"Be good to your face!"

GLOUCESTER SENDS WORTHY SOLDIER

(Northern Light.)
One of the most prominent young men of Bathurst, J. Edmund White, has felt the call to duty so far as to sacrifice his brilliant future in order to enlist. He is now home on leave for several weeks in order to wind up his business. His Bathurst friends regret to see him leaving, yet they cannot help feeling that he is showing a splendid example to all those other young men who have nothing whatever to deter them from offering their services to their country.

A large number of the friends of F. W. Barry, proprietor of the Barry Hotel, Grand Anse, met at his home Sunday evening the 11th October, and gave him a supper as a farewell tribute before his departure for Sussex. Mr. Barry's action in offering himself for service has made a deep impression on the young men of Grand Anse and vicinity, and will likely result in more enlistments from that section.
Byron Windsor, youngest son of Mrs. A. E. Windsor of Misou Harbor, has been a student at Mount Allison, and this week saying good-bye to his people on the eve of his departure for the front with the Dalhousie University Medical Corps.

A Beauty Hint

The Bugbear of Blackheads

XAMINE your skin closely and see if blackheads are forming under the skin—especially round the nose, mouth and chin. Blackheads are a confession of the use of the wrong method of cleansing for the type of skin subject to this disfiguring trouble. The following Woodbury treatment will keep such a skin free from blackheads.

Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly—always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. Finish by rubbing the face for a few minutes with a piece of ice. Dry the skin carefully.

Do not expect to get the desired result by using this treatment for a time and then neglecting it. But make it a daily habit and it will give you the clear, attractive skin that the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads. Thereafter, use the above Woodbury treatment in your daily toilet.

A 25c cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap is sufficient for a month or six weeks of this treatment. Get a cake today. It is made in Canada and is for sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast.

MILITARY TEST FOR BULLET-PROOF CLOTH

(Montreal Gazette.)
This morning Brig-Gen. Wilson, with several of the officers of the garrison, will attend a contest between the Ross rifle and a newly invented bullet proof cloth. Little is known as yet as to this modern armor, save that it is contended that it will stop a bullet, although what would happen to the man behind the cloth when the bullet hit it is not stated. Instructions were yesterday received by Brig-Gen. Wilson from headquarters at Ottawa to make a test of the bullet proof cloth today, and the test will be made this morning. The exact location is not announced, as crowds are not wanted when bullets are flying. It is understood that the test will be made by firing with a regular Ross rifle at a bag of grain wrapped in the bullet proof cloth, the shots being fired at various distances, so as to test thoroughly the repellent capacities of the material.

SAYS UNPREPAREDNESS TEMPTED GERMANS

Inglewood, N. J., Nov. 12.—"With our meagre army of 80,000 men stretched out on a front of fifty miles to prevent an invasion, they would appear as scarce as pheasants in New Jersey, for I have hunted here often," said Hudson Maxim, during an address to a monster mass meeting in the Inglewood armory under the auspices of the National Security League.
Mr. Maxim drew the comparison to show the unpreparedness in the United States. He created some enthusiasm by declaring that our women would be subjected to the same monstrous treatment meted out to the Belgian women if the enemy came to our shores, "and this is no fairy tale, either," shouted the famous inventor. "The only thing we have now to save us from complete degradation and humiliation is our navy. The British were criminally responsible for the war in Europe by tempting the Germans with their unpreparedness, and we had better take the object lesson. If there should be an invasion of our Atlantic Coast under present conditions I should take Horace Greeley's advice and go west."

GERMAN SNIPER WAS BETRAYED BY TEETH

Masqueraded Behind British Lines as Old French Farmer—Had Killed Many Soldiers

We got a beast of a sniper this morning, writes a correspondent from some where in France, and the manner of his taking was rather curious. His teeth betrayed him. We are about 800 yards from the nearest German trench and like all regiments we suffer a good deal from want of drinking water. About half a mile to our immediate west is a small stream, and we used to steal out at night for water. But we were constantly sniped. Two of our men had been wounded, and two others only just missed, and the firing came from somewhere behind our lines.

Highly indignant.
A day's close search revealed nothing, and meantime there was no water, and our chief was getting savage and sarcastic. So early in the morning, just before the dawn, we threw out a great lot of men and gradually beat inward, but found nothing but a shapeless old French farmer driving his ridging plow for potatoes. We questioned him, but he flew into a rage because we were tramping over his beloved ground and ordered us off. Many of our men speak French and worried the old man, but he knew nothing of an "espion" and "sacred thunders" would we get off his field, or must he complain to the general, who would be just?
We could do nothing but leave, and our subaltern reported to the chief, saying that the old farmer had gnashed his teeth at us, and "holly fine teeth, and clean, too," pursued the sub, reflectively.
Fully armed.
"What?" snapped the chief. "Mr.

Jones, you will take a couple of men and go carefully to this old farmer, engage him in conversation whilst your men pin him from behind suddenly. I don't want to lose men capturing a dangerous sniper with clean teeth."
Enlightened and feeling rather ashamed of himself, the sub, turned away, got a couple of men, and secured the old farmer. Oh, but he fought like a tiger, and the three men were rolling over and over on the ground for some time before he could be safely tied. He was a young man, and a search revealed a belt of rifle cartridges and two automatic pistols of German make. Later in the day we found a little dugout in a ditch with a rifle hidden away under a screen of brushwood.

Russians Not Affected by Winter.
London, Nov. 12.—The correspondent of the Times at the headquarters of General Ruzsky's northern Russian army says the premature advent of winter has not affected the Russian plans, as the rivers and ground have not yet frozen. In the Dvina Valley there has been no interference with railway work and supplies are coming satisfactorily. The correspondent adds that the refugees who recently encumbered the entire region have disappeared, thus relieving the pressure on the railway system.

An Imperial pass for a year is one of the prizes in the patriotic drawing. Fifty grand prizes in the patriotic drawing.
