

Death Sentence For The Two Men Who Killed Field Marshal Wilson

Dunn and O'Sullivan, who must die for murder of Field Marshal Wilson.

London, July 18.—In the Old Bailey today, at the opening of the trial of Reginald Dunn and Joseph O'Sullivan, charged with the murder of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, both prisoners admitted that they shot the famous Irish soldier last month. The judge, however, said he would treat this statement as a plea of not guilty, as the defendants refused to say anything further.

Besides the murder of Field Marshal Wilson, the prisoners are indicted on charges of attempting to murder two police constables and a taxi driver. The assassination charge, however, was the only one taken up at today's trial. Attorney-General Sir Ernest Pollock, Travers Humphreys and Eustace Fulton

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Premier Lloyd George in the course of a speech recently said that he and his government were quite prepared to assent to the bestowal of honors. This statement was made in view of the criticism of the decorations and honors bestowed by the British government.

A suggestion tending to solve the question of payment of reparations has been made recently and is being considered seriously by representatives of England and France. The proposal is to reduce the German indemnity to 50,000,000,000 gold marks from the present total of 132,000,000,000 and the cancellation of the French debt to Great Britain. The French government is said to be favorable to the plan provided they are assured of assistance in time of attack and of the allotment, wholly or in part, of Great Britain's twenty-two per cent share of the total indemnity. Great Britain is understood to be favorable if full acceptance on the part of the French government is obtained.

RUBBER FLOOR COVERING.

While the idea of using rubber for floor covering was originated by Thomas Hancock in 1846, the application of the idea was at first limited to rubber matting and, more recently, to rubber tiling. With the cheaper cost of crude rubber and the various attempts to discover new uses, there has developed an interest in the manufacture of rubber floor coverings similar to linoleum.

Perhaps because the use of linoleum is more general in Europe than in America, certain British firms have taken the lead in producing this article, according to E. G. Holt, acting chief of the rubber division of the U. S. Department of Commerce. One of these has developed a rubber carpet, known as "parafloor," which is reversible, soft to tread and of generally good appearance. It is furnished in various shades to suit almost any color scheme, and is obtainable in rolls forty-eight inches wide and 100 feet long. The usual thickness is one-eighth of an inch, and the weight per square yard at that thickness is about eleven pounds. It retails in England at about twenty shillings a square yard.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The peroxide powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of peroxide powder dissolves them and the pores close right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get peroxide powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

ince has had a beneficial effect on children and conditions. In not more than thirty cases out of 3,000 families coming under the notice of the Toronto Social Service Workers' last year was intemperance a contributing factor, but before prohibition, he said, intemperance was not only a factor but constituted a grave problem in itself.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful when you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just plain Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teapoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and it's the best thing for every member of the family for months. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

FIND $1,000 RADIUM UNDER TON OF ASHES

Experts With an Electroscope Locate Substance Lost by a Hospital.

(New York Times)

After vainly hunting in the ordinary way, a lost tube of radium, valued at $1,000, which disappeared on Wednesday morning at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital at Seventh avenue and Seventh street, Brooklyn, experts with a radium detecting apparatus were called in and, finally, with the aid of this detector they discovered the tube from a pile of ashes that had passed through an incinerating plant in the hospital yard. The radium was uninjured by its fiery passage through the furnace.

The searchers who preceded the experts said their hunt was like "looking for a needle in a haystack," because the lost tube was so minute. It contained ten milligrams of radium. When the first search for it began several of the lay employees at the hospital offered their services, but they quickly drifted to other duties when physician, describing what they were to look for, said:

"The tube and its contents are about two-thirds the size of the large end of a darning needle."

Then Dr. J. E. Holmes, superintendent of the hospital, appealed for aid to the United States Radium Corporation, at East Orange, N. J., where the radium had been purchased. The corporation sent Dr. E. D. Leman, its chief chemist and its technical assistant, Marshall Mayes, with an instrument described as an electroscope, which indicates the presence of radio-active rays.

This scientific hunt started in a ward where the lost radium had been used in an operation. Through the different rooms and wards and 17—Fred Fulton, Rochester (N. Y.), heavyweight scored a decisive victory tonight over Bob Roper, of Chicago, in a twelve-round contest according to the verdict of a majority of newspapermen at the ringside.

New York, July 18.—Fear that a dog bite he had recently received might cause rabies and dependency because of inability to get work were given by the police as reasons for an attempt by John Donnelly, thirty, Brooklyn, to commit suicide by drinking iodine. After being treated by a surgeon Donnelly was allowed to remain at home. Neighbors found him unconscious in his home.

KNOCKS ENGLAND'S "PUBLIC" SCHOOLS

Eton, Harrow, Rugby and Others Criticized—Pay Too Much Attention to Greek and Poetry.

(Toronto Telegram.)

Like several slang phrases with which most of us are familiar, the term "Public school boy" has a very different meaning in England than in Canada. Most male citizens of Toronto have been "Public school" boys in the Canadian sense of the expression. That is they have gone to Queen Victoria, Jesse Ketchum, or one of the other excellent primary schools scattered over the city. But in the Old Land, to be a "Public school boy" is to possess a very costly advantage. For it means that the boy who boasts the fact has been at Eton, Harrow, Rugby, Marlborough, Winchester, Wellington or at one of the twenty or more to one of the other excellent and exclusive institutions for the instruction of British youth, which guard with jealous pride their right to the designation "Public school."

A Big Social Asset.

Of course they are not "public" at all—unless the boy's parents have money and social pull enough to get him in. Each school has a long waiting list and costly fathers and mothers generally have to put down the names of the boy they wish to send, while he is still in the cradle. Moreover, it costs money. The father who sends his little lad to school with young dukes, to a seminary hoary with age and hallowed with tradition as the alma mater of Britain's greatest men, must pay for the privilege. It costs anywhere from $1,500 to $3,000 a year, according to the school—Eton being the most exclusive and the dearest. Before the war at least, a public school education was a social asset to an Englishman. It gave him the entrée so to speak. He mentioned it when advertising for a job and other things being equal it gave him a big edge on competitors of humbler scholastic careers. Early in the war it was a useful, and sometimes an essential qualification for a commission.

Toronto Boys at English Schools.

A few Toronto boys have been at English public schools, and thought the instruction in classics, sports and manners is excellent, it is very questionable whether the experience has not been a hindrance rather than a help to a lad who must make his way in a democratic country like Canada. For the spirit of caste is deeply engrained in the curriculum of these schools. The average product is usually a thoroughly spoiled chap, having that coveted polish which these schools pride themselves on imparting. On the other hand hundreds of inefficient youths who seem to have wasted their time at public schools have long given them a bad name.

Archbishop Defends Schools

England is becoming quite critical of these aristocratic institutions. And although the Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking for a large section of the upper classes, said the other day in defence that "Our public schools are the best of their kind in the world," he admitted that the conditions in the old land make it more than evident that such places as Eton and Harrow pay too much attention to Greek poetry and not enough to instruction in carpentry.

Creasing Trousers Cost $3,500

"My son, though he learned nothing else at the great public school of Upper Canada," says Henry W. Nevinson, the English author and war correspondent, writing on this subject in the Baltimore Sun, "and was very unhappy there, did the creasing of his trousers down the front. I am not sure the knowledge was worth all the $3,500 or $4,000 I paid for it. He might have creased his trousers elsewhere. Remembering what I owe myself to my great public school of Shrewsbury, both for my happy time there, my intimate knowledge of naval matters, and my intimate acquaintance with the Greek language, I am not one to 'creak' the system as a whole."

School Teaches Useful Things

Nevinson, however, who has knocked about the world and knows Canada and

RUMORS ABOUT HIGH POSITIONS ON THE C. N. R.

Interest Keen in Ottawa as Cabinet Meetings are Resumed—Other Problems.

Ottawa, Ont., July 18.—(Canadian Press)—With the resumption of cabinet meetings today, interest is keen in the decisions which are expected from the government this week and especially in the action to be taken in regard to national railways. Rumor has been active in regard to the names of the new directors and the new president. Hon. George P. Graham, minister of militia, has been mentioned as chairman of the new board, as has also Sir Clifford Sifton, while P. J. Paradise of Quebec has been suggested as a new development in the conjectures of the last few days is a report that an American railway expert will be brought in to take over the active management. This rumor was given much currency by the visit of the minister of railways, Hon. W. C. Kennedy, to the U. S. during the visit of the premier to Washington.

The railway question is the biggest which the cabinet has before it but there are also other problems around the proposed royal commission on returned soldiers problems, while half a dozen judicial vacancies must be filled at an early date.

PICKING UP RAPIDLY IN THE MARITIMES

R. W. Gould, Returning to Montreal After Trip Here, Has Good Word to Say.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Montreal, July 18.—Business in the maritime provinces is commencing to pick up rapidly, according to R. W. Gould, secretary of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, who has just returned from that part of the country after a three weeks' trip.

"The people are very optimistic," he said. "A revival seems to be taking place in the iron and steel industry, and the St. Lawrence trade is improving. For a time," continued Mr. Gould, "the mines were working only one day a week, but there has been a big change and now several shifts are now going on and the work is more regular. Before the war something like 2,500,000 tons of coal came up the St. Lawrence. During the lighting this was cut out almost entirely, and it is now starting to come through again. This is a most hopeful indication of the improving conditions, and Sydney and New Glasgow are becoming active."

WABANA ORE TO GERMANY

Some Three-quarter Million Tons from Newfoundland Before End of Year.

Sydney, N. S., July 18.—Twelve steamships are now engaged in the export of Wabana, Nfld., iron ore to Germany via Rotterdam, and it is estimated at British Empire Steel Corporation headquarters here that about three-quarters of a million tons will have been taken overseas before the end of the year. Payment for the present shipments is being made in English money.

PRODUCTION OF IRON AND STEEL IN CANADA

A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics states that the production of pig iron during June showed an increase of twenty-three per cent over the output of the previous month. A tonnage of 287,635 was returned for the month under review as compared with an output of 234,000 tons in May. The basic iron manufactured for the use of the reporting firms increased over the previous month's record by 8,440 tons. The malleable iron produced for sale also presented the substantial increase of 140.5 per cent. On the other hand, the production of ferro-alloys in blast furnaces decreased from 2,690 tons in May to 2,051 tons in June, involving a reduction of twenty-three per cent. The pig iron and ferro-alloy produc-

How to Rid the Arms Of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty.)

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required. Mix a stiff paste with some powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real talc.

THUNDER BOOMED, RAIN WAS LIKE A TROPICAL STORM

Toronto, July 18.—A thunderstorm which visited Toronto at noon yesterday was one of the severest, for the time it lasted, of any experienced this season. For about two minutes the records showed the rain fell at the rate of six inches an hour, a rate equal to almost the most terrific storms in the tropics.

Lightning struck in four places in Toronto during the storm, but through the prompt action of the fire brigade, serious damage was averted.

The wind storm that accompanied the rain did some damage to trees and wires in the west and of the city and the Bell Telephone Co. reported a few poles and wires down between Toronto and Montreal.
