Horwood So Testified Regarding Course of Former Public Works Engineer.

TWO WEEKS' LYING

Dr. Montague Countenanced False Testimony, According to the Witness.

WINNIPEG. Aug. 7 .- A. J. Andrews, for the defence, continued today his cross-examination of V. W. Horwood, at the opening of the third week of the trial of the ex-ministers sefore Judge Prendergast and a jury

Andrews asked again about the work of John Sweeney, formerly engineer with the public works department. Sweeney, said witness, was "trying to protect the amounts of concrete in the caissons."

This was after the sessions of the public accounts committee. Sweeney, he said, "knew the facts and was trying to protect" a price of $40 per 1000 feet for lumber in the caissons, and on one occasion when witness was in Sweeney's office, the latter said witness turned up certain records in the ness turned up certain records in the Dominion public works file and found that for St. Andrew's locks some $40 was paid for lumber.

"That was during construction by the Liberal government?" asked counsel.

the Liberal government?" asked counsel.

"He told me so," was the reply.

Permitted to Lie.

Witness said that the grillage contract, at $215,000, was excessive and Dr. Montague insisted upon it including the steel practically to the roof, and he agreed that Montague was doing what was right.

"Dr. Montague," said witness, "allowed me to lie for two weeks before the public accounts committee. Asked for corroboration of this statement, Horwood said the minister allowed him to give evidence on the grillage contract as including steel practically to the roof when witness had paid the contract before the work was completed and "had to protect that." The judge summed up the dispute over this contract by saying all parties were agreed that the contract originally did not include enough steel to justify it. More steel was included, which was a proper procedure. The crown, said his lordship, contended with Horwood, that the ministers changed the contract begause they knew it was excessive and could not be justified, while Andrews claimed the ministers did not know the actual facts, and as soon as Montague found conditions were not right he put in more steel.

"Assuming there was some mistake in the contract there was no impropriety in doing away with it? suggested counsel.

"I can't see why I should be kept in my position if I made a mistake was the reply. Montague told him the contract had been destroyed.

Juryman Reprimanded.

In adjourning the court the judge administered a severe reprimand to an unnamed juryman for "the very strange manner in which he acted on Sunday." His lordship stated the court could not countenance any juryman going across the street, evading constables to mail a letter and at a later period the of-fending juryman would be brought before him and severely punished if a proper explanation could not be given. The judge enlarged on the duty owing by the jury and the fact that they were kept in custody to prevent im-

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Aug. 6.-With eference to the deportation of S. S. McClure from Great Britain, The Providence Journal says:

"Mr. McClure has long been suspected by the British authorities of unneutral activities of a most vigorous character, in which work he is charged with having used his American citizenship as a cloak. It is asserted that, taking advantage of the latitude allowed him to pass unmo-

The United States secret service secured possession of evidence showing that Dr. Rumely was using his office as a centre of the German propaganda as a centre of the German propaganda system in New York. It was into the midst of these conditions that Mr. McClure was induced to enter the service of The Evening Mail, and on his recent European trip he was carefully watched by the British authorities.

"They claim to have discovered sufficient evidence to justify their action of this week in ordering Mr. Mc-Clure's deportation from England,"

OF DANISH WEST INDIES WHEN WILL WAR END QUESTION OFT HEARD

"When will the war be over?" This is the universal question, and every-body asks somebody else for an an-swer almost every day of the week. Armchair war critics speak with profound knowledge of the subject, their bold prophecies are changed from day to day. But underwriters at Lloyd's cannot afford to risk money on mere guesswork, and they are willing to lay, in familiar sporting language:
7 to 1 against the war being over in

5 to 2 against the war being over The Presidential Candidate Be-Evens against the war being over by July 1, 1917.

Not a great deal of business being done in these risks. What en-quiries there are come from manufacturers, who have contracts which depend on the duration of the war.

Official Statement.

The official statement follows:

"In reference to the fighting in the Katin district, the general officer commanding in chief in Egypt reports that our artillery, rifle and machine gun fire was most effective, and that the Turkish losses in killed or wounded appear from all accounts to have been very heavy. Late on the evening of Aug. 5 territorial infantry gallantly carried a strong rear guard position. Our pursuit of the Turkish has been continued for a distance of 18 miles, and they are now well clear of the Katia-Umaisha basin.

"The number of unwounded prisoners taken by us now amounts to 45 officers and 3100 men, and they are a very fine body of men."

body of men."

Loss Fourth of Effectives.

"The net results of the battle of Romani are the destruction of more than one-fourth of the Turkish effectives and the pushing of the remainder out into the blazing desert beyond the Katia Oases," said Mejor-Gen. F. B. Maurice, director of military operations of the imperial general staff, in explaining to the Associated Press today the significance of the latest operations in the near east.

"You will recall," he continued, "that in the previous attack on the canal we

Our artillery, infantry and cavalry cooperated not only in repelling but in attacking the enemy, with such satisfactory results that he is liable to have an uncomfortable time recrossing the desert at this season of the year. Our advance has reached within a short distance of the edge of the Katia.

"There is no question the Germans encouraged the latest Turkish attempt on the canal in an effort to prevent us from sending any of our forces to the western front, but the disastrous result shows we have provided adequately for the safety of the Suez Canal. In accomplishing this we suffered comparatively few casualties, many of which consisted of slight wounds,"
