MONTREAL, April 21st, 1877.

DEAR MISS HERVEY :—

Many thanks for the "Second Annual Report of the Murray Bay Convalescent Home," the perusal of which has much gratified me.

In common with many other physicians I am satisfied that such an institution will do much good in supplying a want long felt by the poorer classes whose means prevent them from availing themselves of the benefits often to be derived from a residence at the seaside, especially during the hot months of the year. I have no doubt many persons will contribute to its support when its claims have become known to them.

With best wishes for the success of your good work,

Sincerely yours,

R. P. HOWARD, M.D.

DEAR MISS HERVEY :—

I desire to thank you very much for the "Fourth Annual Report of the Murray Bay Convalescent Home"—an undertaking which I consider second to none as an important and effective aid towards the complete recovery of many who would otherwise be forced to endure many days of protracted suffering.

The change of air, quiet and comforts they obtain at the Murray Bay Home has frequently resulted in a cure, and very much ameliorated the condition of others.

During my stay in Murray Bay last summer I had the opportunity of visiting the Home, and I have much pleasure in testifying to its great usefulness.

Hoping that you may be as successful during the coming summer,

With kind regards believe me, dear Miss Hervey,

Very sincerely yours,

JOHN REDDY, M.D.

MY DEAR MISS HERVEY :—

Hearing that you proposed extending the benefits of your "Convalescent Home" at Murray Bay by purchasing larger accommodation, I have much pleasure in testifying to the great benefit such a "Home" is to people of limited means.

Having had occasion to advise rest and change of air as absolutely necessary to recovery, your "Home" at Murray Bay afforded in several cases the only
