BASEBALL

Y. M. H. A. Won Again.
The Y. M. H. A. team added to their credit last evening when they again defeated the Telegraph-Times nine on the 3rd street grounds. The score was 7 to 3. This was the fourth game in the series between the two teams, each team now having two wins to its credit.

Sammy Green was on the mound for the Y. M. H. A. and pitched a fine game. He was given excellent support at all times, the work of the outfielders being especially commendable. Lefty Thompson, the paper hurler, also worked well, but the fielding by the newspaper men was rather weak at times. Henry McEachern, the popular first baseman of the Telegraph-Times team, had his leg at quite badly while sliding into second base.

The line-up was as follows:
Y. M. H. A.—R. Green, second base; catcher; Cohen, left field; Marcus, first base; Budovitz, shortstop; Atkinson, third base; W. Jacobson, right field; S. Jacobson, right field; S. Green, pitcher.

Telegraph-Times—Fraser, shortstop; we, second base; L. Thompson, pitcher; McEachern, first base; Hansen, first base and first base; McLeod, left field; R. Thompson, right field; John, third base; Wilson, catcher; McNulty, centre field.

The score by innings:
Y. M. H. A. 7 0 0 1 0 0 2—7

RACES HERE MARK ANNIVERSARIES

Frank Power, Veteran Starter, Has Birthday Today — Also Anniversary of His First Officiating.

The opening of the Maritime Racing Association's first meeting at Moosepath Park today will be marked by two anniversaries that are not on the official programme but which will be not the least interesting incidents of the day.

Frank J. Power of Halifax, who is to act as starter, is the individual most connected with both anniversaries, today being his birthday as well as the anniversary of his first officiating as a starter at horse races.

Thirty-one years ago today Mr. Power acted as starter at a trotting race which featured a grunlike when the officers of the imperial regiments then stationed there put on at Halifax and since then has not been a season when he has not been starting. For twenty-three years, for instance, he has been starter at the Charlottetown exhibition races and he expects to make his twenty-fourth consecutive annual appearance there next month.

Twenty-two years ago—in 1898—Frank Power started his first race at Moosepath Park. Claxton won the free-for-all race on today's programme, has proven one of the heaviest betting races of the season. Forefather, 2:18 1/2, a St. John pacer, Lake Be Sure, 2:18 1/2, a Montreal horse, and Roy Viola, 2:18 1/2, another Fredericton entry, together in what many believe will be the best race of the meeting. The other race on tomorrow's programme is the 2.18 trot and pace in which Brage, 2:15 1/2, Border Prince, 2:18 1/2, and Clay Watts, 2:18 1/2, a trio of the best trotters in the east, are sure starters along with Tommy Cotter, 2:18 1/2, a former St. John pacer, 2:16 1/2, the St. Stephen trotter, is slated to make a second start in this race and Royal McKinney, 2:11 1/2, if he can get here in time from Danforth, Me., where he started earlier in the week, will be an additional factor.

Visitors flocked into St. John last evening and again today for the races and it is evident that, if the weather man continues to do as well as he is doing today, the racing revival in St. John will be a complete success.

Perhaps It's Worth a Trial.
"If men would stop saying mean things about the way women dress," suggested the Macon Chronicle, "perhaps the women would quit expressing their conviction about tobacco."

PREDICT CHANGE IN TELEGRAPHIC CODE

That the recent and universal development of the wireless telegraph will bring about a change from the use of the old Morse code by telegraph companies generally now seems assured, so the experts say.

The Morse system has been in use in this country and Canada ever since the inception of the telegraph. Gradually, however, as time went on its imperfections were noted.

It was found that a rearrangement of the dots and dashes made for greater simplicity and speed. In other countries these changes were adopted, and as a result is far behind in the race.

At the present time continental or universal system has been adopted by the country in the world, with the exception of the United States and Canada. The rapid and voluminous of the International Telegraph Union are based on the continental code, and are binding on the United States, and hence the Morse code has not been made is somewhat of a mystery. It is probably largely a matter of sentiment and also of habit.

Once a system has been in general use, it is a great deal easier to put up with its imperfections rather than temporarily handicap efficiency by the retaining of old operators in spite of the fact that in the long run a much greater degree of efficiency would result.

When the new branch of telegraphy was born, though unhandicapped by the old Morse code, the advantages of the more modern continental system were rapidly appreciated and adopted.

The rapid growth of the wireless in the last few years has, of course, vastly augmented the number of operators in the country using the latter code, and thus prejudice is gradually breaking down.

So marked has been the change of sentiment in the last year or so that many of the old-line telegraphers' organizations are openly advocating the substitution of the continental code for the Morse as a commercial necessity.

NO 10 CENT SUGAR

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 25.—Halifax sugar authorities characterized as nonsense today the Ottawa statement that the price of sugar would drop to ten cents per pound in the near future. They said that most of the Canadian refineries were doing business today on the basis of a raw sugar price of anywhere between fifteen and twenty cents per pound. This condition would obtain, they said, for two months more at least and as a result there was no immediate prospect of a natural decline in the price of sugar to the consumer.
