AMONG the numerous medical preparations which have come before the public during the present century none can lay a just claim to an equal popularity with that of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Many so-called medical discoveries have been introduced, and by dint of advertising have come into notice for a time, but these have speedily sunk into oblivion, leaving a world of pain behind them, which they were powerless to help. Not so with Dr.
Thomas' Eclectic Oil as this truly marvellous production of medical science appeared as a star of the first magnitude and has continued to blaze with ever increasing brilliancy for a quarter of a century. Its name is now a household word in every part of the Dominion and no home should feel safe without it. It may truthfully be said to be a panacea for most of the ills that flesh is heir to; it has, in short, proved a blessing to mankind.

The mass of testimony which has come to hand bearing on the wonderful efficacy
and curative properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil leaves no shadow of doubt to rest upon it. But the most satisfactory evidence in its favor is the large and ever increasing demand there is for it. Last year there were sold by the Canadian proprietors alone close on three hundred and fifty thousand bottles, nearly one thousand bottles for every day in the year. Just think of this all ye suffering ones and if you have not already got a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil lose no time in applying to your nearest medicine dealer for it. "A friend in need is a friend indeed," and what better evidence can you have that Dr.
Thomas' Eclectic Oil is a true friend than the fact that the demand for it is so enormous.

It is very doubtful if the general consumer desires to know what ingredients go to make up a famous medicine. All he should care about is to be convinced by personal experience and by the experience of others that it cures. In all fairness to the merits of the Oil this much might be stated however, that it is a combination of six essential oils containing all the virtues of the plants from which they are distilled; it is free from alcohol and will not therefore lose its strength through evaporation. Another strong point in its favor is its cheapness, as it takes so little to do so much; in other words it affords the maximum of cure in return for the minimum of cost, a great consideration during hard times.

There is still another and a very powerful argument in favor of Dr. Thomas' Eclec-tric Oil—it is alike good for man or beast.
It is the farmer's friend in a double sense, for not only will it produce wonderful results in case of accident or sickness in his family, but it will be found equally effective if used in the stable. The Oil is recommended with every degree of confidence to owners of horses and other stock. There is scarcely a disease or an accident to which animals are subject over which the Oil, if judiciously administered or applied, will not obtain complete mastery. It has effected permanent cures in cases where the veterinary surgeon

has had to acknowledge himself completely baffled; in fact it is universally acknowledged to be the best horse and cattle medicine ever made, and of course it will be found equally helpful in the case of smaller animals. On the ground of humanity, apart from the consideration of self-interest, every farmer in the land should have a supply of the Oil always on hand. Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil is a magical compound, and as a medicine as nearly approaches the fabulous "Elixir of Life" about which we read so much of in bygone ages, as any thing of the kind that has come before the public in modern times.

It is as a natural result, constantly finding new friends, and never losing old ones, both of which facts speak more eloquently in its favor than anything that can be written had we the oratorical power of a Cicero or the eloquence of the younger Demosthenes. What more need be said to recommend the Oil to that remnant of suffering humanity who are as yet ignorant of its remarkable virtues.
