defeat of Percy Sellen by McQuaig of Hamilton, a protege of Sherring, at three miles, was another feature of the second night of the carnival.

the best previous indoor record in one attempt, ratifing the platform aloft, showing that the throw was easily good for an inch or more. The easy defeat of Percy Sellen by McQuaig of Hamilton, a protege of Sherring, at three miles, was another feature of the second night of the carnival.

The candidature of Tom Eck and Wm. Sherring for the management of the Canadian Olympic team should dwindle infinitesimally when the name of James L. Hughes is mentioned. It is understood the Toronto public school inspector and veteran supporter of all forms of manly games, would consider an honorary appointment, and thus there should be nothing left but for Col. Hanbury-Williams and his committee to make the appointment. Then Messrs. Eck and Sherring would be notst useful in the capacity of first and second trainers to the Canadian Olympic team.

Throws 56 lb. Weight for Height 15 Feet 9 1-2 Inches, Which Breaks Former Mark by 3 1-8 Inches---The Summary.

As was expected from Thursday night's showing, "Con." Walsh last night established a world's record in the 56 lb. throw for height. The record, which was held by Mitchell of New York with 15 feet 6 3-8 inches, was broken by 3 1-1 inches, Walsh throwing it 15 ft 9 1-2 inches. BARRIE, April 10.—It's a pretty fine string of thorobreds that Johnny Dyment has in training over at the Brookdale Farm, and this week I was privileged to pay a visit to the stable's headquarters and see the animals on review. The horses have wintered exceedingly well and without exception there is not an unlikely looking one in the whole lot—a fact which speaks volumes for the pains and attention bestowed upon them by their skilful handlers, under the vigilant mentorship of Mr. Dyment himself. Our Canadian climate is undoubtedly trying to both Mr. Dyment himself. Our Canadian mate is undoubtedly trying to both an and beast during the grip of the e King, and the job of keeping a nich of racers in proper condition for e following season is never a sine-re, but on the contrary calls for illity and care of the highest order, at with the advent of spring comes by to the training camp, and, as the

But with the advent of spring comes joy to the training camp, and, as the days grow sunny and warm, horses and boys begin to "loosen up," as they say, and the work of preparation for the track assumes a serious and business-like form. Just at present the mile course is not ready for use, and it will probably not be for another week or ten days. However, the racers are not losing anything on this account, as they are getting plenty of stunts to do in the fields, and have to be gradually advanced before the real work of "breezing" commences.

six weeks away, and naturally a great deal of interest centres in the guineas candidates, Courtown II. and Excise. They certainly look like a pair of aces, and it would not be surprising if the entry should rule favorite in the betting when the horses go to the post on May 23. Of course, many things may happen in the interval, but bar accident it will take a mighty good province-bred to beat the Dyment brace for the classic event.

Old Tongorder appears to be in fine fettle, and if his legs, which gave trouble last fall, should hold out he will fool the ring again this year, as he has done before. He is entered for the Toronto Cup at the Woodbine meeting. Temeraire has been gelded and is a much larger horse than he was as a three-year-old. It's to be hoped he redeems himself the coming season.
