

greatest elegance. Mr. Williams is very attentive to business, and, by his attention, courtesy and good workmanship, has secured a large share of patronage. His work gives general satisfaction. He receives the British and American fashion plates monthly, and thus keeps posted in the fashions of both countries. Mr. Williams keeps in stock some of the finest fabrics to be found in the trade, which include English and Canadian tweeds, broadcloth and doeskins, and trimmings of excellent quality. Remember his address, 24 Queen Street, and read page 134.

JOHN BELL.

This well-known Establishment, which is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieut. Governor of the Island, is one of the oldest of the kind in the City. Mr. Bell's long experience in and practical knowledge of the business, enable him to turn out garments of every description, of superior workmanship and the latest style of fashion. The materials and trimmings kept in stock are of the finest quality, as he buys exclusively in the best markets, and on the most favorable terms. He is in a position to supply the latest novelties in textures, colors, tweeds, diagonals, doeskins, fancy vestings. and, indeed, every article connected with the trade. His place of business is on Kent Street, between Queen and Pownal Streets. Read carefully page 93.

Groceries.

DAVISON & CO.,

Grocers and general dealers, are located on the corner of Great George and Kent streets. They have an extensive stock of all kinds of goods in their line. Here the intending purchaser will find a valuable assortment of teas, coffees, sugars, dried fruit, pickles, spices, confectionery and fancy goods and a host of miscellaneous articles always found in a first class family store. This firm is well established, and their reputation for selling goods of sterling quality at moderate prices is well known not only in the city but in the country. In fact they might very appropriately use as their watchword the sensible motto "small profits and quick returns." Read their advertisement on page 226.