

Gov't Report ing
der
RE

TWICE-A-WEEK.

Victoria Times.

TWICE-A-WEEK.

VOL. 13.

VICTORIA, B. C., TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1896.

NO. 22.

VICTIMS ARE VERY SHY.

Considerable Difficulty in Obtaining Conservative Candidates in Ottawa.

There Was a Big Fight Last Night and Two Nominations Have Been Declined to Run.

Sir Charles in Winnipeg—His Reception Not Altogether Confined to His Followers.

Ottawa, May 8.—John R. Booth and Mayor Birkett have both refused to become government candidates in this city. There was a big fight at the meeting last night to try and secure candidates but nothing was done. No one here wants to join Sir Charles Tupper, so unpopular is he.

Wm. Hutchinson, of the Mackay Milling Company, will accept the Liberal nomination and is certain to carry the city. Mr. McVeety is still in the field as the Conservative candidate, but the government will not accept him. He will poll half the Conservative vote, no matter who runs against him.

Lieut. Governor Chapleau has asked Mr. Flynn to form a government in the province of Quebec.

Hon. Mr. Montague has made arrangements with the Dominion steamship line for cold storage accommodation in their new vessels, which is calculated to give weekly accommodation for three hundred tons of butter, cheese and fishery.

Fishery Commissioner Wakeham has returned from Washington. The report of the two international commissioners is well under way. It will contain, among other things, interesting information regarding the recommendations of the commission on the Lake of the Woods and British Columbia fisheries.

The meeting of the Royal Society of Canada commences on May 23. Among the papers to be read are the following: "Climate Changes in British Columbia," by Dr. Dawson; and the spawning habits, coloration and form of sockeye salmon in British Columbia, by Professor Price.

Mr. Walkem has arrived here. Montreal, May 7.—The bishops of the province of Quebec met in convention today to prepare a mandament for the coming elections. It is understood that in accordance with direct instructions from Rome they will instruct the faithful to vote only for such candidates as will support the Manitoba remedial bill.

Hon. Peter Mitchell was yesterday tendered the nomination for Northumberland county, New Brunswick. Geo. Taylor, the Conservative whip, has been nominated for South Leeds at Delta.

Winnipeg, May 8.—Every Conservative and many of the Liberals, turned out last night to meet the train bringing Premier Tupper and Hon. Hugh John Macdonald to the city. There was a remarkably strong sprinkling of Liberals in the gathering, which, as a whole, exactly bubbled over with enthusiasm for the new premier, as there is a big section of the faithful who still they see what subsequent events will bring forth. The Conservative convention opened this morning, most of the time being consumed in congratulatory speeches by the leaders, "well-to-do" by the party in general. It was one of the grand rallies which will be held by the premier in his tour.

THEY TRY THE FILIBUSTERS.

Count Marial on the Crew of the Competitor Begun To-Day.

Havana, May 8.—The trial by court martial of the men captured on board the American schooner Competitor, of Key West, Fla., by the Spanish gunboat Mesagera, began in the court of justice in the navy yard here this morning. The court martial is composed of Captain Emilio Ruiz, president, and Naval Lieutenants Saturnio Jimenez, Antonio Martin, Possidina Antonio, Perez Rendón, Eduardo Ariza, Silvestre Dizo, Camino Suplemas, Jose Sotillo and Carlos Canales. The prosecution was Lieut. Miguel Sarez.

The first to enter the court room was Alfredo Laborde, who is classed as the leader of the filibustering expedition. He was followed by Don Elias Bedia, a native of Kansas, Wm. Gildea, said to be a British subject, and Theodore Anagnosta, described as a fisherman and classed as a witness. The prosecutor opened the proceedings by describing the capture of the Competitor. He said that Lieut. Butron, in command of the Spanish gunboat Mesagera, was followed by some fishermen on April 25 apparently a suspicious looking schooner. The Mesagera was off Berrano, and got within hailing distance of the schooner, which was asked to show her colors. She did not do so and fire was opened on her. Some jumped overboard and swam for shore. Two others may have been drowned. Two killed by the so-called filibusters were shot while trying to reach shore.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

Veyler insists that the rebel forts at Caracajara must be taken at any cost and fresh troops have been sent to Havana.

The captain-general is beginning to appreciate the fact that his troops are bringing his military reputation into disrepute. General Maeco refuses to attack it, for the simple reason that he desires to remain in Pinar del Rio and control the province.

Constantinople, May 8.—Miss Clara Barton has drawn up a statement of the progress of her relief work in Asia Minor. "It should be understood," she says, "that one of the objects of our expedition is to teach the people to cultivate their lands and get crops of some kind growing so that they may subsist upon them in the near future and through the coming winter, or the condition of hunger threatened will be greater than now. To this end our two expeditions have been several weeks purchasing in the cities farming implements of general use and carrying them to the villages and farm lands of that part of the country where all the implements have been either destroyed or taken. It is understood that the government expressed a desire to take part in providing seed for planting, Indian corn, or maize, one of the articles distributed for food by our people, can be planted, if no other seed is provided.

"Another object, and perhaps one appealing more directly to the sympathies of the people, is the handing of two fever-stricken cities, Zeitoun and Marash, where eight or ten thousand persons are suffering agonies, four distinct epidemics raging among them at once, namely typhoid and typhus fevers, dysentery and smallpox. The three first naturally follow as results of the great depletion by starvation and hardships and the putrid atmosphere of neglected fields of siege and battle, with the fever and long unburied dead. The cholera has been brought from the infected district, as it is not considered generative by conditions outside itself. For the treatment of these thousands no physician is left, if those who were here escaped one fate they have fallen by another. There is but one worn out doctor, dividing himself between three cities seven miles apart. Through Dr. George Post, of Beyrout, a few were drawn from the medical college of that city, and placed under the charge of Dr. Ira Harrison. They were got in by sea and land with medical supplies and will commence a hospital in Marash. More physicians are on the way, and will report to Dr. Harrison, who I learn by a dispatch, has taken part of his men to Zeitoun, forty miles distant, where three thousand persons are reported ill. The result of his investigation will be so doing he has fallen in the interior and are using every precaution to prevent the spread of contagion to other cities. Our men on the roads are instructed to watch travelers very closely."

ITS BACK IS BROKEN.

Belligerent Natives at Bulwago Can Be Brought to Time With Little Trouble.

Hon. Cecil Rhodes Makes a Promise to Teach Them an Everlasting Lesson.

Cape Town, May 8.—The advance of the imperial troops beyond Mafeking has been cancelled on Earl Grey's statement that the back of the rebellion was broken and that their assistance was not required at Bulwago.

Gwelo, May 7th, via Cape Town, May 8.—Two Cape "boys" have arrived from Belwinge. They report that 40 white persons have been compelled to stop there through the loss of their cattle. The messengers also report that these men are holding their own against the enemy. The "boys" had several narrow escapes from being shot. Cecil Rhodes stopped here with his column on the way from Salisbury to the relief of Bulwago. He made an address to the people of Gwelo, in which he said that he should lose no time in thoroughly thrashing the rebels and giving them an everlasting lesson.

"We will attack the enemy massed at Marvin," Mr. Rhodes said, "within a week or two, and will then proceed to Bulwago with the smallest possible delay."

Mr. Rhodes intends, he said, to remain in Rhodesia until the rebellion is crushed.

London, May 8.—It is understood that several directors of the British South Africa Chartered Company will resign on the resignation of Cecil Rhodes.

The house of commons was crowded this afternoon, due to the fact that the vote on the colonial estimates was to be taken, and that it was to be made in the course of an important exchange of questions and answers upon South African affairs.

The Liberal leader, Sir Wm. Harcourt, asked the government to make a statement regarding the raid into the Transvaal by the Boers, and his position had heretofore not only unduly pressed the government on this important matter, but they thought that the time had arrived for the house to be informed of the government's intention in the case. Responsible directors of the British South Africa Co. at Cape Town and Johannesburg were, he said, authors of the raid, and Dr. Jameson was only their subordinate. The government, the speaker claimed, was responsible for the raid, and was an insult to the nation and the world. (Applause from the opposition benches.)

Continuing, Sir Wm. Harcourt remarked that partisans of the company were trying to impose on the credit of the people a great deal of money in an action, to protect the people of Johannesburg against outrage. But he could not think of anything more revolting than the low, slanging epithets which showed the true aspect of affairs. Sir William Harcourt then proceeded to analyze the telegrams exchanged between Cecil Rhodes, Col. Rhodes, Rutherford Harris, Alfred Beit, Lionel Phillips, Dr. Jameson and others just previous to the invasion of the territory of the South African republic. Later the opposition leader eulogized the promptness, decision and courage of the colonial secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, and dwelt upon the course of the Chartered Company, declaring that it compromised Great Britain's reputation.

Sir William Harcourt also said that he did not believe Cecil Rhodes was actuated by a desire of gain, but on the other hand, he seems to have been actuated by a greed of power. The speaker remarked that he had noticed with regret the deterioration of the morals of the English press in dealing with the subject.

Newburg, N. Y., May 8.—A cablegram received in this city from Cape Town, South Africa, announces that Oscar Baulson, of Newburg, has been killed in an accident. Paulson was one of four men who left Newburg January 7 last for the gold fields of South Africa. He leaves a family here.

Blood purified, disease cured, sickness and suffering prevented—this is the record made each year by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

Veyler insists that the rebel forts at Caracajara must be taken at any cost and fresh troops have been sent to Havana.

The captain-general is beginning to appreciate the fact that his troops are bringing his military reputation into disrepute. General Maeco refuses to attack it, for the simple reason that he desires to remain in Pinar del Rio and control the province.

Constantinople, May 8.—Miss Clara Barton has drawn up a statement of the progress of her relief work in Asia Minor. "It should be understood," she says, "that one of the objects of our expedition is to teach the people to cultivate their lands and get crops of some kind growing so that they may subsist upon them in the near future and through the coming winter, or the condition of hunger threatened will be greater than now. To this end our two expeditions have been several weeks purchasing in the cities farming implements of general use and carrying them to the villages and farm lands of that part of the country where all the implements have been either destroyed or taken. It is understood that the government expressed a desire to take part in providing seed for planting, Indian corn, or maize, one of the articles distributed for food by our people, can be planted, if no other seed is provided.

"Another object, and perhaps one appealing more directly to the sympathies of the people, is the handing of two fever-stricken cities, Zeitoun and Marash, where eight or ten thousand persons are suffering agonies, four distinct epidemics raging among them at once, namely typhoid and typhus fevers, dysentery and smallpox. The three first naturally follow as results of the great depletion by starvation and hardships and the putrid atmosphere of neglected fields of siege and battle, with the fever and long unburied dead. The cholera has been brought from the infected district, as it is not considered generative by conditions outside itself. For the treatment of these thousands no physician is left, if those who were here escaped one fate they have fallen by another. There is but one worn out doctor, dividing himself between three cities seven miles apart. Through Dr. George Post, of Beyrout, a few were drawn from the medical college of that city, and placed under the charge of Dr. Ira Harrison. They were got in by sea and land with medical supplies and will commence a hospital in Marash. More physicians are on the way, and will report to Dr. Harrison, who I learn by a dispatch, has taken part of his men to Zeitoun, forty miles distant, where three thousand persons are reported ill. The result of his investigation will be so doing he has fallen in the interior and are using every precaution to prevent the spread of contagion to other cities. Our men on the roads are instructed to watch travelers very closely."

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

RAVAGED BY DISEASE.

THE BLOCKADER BERMUDA. She Is Reported to Have Again Eluded the Spanish Cruisers.

New York, May 8.—A World dispatch from Havana, via Key West, Fla., says: There is great excitement throughout Cuba over the rumor that the Bermuda has landed her arms and men on the northern coast. It is said that while the cruiser Reina Mercedes waited for an insurgent expedition to the Hole in the Wall between Nassau and Abasco, the Bermuda took the outside course and escaped. She was pursued by a Spanish man-of-war, but was too fast to be caught. The Spanish commanders seem to realize the danger of having to face machine guns handled by trained American artillerymen. There is no trustworthy information about the whereabouts of the Bermuda. All statements about her landing are mere guesses.

IT RAINED VERY HARD.

But It Was a Deluge of Hisses on the Inside of the Tin Roof of Winnipeg's Rink.

Not the Rain From Heaven, That Drowned Premier Tupper's Voice Last Night.

His Speech Was Characteristically Audacious, Presumptuous and Promising.

Winnipeg, May 9.—The first gun in the Dominion campaign was fired last night by Sir Charles Tupper in a mass meeting in the rink here, which was largely attended. Although everything possible was done in working up the details to make the meeting a success, a fair estimate, corroborated on all sides, was that not more than one fourth of the meeting, and there were about 2,500 present, were favorable to the government cause. There was but little enthusiasm, and the feeble cheers at Premier Tupper's declarations in favor of restoring separate schools were drowned in a storm of hisses and groans. For a time he was unable to proceed, and the band which had been engaged by the executive, at a sign from one of the leaders, struck up a tune till quiet was restored.

On the whole, however, the meeting was most orderly as the Liberals and others opposed to the government's coercion policy were decidedly opposed to any hostile demonstration either at the meeting or at a public meeting, thinking it best to allow all the rope desired. The meeting last night settled once for all any hopes which the Conservatives may have had of electing Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg. Hundreds of Conservatives had been holding out for what Hugh John would say on the school question, and as both he and Tupper announced themselves squarely in favor of restoring to the minority the privileges taken away in 1890, that is separate schools, this kills Hugh John here and will doubtless kill every Conservative candidate in the province. The visit of the premier has cleared the atmosphere and defined the issue, and the people now know on what they are voting.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke for two hours and a half. He dwelt for an hour with ancient history, comparing Mr. Macdonald's administration with the Conservatives, much to the detriment of the former, of course. It was a case of capital "I" all the way through. He brought about confederate and honey, he closed by appealing to the Conservatives to return to the fold and save the country.

IT RAINED VERY HARD.

But It Was a Deluge of Hisses on the Inside of the Tin Roof of Winnipeg's Rink.

Not the Rain From Heaven, That Drowned Premier Tupper's Voice Last Night.

His Speech Was Characteristically Audacious, Presumptuous and Promising.

Winnipeg, May 9.—The first gun in the Dominion campaign was fired last night by Sir Charles Tupper in a mass meeting in the rink here, which was largely attended. Although everything possible was done in working up the details to make the meeting a success, a fair estimate, corroborated on all sides, was that not more than one fourth of the meeting, and there were about 2,500 present, were favorable to the government cause. There was but little enthusiasm, and the feeble cheers at Premier Tupper's declarations in favor of restoring separate schools were drowned in a storm of hisses and groans. For a time he was unable to proceed, and the band which had been engaged by the executive, at a sign from one of the leaders, struck up a tune till quiet was restored.

On the whole, however, the meeting was most orderly as the Liberals and others opposed to the government's coercion policy were decidedly opposed to any hostile demonstration either at the meeting or at a public meeting, thinking it best to allow all the rope desired. The meeting last night settled once for all any hopes which the Conservatives may have had of electing Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg. Hundreds of Conservatives had been holding out for what Hugh John would say on the school question, and as both he and Tupper announced themselves squarely in favor of restoring to the minority the privileges taken away in 1890, that is separate schools, this kills Hugh John here and will doubtless kill every Conservative candidate in the province. The visit of the premier has cleared the atmosphere and defined the issue, and the people now know on what they are voting.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke for two hours and a half. He dwelt for an hour with ancient history, comparing Mr. Macdonald's administration with the Conservatives, much to the detriment of the former, of course. It was a case of capital "I" all the way through. He brought about confederate and honey, he closed by appealing to the Conservatives to return to the fold and save the country.

IT RAINED VERY HARD.

But It Was a Deluge of Hisses on the Inside of the Tin Roof of Winnipeg's Rink.

Not the Rain From Heaven, That Drowned Premier Tupper's Voice Last Night.

His Speech Was Characteristically Audacious, Presumptuous and Promising.

Winnipeg, May 9.—The first gun in the Dominion campaign was fired last night by Sir Charles Tupper in a mass meeting in the rink here, which was largely attended. Although everything possible was done in working up the details to make the meeting a success, a fair estimate, corroborated on all sides, was that not more than one fourth of the meeting, and there were about 2,500 present, were favorable to the government cause. There was but little enthusiasm, and the feeble cheers at Premier Tupper's declarations in favor of restoring separate schools were drowned in a storm of hisses and groans. For a time he was unable to proceed, and the band which had been engaged by the executive, at a sign from one of the leaders, struck up a tune till quiet was restored.

On the whole, however, the meeting was most orderly as the Liberals and others opposed to the government's coercion policy were decidedly opposed to any hostile demonstration either at the meeting or at a public meeting, thinking it best to allow all the rope desired. The meeting last night settled once for all any hopes which the Conservatives may have had of electing Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg. Hundreds of Conservatives had been holding out for what Hugh John would say on the school question, and as both he and Tupper announced themselves squarely in favor of restoring to the minority the privileges taken away in 1890, that is separate schools, this kills Hugh John here and will doubtless kill every Conservative candidate in the province. The visit of the premier has cleared the atmosphere and defined the issue, and the people now know on what they are voting.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke for two hours and a half. He dwelt for an hour with ancient history, comparing Mr. Macdonald's administration with the Conservatives, much to the detriment of the former, of course. It was a case of capital "I" all the way through. He brought about confederate and honey, he closed by appealing to the Conservatives to return to the fold and save the country.

IT RAINED VERY HARD.

But It Was a Deluge of Hisses on the Inside of the Tin Roof of Winnipeg's Rink.

Not the Rain From Heaven, That Drowned Premier Tupper's Voice Last Night.

His Speech Was Characteristically Audacious, Presumptuous and Promising.

Winnipeg, May 9.—The first gun in the Dominion campaign was fired last night by Sir Charles Tupper in a mass meeting in the rink here, which was largely attended. Although everything possible was done in working up the details to make the meeting a success, a fair estimate, corroborated on all sides, was that not more than one fourth of the meeting, and there were about 2,500 present, were favorable to the government cause. There was but little enthusiasm, and the feeble cheers at Premier Tupper's declarations in favor of restoring separate schools were drowned in a storm of hisses and groans. For a time he was unable to proceed, and the band which had been engaged by the executive, at a sign from one of the leaders, struck up a tune till quiet was restored.

On the whole, however, the meeting was most orderly as the Liberals and others opposed to the government's coercion policy were decidedly opposed to any hostile demonstration either at the meeting or at a public meeting, thinking it best to allow all the rope desired. The meeting last night settled once for all any hopes which the Conservatives may have had of electing Hugh John Macdonald in Winnipeg. Hundreds of Conservatives had been holding out for what Hugh John would say on the school question, and as both he and Tupper announced themselves squarely in favor of restoring to the minority the privileges taken away in 1890, that is separate schools, this kills Hugh John here and will doubtless kill every Conservative candidate in the province. The visit of the premier has cleared the atmosphere and defined the issue, and the people now know on what they are voting.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke for two hours and a half. He dwelt for an hour with ancient history, comparing Mr. Macdonald's administration with the Conservatives, much to the detriment of the former, of course. It was a case of capital "I" all the way through. He brought about confederate and honey, he closed by appealing to the Conservatives to return to the fold and save the country.

IT RAINED VERY HARD.

But It Was a Deluge of Hisses on the Inside of the Tin Roof of Winnipeg's Rink.

Not the Rain From Heaven, That Drowned Premier Tupper's Voice Last Night.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting to murder Marie Lelievre. On the night of April 25 Marie Lelievre, a French courtesan, living one door north of Fourth and Ash streets, reported at police headquarters that a stranger had attempted to strangle her. Her story was that the man entered her "crib" and induced her to walk with him into her bedroom in the rear. There he threw her upon a bed and encircling her neck with both hands he proceeded to squeeze the life out of her. The woman succeeded in making sufficient noise to attract the sister occupying the adjoining crib. When her sister entered Marie's bedroom Cosgrove relinquished his grasp on the woman's throat and left.

The woman left a minute description of Cosgrove at the police station and prior to his arrest the French women in the Whitechapel district have been living in terror since the attempt upon Marie's life.

Det. Detective Cody, Cosgrove, last night confessed to being the man who attempted to strangle Marie Lelievre. It is said Cosgrove came here from San Francisco.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting to murder Marie Lelievre. On the night of April 25 Marie Lelievre, a French courtesan, living one door north of Fourth and Ash streets, reported at police headquarters that a stranger had attempted to strangle her. Her story was that the man entered her "crib" and induced her to walk with him into her bedroom in the rear. There he threw her upon a bed and encircling her neck with both hands he proceeded to squeeze the life out of her. The woman succeeded in making sufficient noise to attract the sister occupying the adjoining crib. When her sister entered Marie's bedroom Cosgrove relinquished his grasp on the woman's throat and left.

The woman left a minute description of Cosgrove at the police station and prior to his arrest the French women in the Whitechapel district have been living in terror since the attempt upon Marie's life.

Det. Detective Cody, Cosgrove, last night confessed to being the man who attempted to strangle Marie Lelievre. It is said Cosgrove came here from San Francisco.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting to murder Marie Lelievre. On the night of April 25 Marie Lelievre, a French courtesan, living one door north of Fourth and Ash streets, reported at police headquarters that a stranger had attempted to strangle her. Her story was that the man entered her "crib" and induced her to walk with him into her bedroom in the rear. There he threw her upon a bed and encircling her neck with both hands he proceeded to squeeze the life out of her. The woman succeeded in making sufficient noise to attract the sister occupying the adjoining crib. When her sister entered Marie's bedroom Cosgrove relinquished his grasp on the woman's throat and left.

The woman left a minute description of Cosgrove at the police station and prior to his arrest the French women in the Whitechapel district have been living in terror since the attempt upon Marie's life.

Det. Detective Cody, Cosgrove, last night confessed to being the man who attempted to strangle Marie Lelievre. It is said Cosgrove came here from San Francisco.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting to murder Marie Lelievre. On the night of April 25 Marie Lelievre, a French courtesan, living one door north of Fourth and Ash streets, reported at police headquarters that a stranger had attempted to strangle her. Her story was that the man entered her "crib" and induced her to walk with him into her bedroom in the rear. There he threw her upon a bed and encircling her neck with both hands he proceeded to squeeze the life out of her. The woman succeeded in making sufficient noise to attract the sister occupying the adjoining crib. When her sister entered Marie's bedroom Cosgrove relinquished his grasp on the woman's throat and left.

The woman left a minute description of Cosgrove at the police station and prior to his arrest the French women in the Whitechapel district have been living in terror since the attempt upon Marie's life.

Det. Detective Cody, Cosgrove, last night confessed to being the man who attempted to strangle Marie Lelievre. It is said Cosgrove came here from San Francisco.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting to murder Marie Lelievre. On the night of April 25 Marie Lelievre, a French courtesan, living one door north of Fourth and Ash streets, reported at police headquarters that a stranger had attempted to strangle her. Her story was that the man entered her "crib" and induced her to walk with him into her bedroom in the rear. There he threw her upon a bed and encircling her neck with both hands he proceeded to squeeze the life out of her. The woman succeeded in making sufficient noise to attract the sister occupying the adjoining crib. When her sister entered Marie's bedroom Cosgrove relinquished his grasp on the woman's throat and left.

The woman left a minute description of Cosgrove at the police station and prior to his arrest the French women in the Whitechapel district have been living in terror since the attempt upon Marie's life.

Det. Detective Cody, Cosgrove, last night confessed to being the man who attempted to strangle Marie Lelievre. It is said Cosgrove came here from San Francisco.

MUST HAVE MOVED NORTH.

Portland Police Have under Arrest a Stranger of Unfortunate Women.

Portland, Ore., May 9.—John R. Cosgrove was arrested this morning on a charge of attempting