THE ROBINS PLAYERS.

When a play is so thoroughly engrossing that you forget that you are in a theatre and leave with the reluctant feeling that you are parting from delightful friends, there can be no question but that it is a good play, and that is exactly the effect of "Rich Man, Poor Man," the latest drama from the pen of George Broadhurst. Next week's performance of "Rich Man, Poor Man" at the Alexandra will mark another first release for stock to be produced by this company.

CANOE CLUB MINSTRELS.

The big theatrical event locally is the entertainment to be given by the Toronto Canoe Club Minstrels at the Grand Opera House on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with a popular price matinee on Wednesday. The sale of seats for the entire performance indicates that the boys are going to play to capacity business, and as the proceeds are to be devoted to the needs of their own 155 members in khaki the greatest enthusiasm prevails to make the affair a big success. The chorus numbers 50 voices, under the direction of Jack Fox, with sixteen and men under the guidance of Will G. Reilly.

CHARACTERS IN "THE WHIP."

One of the delights of "The Whip" is the splendid delineation given to the characters in this, the world's biggest motion picture, by the actors who play the leading parts, and also by those who play the smaller parts. "The Whip" will be presented twice daily at the Grand Opera House, commencing Thursday, May 10.

THE HIPPODROME.

The Ellis Newman Troupe in "A Day at the Circus" will headline the bill at the Hippodrome next week. William Desmond will be featured in the new release, "Fudd o' Hare." Lina and Amelia, Coonors and Foley, the Stroud Trio, "Gems of Art," Albany and Troy and "Keystone" film comedies complete the bill.

AT SHEA'S.

Paul Morton and Naomi Glass will headline the bill at Shea's Theatre next week in a musical satire, "1917—1920." Mrs. Vernon Castle will be seen in the eighth episode of "Patricia." Belle Baker presents a new series of character songs, while Harris and Manly will offer "Uncle Jerry at the Opera." Ward and Van, Meehan's Leaping Canines, Beeman and Anderson, "the speed boys" complete the bill.

LOEW'S YONGE ST. THEATRE.

Two big vaudeville headliners appear at Loew's Theatre next week. One will be "A Farside Revue," and the other Dorothy Burton, in her new sketch "Little Doctor O'Hare." Bernard in "See My Lawyer," Kenner and Rose, Cornelia and Adele, Gaston Palmer, and the illuminated together with a five-act photo-production, "The Butcher Boy," complete the bill.

STAR.

Pretty girls, catchy music and good clean funmaking is the offering of the management of the Chicken Trust which opens for a week at the Star Theatre on Monday. There are girls in the chorus and they will be seen many times during the action of the performance. The illuminated running board, Stella Morrissey, Caroline Warner, Babe Palmer, Joe Wilson, Danny Murphy and the three Pecks are the headliners.

FANNIE WARD AT MADISON.

Charming and clever Fannie Ward in her latest vehicle, "A School for Husbands," will be the chief attraction at the Madison Theatre for the first half of next week. In this brilliant photoplay Miss Ward has the role of the economical wife of a spendthrift husband.

GALLI-CURCI COMING.

The Galli-Curci concert in Massey Hall on Wednesday, May 16, from all reports that reach us, will be a magnificent success, and the managers predict a "sold out" house on the occasion. This is not an age of sudden musical triumphs, such as we read about in history—Pauline Viardot, Lind and others. When, therefore, in the case of an artist totally unheralded, all the critics within range of her voice suddenly vie with each other in the use of superlatives, the event stardom is the musical world.

OPERA SINGER AT STRAND.

In connection with the presentation of the famous war picture "Mothers of France," at the Strand Theatre all next week, the management has arranged for Madame Maubourg, a vocalist of worldwide renown, from the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, and also of the Opera Comique, Paris, to give vocal selections appropriate to the story of the picture throughout the performance.

week. Madame Maubourg will sing at the matinee and also in the evening.

DOUBLE BILL AT REGENT.

Two big features, starting two of the best known film stars, Kitty Gordon in "The Crucial Test," and Marie Dressler in "Tilly Wakes Up," will constitute an exceptional offering at the Regent next week. The twelfth episode of "The Secret Kingdom" will be shown for the first five days only.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Yesterday morning at St. Anne's Parish House the women's auxiliary of the Church of England continued their sessions, the conferences of officers and departments being the special work. In the afternoon money on hand in the extra-cent-a-day fund and in other branches were voted to mission work. Today will be devoted to conferences of the junior branches.

This includes $400, the result of the appeal to graduates of the University of Toronto, $1410.84 from the Ontario Society for the Reformation of Inebriates, and $140 from the Victoria College Ladies' Choral Club. ## PRESENT FAIRY PLAY.

At the presentation of a fairy play, written by Mrs. W. E. Groves and given by the ninth company of the Girl Guides in Perth avenue school, forty girls took part. Lady Pellatt, chief commissioner, was present, and in the course of the evening was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, as was also Captain Barron of the girl guides.

SARAH BERNHARDT AT BATTLEFRONT

"Mothers of France" Shows Actual Scenes of Present Day Warfare.

There can be no question but that the work of Sarah Bernhardt in "Mothers of France," the great photo-drama to be presented all next week at the Strand Theatre, in conjunction with The Toronto World, is by far the finest for which that greatest of all tragediennes has been responsible before the camera. She has been seen before now in dramatic roles on the screen. But in "Mothers of France" she is seen on the battlefield, in the base hospitals, in the trenches right up to the firing line, and amid all the devastation wrought by the Hun on Rheims Cathedral.

This magnificent picture was taken under the direction of the French Government—a fact that speaks for itself as to the authenticity of the operations shown. Indeed, it is the co-operation of the French military authorities which imparts its significance. The story is written and produced by Jean Richepin, member of the French Academy, all the locations are real, the action taking place in the very towns and villages around which the story was written.

It is a touching and tender, but typical, story that M. Richepin has written for us. In the Village of Meurcy, in France, live the family of Madame Marsay, their farm being conducted by the devoted father, consisting of father, mother and Pierre, an adopted orphan. Marie and Victor are lovers, they have not acknowledged their love for each other, because Marie, to please her parents, has become betrothed to Martin Saxe, the village schoolmaster. The Marsays are awaiting the return of their son, a lieutenant in the army. He arrives, and suddenly comes the call to mobilize. All the young men of the village leave for the front. Mrs. Marsay's husband is in command at Champagne. Her son's regiment includes Pierre and the schoolmaster, Saxe. Mrs. Marsay is a mother of the military hospital at Rheims. Word is brought to her that her son is mortally wounded. She defies military regulations and goes to him and dies in his arms.

Shortly after this she hears of the death of her husband from Saxe, who returns from the front blinded. But with the true spirit of a "Mother of France," she returns to her duties of succoring the wounded and binding up the hearts of the bereaved. Martin Saxe, feeling that he can now be nothing but a drag on the girl he loves, releases her from her promise of marriage. Ultimately she weds Pierre.
